Richmond, Jan. 4, 1864.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 1.

I. If, immediately after the death of an officer, there be no family connexion or legal representative present, to whom the officer, charged by the 94th Article of War with securing his effects, may deliver them, he will turn them over, under the provisions of paragraph III, General Orders, No. 67 (1863), to the quartermaster of the regiment, or post, as the circumstances may indicate to be proper.

II. Surgeons or assistant surgeons in charge of hospitals will, upon the death of a soldier in hospital, furnish the Second Auditor of the Treasury a statement from their rolls, showing the last payment preceding his death, made to such soldier.

By order.

S. COOPER,
Adjutant and Inspector General.

For the information of all concerned, and to correct prevalent misapprehension, it is announced that there exists no mandatory provision of law securing to Enrolled Conscripts the right to choose in what company or regiment they will serve. They cannot be assigned to companies from other States, and, in general, their wishes are to be consulted as to the choice of companies, where no considerations for the good of the service intervene to prevent compliance. Assignments once made by Commandants of Conscripts, in good faith, in the exercise of their discretion, will not be considered as fit subjects for complaints.

By order.

I. The following Acts of Congress and Regulations are published for the information of all persons concerned therein:

ACTS.

An Act to prevent the Enlistment or Enrollment of Substitutes in the Military Service of the Confederate States.

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That no person liable to military service shall hereafter be permitted or allowed to furnish a substitute for such service, nor shall any substitute be received, enlisted or enrolled in the military service of the Confederate States." [Approved December 28th, 1863.]

An Act to put an end to the Exemption from Military Service, of those who have heretofore furnished Substitutes.

"Whereas, in the present circumstances of the country, it requires the aid of all who are able to bear arms:

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That no person shall be exempted from military service, by reason of his having furnished a substitute; but this act shall not be so construed as to affect persons who, though not liable to render military service, have, nevertheless, furnished substitutes." [Approved January 5th, 1864.]

II. Persons rendered liable to military service by operation of the preceding acts, are placed on the same footing with all others hitherto held liable by Acts of Congress.

III. Persons herein rendered liable to military service are required to report as volunteers or conscripts, without delay, to the enrolling officers; and all who delay beyond the 1st day of February 1864, will be considered as having renounced the privilege of volunteering, and held for assignment according to law.

IV. Enrolling officers will proceed, as rapidly as practicable, in the enrollment of persons herein made liable to military service. Previous to enrollment as conscripts, all such persons will be allowed to volunteer in companies in service on the 16th April 1862: provided, the company chosen does not at the time of volunteering reach the maximum number allowed; and upon such company being selected, the volunteer will receive from the enrolling officer a certificate to the effect that he has so volunteered; and no volunteer will be received into any company except on such certificate. Persons who fail to make their selection at the time of enrollment, will be assigned according to existing regulations.

V. Persons who report to the enrolling officers will be enrolled, and may be allowed a furlough of ten days before reporting to the camp of instruction.

VI. All persons, whether volunteers or conscripts under this order, will pass through the camp of instruction of the state to which they belong, and be forwarded thence to the companies which are selected, or to which they may be assigned.

VII. The Bureau of Conscription is charged with adopting proper regulations for the enforcement of this order.

VIII. All exemptions heretofore granted are subject to revision, under instructions from the Bureau of Conscription; and if found to be improper or unauthorized by law, will be revoked.

By order.

I. An Act authorizing the Tax in Kind on Bacon to be commuted by collection of Salt Pork as an equivalent.

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That assistant quartermasters, and other agents engaged in the collection of tax in kind, may be authorized, under orders and regulations made by the Secretary of War, to demand and receive, in commutation for the tax in kind on bacon, an equivalent therefor in salt pork." [Approved December 28, 1863.]

II. The foregoing Act of Congress being now in force, the officers mentioned in the act are hereby authorized to demand and receive, in commutation for the tax in kind, an equivalent in salt pork. In estimating what shall be an equivalent, reference shall be made, as far as practicable, to the schedule rates established by the appraisers appointed under the 5th section of the Act of Congress relative to impressments. But the Quartermaster General may direct a variation from those rates, and settle others, in such localities as a variation may be deemed advisable, for the interest of the public service.

I. The President having approved the following joint resolution of Congress, directs its announcement in General Orders, expressive of his gratification at the tribute awarded the patriot officers and soldiers to whom it is addressed.

For the military laggard, or him who, in the pursuits of selfish and inglorious ease forgets his country's need, no note of approbation is sounded. His infamy is his only security from oblivion! But the heroic devotion of those who, in defence of liberty and honor, have periled all, while it confers, in an approving conscience, the best and highest reward, will also be cherished in perpetual remembrance by a grateful nation. Let this assurance stimulate the armies of the Confederacy every where to greater exertion and more resolute endurance, till, under the guidance of Heaven, the blessings of peace and freedom shall finally crown their efforts. Let all press forward in the road to independence, and for the security of the rights sealed to us in the blood of the first Revolution. Honor and glory await our success. Slavery and shame will attend our defeat!

II. Joint Resolutions of Thanks to General Robert E. Lee, and to the Officers and Soldiers under his command.

"Whereas the campaigns of the brave and gallant armies covering the capital of the Confederate States during the two successive years of eighteen hundred and sixty-two and eighteen hundred and sixty-three, under the leadership and command of General Robert E. Lee, have been crowned with glorious results, defeating greatly superior forces, massed by the enemy for the conquest of these states, repelling the invaders with immense losses, and twice transferring the battle fields from our own country to that of the enemy: and whereas the masterly and glorious achievements, rendering forever memorable the field of the "Seven days of great battles," which raised the siege of Richmond, as well as those of Cedar Run, Second Manassas, Harper's Ferry, Boonsboro, Sharpsburg, Shepherdstown, Fredericksburg, Winchester, Gettysburg and Chancellorsville, command the admiration and gratitude of our country: and whereas these and other illustrious services rendered by this able commander since the commencement of our war of independence, have especially endeared him to the hearts of his countrymen, and have imposed on Congress the grateful duty of giving expression to their feelings: Therefore, “Resolved by the Congress of the Confederate States of America, That the thanks of Congress are due and are tendered to General Robert E. Lee, and to the officers and soldiers of the confederate armies under his command, for the great and signal victories they have won over the vast hosts of the enemy, and for the inestimable service they have rendered in defence of the liberty and independence of our country.

“Resolved, That the President be requested to communicate these resolutions to General Robert E. Lee, and to the officers and soldiers herein designated.” [Approved January 8th, 1864.]

I. Whenever ordnance stores are lost or damaged in any brigade, it will be the duty of each brigade or district commander, at the request of his ordnance officer, or of any officer accountable for ordnance stores, to appoint, as often as necessary, a Board of Survey, to consist of three officers, to assess the value of or damage to such stores.

II. The decision of this board, with the approval of the brigade or district commander, will be final; and it will be the duty of the brigade or district ordnance officer to notify the company commander to stop the amount on the muster rolls when privates are found chargeable; and when officers are found chargeable, instead of reporting to the Secretary of War, as required by paragraph 921, General Regulations, he will notify the brigade quartermaster or the chief quartermaster of the district, to have the amount stopped at the next payment. Duplicate of such notification in the case of officers and privates, to be sent to the Chief of Ordnance at Richmond, to be by him transmitted to the Second Auditor of the Treasury.

III. The brigade or district ordnance officer will furnish the brigade inspector, or other officer having charge of that duty, with a statement of all stoppages made by the Board of Survey against officers and men, and the inspector will see that these stoppages are actually made.

IV. The same instructions will be adhered to in the artillery, where the officers in charge of the artillery of a corps or of a department will call the Board of Survey.

V. Ordnance sergeants of regiments will remain habitually with their regiments, and keep themselves constantly informed as to the positions of the brigade ordnance train.

VI. The use of the sword bayonet having been generally disapproved by boards of officers in the field, to whom the question of its usefulness was referred, its manufacture has been ordered to be discontinued. The triangular bayonet will be substituted.

VII. Hospital funds within $ 5,000, accrued at general hospitals, may be transferred to other general hospitals, on the order of the Medical Director or Surgeon General.

I. Paragraph IV, General Orders, No. 3, current series, is hereby revoked.

II. Enrolling officers will proceed, as rapidly as practicable, in the enrollment of all persons made liable to military service. Previous to enrollment as conscripts, all such persons will be allowed to volunteer: provided, 1st—The company selected was in service on the 16th April 1862.

2d—The company selected is, at the time of volunteering, below the minimum number prescribed by Regulations.

3d—No person made liable to service under this order, will be permitted to join, or will be assigned to any company which has more than sixty-four privates on the roll, until all the companies in the service from the state of which the volunteer or conscript is a resident, shall have the minimum number prescribed by Regulations.

4th—Upon the company being selected, the volunteer will receive from the enrolling officer a certificate to the effect that he has so volunteered; and no volunteer will be received in any company except on such certificate.

III. Persons who fail to make selection according to the provisions of this order, and at the time of enlistment, will be assigned according to existing Regulations.

IV. All officers in command of companies authorized under this order to receive conscripts or volunteers, will forthwith send to the Commandant of Conscripts of the State, accurate certified rolls of their companies; and without such roll, showing that they do not exceed sixty-four privates, there will not be assigned any conscript or volunteer.

I. Paragraphs 1129, 1130, 1131, 1132, Army Regulations, are hereby revoked.

II. Enlisted men detailed for duty, on account of physical disability, in the city of Richmond, are allowed one dollar and twenty cents per diem as commutation of rations.

III. Commutation of rations of all enlisted men entitled thereto by the Regulations of the War Department, whether on detached or on detailed service, or stationed in a city, with no opportunity of messing, or of the non-commissioned and regimental staff, when they have no opportunity of messing, or of soldiers on furlough, or stationed where rations cannot be issued in kind, or placed temporarily in a private hospital, on the advice of the senior surgeon of the post or detachment, or of ordnance sergeants, or of a soldier who has necessarily paid for his own subsistence, or of a chaplain, is fixed at one dollar per diem, to date from the 1st January 1864.

IV. Enlisted men who have been or may become permanently disabled, or who hold the certificate of a medical examining board to that effect, and who have not been discharged the service, may have their rations commuted at one dollar and twenty-five cents per diem, whether they are in a hospital, private quarters, or on furlough.

V. All commutation accounts will state the length of time, date and amount, for what purpose commutation is claimed, and that it was impracticable to take rations in kind; which facts must be certified to by the commissioned officer under whose orders the soldier was at the time the rations became due.

VI. Commutation of rations in the case of paroled unexchanged prisoners on furlough, who have just been received from the federal lines, will be allowed at one dollar per diem, to date from the 1st January 1864.

VII. The following paragraph will be substituted for 1111, Army Regulations:

Issues to the hospital will be on returns by the medical officers, for such provisions only as are actually required for the sick and wounded.

The commuted value of rations for the sick and wounded will be one dollar and twenty-five cents. The ration for hospitals will be the same as that issued to soldiers in the field. If a greater allowance is required of any particular articles, not issued to troops in the field, special requisitions must be made therefor.

VIII. Hospital attendants cannot draw rations from the Subsistence Department, but will have their rations commuted at one dollar and twenty-five cents per diem.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 9.

I. The following schedules of prices for articles named therein, adopted by commissioners appointed pursuant to law, for the State of Virginia, are announced for the information of all concerned; and the special attention of officers and agents of the government is directed thereto:

II.

RICHMOND, Jan. 27, 1864.

Hon. James A. Seddon:

SIR:

In reviewing the schedules of prices for February and March, we invited the co-operation and aid of Mr. Wm. B. Harrison, and it is just to add that the schedules received the unanimous approval of the commissioners. We respectfully offer the accompanying schedules A and B, with the understanding that the prices are to remain for the months of February and March, unless in the interval it should be deemed necessary to modify them.

The following prices are, to be the maximum rates to be paid for the articles impressed, in all cities and usual places of sale, and when impressed on the farms or elsewhere, the same prices are to be paid. Since the passage and enforcement of the law imposing the Tax in Kind places additional burdens upon the farmers of delivering a tenth of their productions, we think it rather too onerous on those who produce the most to be required also to incur the heavy additional expense of delivering their surplus.

Under existing circumstances, we have deemed it not only just, but most likely to favor increased production, that producers in future should not be required to transport their surplus productions when impressed, but that the agents of the government should employ or impress the neighborhood or county wagons and teams to haul all such articles, and so divide the work between the owners of wagons and teams, as to be least prejudicial to those successfully engaged in agriculture.

In assessing the average value of "first class artillery and wagon horses at $350," we designed that the term should be accepted and acted upon according to its obvious common sense import. In other words, that horses should be selected, and then impressed accordingly as their working qualities and adaptation to army service, together with their intrinsic value, would warrant a judicious purchaser in considering them as coming within the contemplation of the commissioners when they assessed the average value of such horses as the government needed, at $350. But cases might arise, however, when the public exigencies would be so urgent as to demand that all horses at hand should be impressed. Yet under ordinary circumstances, when family or extra blooded horses, or brood mares of admitted high value are impressed, we respectfully suggest to the Secretary of War to have instructions forwarded to the impressing officers to propose and allow the owners to substitute in their stead such strong, sound and serviceable horses or mules as shall be considered and valued by competent and disinterested parties as first class artillery horses, or first rate wagon mules.

The term "average value per head" was used in contradistinction to a fixed and uniform price for each horse or mule. We supposed that in impressing a number of horses or mules, whether owned by several persons, or one individual, that some might be estimated at $250, or even at less, and others at different advanced rates, according to their worth, up as high as $450, or above that amount—thus making an average value or price for a number of good, sound and efficient horses, $350 each, and mules $300 each.

In illustration of our views, we will add, that a horse with only one eye sound, might, in all other respects, be classed as a first rate artillery horse, yet the loss of one eye would justly and considerably curtail his value. So a horse from 10 to 18 years of age might be deemed in all other particulars as a first class artillery horse, but of course, however efficient or able to render good service for a year or so, yet his advanced age would justly and materially impair his value. Any horse, however he may approximate the standard of a first class artillery horse, must, according to deficiencies, fall below the maximum price; and as few comparatively exactly come up to the standard, and therefore are entitled to the maximum price, so of course in all other instances the price should be proportionately reduced, as imperfections place them below the standard of first class, &c.

I. At a Military Court, commenced at Knoxville, Tennessee, and continued at Abingdon, Va., November 7, 1863, and on subsequent days, of which Court Col. Thomas Rufin, jr., is Presiding Judge, was arraigned and tried:

Second Lieutenant HARRY CLAY, Co. D, 1st Ky. Md. Rifles, on the following Charges:

1. Mutiny.
2. Disobedience of orders.

(The Specifications being lengthy, are here omitted.)

Finding of the Court, Guilty.
Sentence, To be cashiered.

II. And at the same Court, continued at Bristol, Tennessee, Dec. 18, 1863, and on subsequent days, was arraigned and tried:

Lieut. GEORGE E. ROUTE, Co. A, 1st Battalion Ky. Md. Rifles, on the charge of Mutiny.

(The Specifications are omitted on account of their length.)

Finding of the Court, Guilty.
Sentence, To be cashiered.

III. And at the same Court, continued at Bristol, Tennessee, Dec. 18, 1863, and on subsequent days, was arraigned and tried:

Lieut. PEYTON S. STOUT, Co. E, 2d Ky. Md. Rifles, on the charge of Mutiny.

(The Specification is omitted on account of its length.)

Finding of the Court, Guilty.
Sentence, To be cashiered.

IV. The findings and sentences in the foregoing cases are approved, but the Commanding General having suspended the sentence in each, and the proceedings having been laid before the President, the following are his orders thereon :

1. In the case of Second Lieut. Harry Clay, Co. D, 1st Ky. Md. Rifles, the sentence is commuted to suspension from rank and command for three months, and reprimand in Orders; which will be administered by the Commanding General of the Department of West. Va and E. Tennessee; at the end of which time Lieut. Clay will return to duty.

2 and 3. In the cases of Lieut. George E. Route, Co. A, 1st Battalion Ky. Md. Rifles, and Lieut. Peyton S. Stout, Co. E, 2d Ky. Md. Rifles, the sentences are remitted, and they will be released from arrest and restored to duty.

I. In the event of the loss of company records, and the consequent inability of the commanding officers to certify, therefrom, the clothing accounts of soldiers, said accounts may be stated from memory, provided such statements are supported by the affidavits of the soldiers interested.

II. When, from the casualties of war, companies have been entirely deprived of their officers, in the adjustment of clothing accounts, the affidavit of the soldier, together with those of two of his comrades, will be esteemed sufficient evidence to authorize a settlement with him, if the statement shall be approved by the regimental commander.

III. Hereafter the articles of clothing issued during the year will be stated opposite the name of each soldier, upon the muster roll of his company, at the annual settlement directed in General Orders, No. 100, A. & I. G. O., Dec. 8, 1862.

IV. The attention of company commanders is called to the requirements of the above quoted General Orders. By failing to account for clothing received by them for issue to their men, they render themselves liable to be charged with its value, and a stoppage of their pay to the amount.

V. From and after the 1st of February 1864, instead of supplying company commanders with clothing for their men, officers of the Quartermaster's department will issue to the soldier, upon the requisition of his immediate commanding officer.

VI. In making payments to soldiers upon descriptive lists, officers of the Quartermaster's department will be careful to endorse thereon the amounts paid, and the time for which they have been paid, returning the same to them for delivery to their company commanders, and filing with their accounts a certified copy thereof.

II. Supplies of provisions, in transitu to arsenals, armories and ordnance depots, for the use of operatives, under the order of commanding officers of the same, will not be interfered with by officers of the departments.

III. As the various rail roads of the Confederacy for the transportation of troops, supplies and munitions of war, are under the control of the Quartermaster's department, the orders of Commanding Generals and other officers relating to such transportation by rail road, will be immediately furnished to the Quartermaster General, in order that arrangements may be made in time to harmonize the various routes, so as to prevent accident and delays.

I. The Bureau of Conscription affords adequate means for bringing into service persons liable to military duty; and all authorities given prior to December 1, 1863, to raise troops from men not within the lines of the enemy, or to recruit for any particular command in the field, are hereby revoked.

II. Recruits enlisted by authority for new companies which have not at this time seventy-two non-commissioned officers and privates actually mustered upon the rolls, will be turned over to the Bureau of Conscription, and allowed to select any infantry company they may prefer, under the provisions of paragraph II, G. O. 7 (1864).

III. Persons acting under authorities to enlist men for new companies, either without or within the lines of the enemy, granted since 1st December 1863, will at once report to the Commanding General of the department in which they may be, copies of such authority, with a statement of the number of men enrolled by them; and without further authorization from such commanders, their power will expire at the end of thirty days from the date of this order.

IV. The preceding orders are not intended to have any effect in the Trans-Mississippi department.

V. Commandants of posts and officers of the Conscription Bureau will enforce this order.

I. Applications from officers of the Nitre and Mining Corps for field service cannot now be considered. Workmen employed by them may be organized and armed for local defence, but their military orders must be subordinated to work, as the leading aim and consideration, and second in importance to no other military service.

II. A limit (not yet reached) to the number of able-bodied workmen to be assigned to this service—submitted by the Chief of the Nitre and Mining Bureau—has been carefully considered and approved, and communicated to the Bureau of Conscription as a guide for its action.

III. Military commanders will extend to the Nitre and Mining Service, especially in districts exposed to the enemy, protection, aid and encouragement.

IV. General Orders, No. 32 (series 1863), forbids interference with the workmen or employees at mines, furnaces or nitre works, whether worked by the government or contractors. These orders are now repeated, and especial attention is called to them.

The following Address of the President is published for the information of the army:

"Soldiers of the Armies of the Confederate States :

In the long and bloody war in which your country is engaged, you have achieved many noble triumphs. You have won glorious victories over vastly more numerous hosts. You have cheerfully borne privations and toil to which you were unused. You have readily submitted to restraints upon your individual will, that the citizen might better perform his duty to the state as a soldier. To all these you have lately added another triumph, the noblest of human conquests—a victory over yourselves.

As the time drew near when you who first entered the service might well have been expected to claim relief from your arduous labors and restoration to the endearments of home, you have heeded only the call of your suffering country. Again you come to tender your service for the public defence—a free offering, which only such patriotism as yours could make—a triumph worthy of you and of the cause to which you are devoted.

I would in vain attempt adequately to express the emotions with which I received the testimonials of confidence and regard which you have recently addressed to me. To some of those first received, separate acknowledgments were returned. But it is now apparent that a like generous enthusiasm pervades the whole army, and that the only exception to such magnanimous tender will be of those who, having originally entered for the war, cannot display anew their zeal in the public service. It is, therefore, deemed appropriate, and, it is hoped, will be equally acceptable, to make a general acknowledgment, instead of successive special responses. Would that it were possible to render my thanks to you in person, and in the name of our common country, as well as in my own, while pressing the hand of each war-worn veteran, to recognize his title to our love, gratitude and admiration.

Soldiers! By your will (for you and the people are but one) I have been placed in a position which debars me from sharing your dangers, your sufferings and your privations in the field. With pride and affection my heart has accompanied you in every march; with solicitude it has sought to minister to your every want; with exultation it has marked your every heroic achievement. Yet, never in the toilsome march, nor in the weary watch, nor in the desperate assault, have you rendered a service so decisive in results as in this last display of the highest qualities of devotion and self-sacrifice which can adorn the character of the warrior-patriot.

Already the pulse of the whole people beats in unison with yours. Already they compare your spontaneous and unanimous offer of your lives, for the defence of your country, with the halting and reluctant service of the mercenaries who are purchased by the enemy at the price of higher bounties than have hitherto been known in war. Animated by this contrast, they exhibit cheerful confidence and more resolute bearing. Even the murmurs of the weak and timid, who shrink from the trials which make stronger and firmer your noble natures, are shamed into silence by the spectacle which you present. Your brave battle-cry will ring loud and clear through the land of the enemy, as well as our own; will silence the vain-glorious boastings of their corrupt partisans and their pensioned press; and will do justice to the calumny by which they seek to persuade a deluded people that you are ready to purchase dishonorable safety by degrading submission.

Soldiers! The coming spring campaign will open under auspices well calculated to sustain your hopes. Your resolution needed nothing to fortify it. With ranks replenished under the influence of your example, and by the aid of your representatives, who give earnest of their purpose to add, by legislation, largely to your strength, you may welcome the invader with a confidence justified by the memory of past victories. On the other hand, debt, taxation, repetition of heavy drafts, dissensions, occasioned by the strife for power, by the pursuit of the spoils of office, by the thirst for the plunder of the public treasury; and, above all, the consciousness of a bad cause, must tell with fearful force upon the overstrained energies of the enemy. His campaign in 1864 must, from the exhaustion of his resources both in men and money, be far less formidable than those of the last two years, when unimpaired means were used with boundless prodigality, and with results which are suggested by the mention of the glorious names of Shiloh and Perrysville, and Murfreesboro' and Chickamauga, and the Chickahominy and Manassas, and Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville.

Soldiers! Assured success awaits us in our holy struggle for liberty and independence, and for the preservation of all that renders life desirable to honorable men. When that success shall be reached, to you, your country's hope and pride, under Divine Providence, will it be due. The fruits of that success will not be reaped by you alone, but your children and your children's children, in long generations to come, will enjoy blessings derived from you that will preserve your memory ever-living in their hearts.

Citizen-defenders of the homes, the liberties and the altars of the Confederacy! That the God whom we all humbly worship may shield you with his Fatherly care, and preserve you for safe return to the peaceful enjoyment of your friends and the association of those you most love, is the earnest prayer of your Commander-in-Chief.

The following Act of Congress is published for the information of the army :

AN ACT TO REDUCE THE CURRENCY AND TO AUTHORIZE A NEW ISSUE OF NOTES AND BONDS.

“SEC. 1. The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the holders of all treasury notes above the denomination of five dollars, not bearing interest, shall be allowed until the first day of April 1864, east of the Mississippi river, and until 1st day of July 1864, west of the Mississippi river, to fund the same, and until the periods and at the places stated the holders of all such treasury notes shall be allowed to fund the same in registered bonds payable twenty years after their date, bearing interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum, payable on the 1st day of January and July of each year.

SEC. 2. The Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to issue the bonds required for the funding provided for in the preceding section ; and until the bonds can be prepared, he may issue certificates to answer the purpose. Such bonds and certificates shall be receivable, without interest, in payment of all government dues payable in the year 1864, except export and import duties.

SEC. 3. That all treasury notes of the denomination of one hundred dollars not bearing interest, which shall not be presented for funding under the provisions of the first section of this act, shall, from and after the first day of April 1864, east of the Mississippi river, and the first day of July 1864, west of the Mississippi river, cease to be receivable in the payment of public dues, and said notes, if not so presented at that time, shall, in addition to the tax of thirty-three and one-third cents imposed in the 4th section of this act, be subject to a tax of ten per cent. per month until so presented ; which taxes shall attach to said notes wherever circulated, and shall be deducted from the face of said notes whenever presented for payment or for funding, and said notes shall not be exchangeable for the new issue of treasury notes provided for in this act.

SEC. 4. That on all said treasury notes not funded or used in payment of taxes at the dates and places prescribed in the first section of this act, there shall be levied at said dates and places a tax of thirty-three and one-third cents for every dollar promised on the face of said notes. Said tax shall attach to said notes wherever circulated, and shall be collected by deducting the same at the treasury, its depositaries, and by the tax collectors, and by all government officers receiving the same, whenever presented for payment or for funding or in payment of government dues, or for postage, or in exchange for new notes as herein after provided, and said treasury notes shall be fundable in bonds as provided in the first section of this act, until the 1st day of January 1865, at the rate of sixty-six and two-thirds cents on the dollar, and it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury, at any time between the 1st of April, east, and the 1st of July 1864, west of the Mississippi river, and the 1st of January 1865, to substitute and exchange new treasury notes for the same, at the rate of sixty-six and two-thirds cents on the dollar: provided, that notes of the denomination of one hundred dollars shall not be entitled to the privilege of said exchange: provided, further, that the right to fund any of said treasury notes after first day of January 1865, is hereby taken away: and provided further, that upon all such treasury notes which may remain outstanding on the first day of January 1865, and which may not be exchanged for new treasury notes as herein provided, a tax of one hundred per cent. is hereby imposed.

SEC. 5. That after the first day of April next all authority heretofore given to the Secretary of the Treasury to issue treasury notes shall be, and is hereby revoked: provided, the Secretary of the Treasury may, after that time, issue new treasury notes, in such form as he may prescribe, payable two years after the ratification of a treaty of peace with the United States, said new issues to be receivable in payment of all public dues except export and import duties, and to be issued in exchange for old notes at the rate of two dollars of the new for three dollars of the old issues, whether said old notes be surrendered for exchange by the holders thereof or be received into the treasury under the provisions of this act; and the holders of the new notes or of the old notes, except those of the denomination of one hundred dollars, after they are reduced to sixty-six and two-thirds cents on the dollar, by the tax aforesaid, may convert the same into call certificates, bearing interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum, and payable two years after the ratification of a treaty of peace with the United States, unless sooner converted into new notes.

SEC. 6. That to pay the expenses of the government not otherwise provided for, the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to issue six per cent. bonds, to an amount not exceeding five hundred millions of dollars, the principal and interest whereof shall be free from taxation; and for the payment of the interest thereon, the entire net receipts of any export duty hereafter laid on the value of all cotton, tobacco, and naval stores, which shall be exported from the Confederate States, and the net proceeds of the import duties now laid, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay annually the interest, are hereby specially pledged: provided, that the duties now laid upon imports and hereby pledged shall hereafter be paid in specie, or in sterling exchange, or in the coupons of said bonds.

SEC. 7. That the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized from time to time, as the wants of the treasury may require it, to sell or hypothecate for treasury notes, said bonds or any part thereof, upon the best terms he can, so as to meet appropriations by Congress, and at the same time reduce and restrict the amount of the circulation in treasury notes within reasonable and safe limits.

SEC. 8. The bonds authorized by the sixth section of this act may be either registered or coupon bonds, as the parties taking them may elect, and they may be exchanged for each other under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe. They shall be for one hundred dollars, or some multiple of one hundred dollars, and shall, together with the coupons thereto attached, be in such form and of such authentication as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe. The interest shall be payable half yearly, on the first of January and July in each year—the principal shall be payable not less than thirty years from their date.

SEC. 9. All call certificates shall be fundable, and shall be taxed in all respects, as is provided for the treasury notes, into which they are convertible. If not converted before the time fixed for taxing the treasury notes, such certificates shall from that time bear interest upon only sixty-six and two-thirds cents for every dollar promised upon their face, and shall be redeemable only in new treasury notes at that rate; but after the passage of this act no call certificates shall be issued until after the first day of April 1864.

SEC. 10. That if any bank of deposit shall give its depositors the bonds authorized by the 1st section of this act in exchange for their deposits, and specify the same on the bonds by some distinctive mark or token, to be agreed upon with the Secretary of the Treasury; then the said depositor shall be entitled to receive the amount of said bonds in treasury notes bearing no interest and outstanding at the passage of this act: provided, the said bonds are presented before the privilege of funding said notes at par shall cease, as herein prescribed.

SEC. 11. That all treasury notes heretofore issued of the denomination of five dollars shall continue to be receivable in payment of public dues, as provided by law, and fundable at par under the provisions of this act, until the 1st day of July 1864, east, and until the 1st day of October 1864, west of the Mississippi river, but after that time they shall be subject to a tax of thirty three and one-third cents on every dollar promised on the face thereof, said tax to attach to said notes wherever circulated, and said notes to be fundable and exchangeable for new treasury notes, as herein provided, subject to the deduction of said tax.

SEC. 12. That any state holding treasury notes, received before the times herein fixed for taxing said notes, shall be allowed until the 1st day of January 1865, to fund the same in six per cent. bonds of the Confederate States, payable twenty years after date, and the interest payable semi-annually. But all treasury notes received by any State after the time fixed for taxing the same, as aforesaid, shall be held to have been received diminished by the amount of said tax. The discrimination between the notes subject to the tax, and those not so subject, shall be left to the good faith of each State, and the certificate of the governor thereof shall in each case be conclusive.

SEC. 13. That treasury notes heretofore issued, bearing interest at the rate of seven dollars and thirty cents on the hundred dollars per annum, shall no longer be received in payment of public dues, but shall be deemed and considered bonds of the Confederate States, payable two years after a ratification of a treaty of peace with the United States, bearing the rate of interest specified on their face, payable on the first day of January in each and every year.

SEC. 14. That the Secretary of the Treasury be, and he is hereby authorized, in case the exigencies of the government should require it, to pay the demand of any public creditor whose debt may be contracted after the passage of this act, willing to receive the same, in a certificate of indebtedness to be issued by said Secretary, in such form as he may deem proper, payable two years after a ratification of a treaty of peace with the United States, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, and transferable only by special endorsement under regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, and said certificate shall be exempt from taxation in principal and interest.

SEC. 15. The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to increase the number of depositories so as to meet the requirements of this act, and with that view to employ such of the banks of the several states as he may deem expedient.

SEC. 16. The Secretary of the Treasury shall forthwith advertise this act in such newspapers published in the several states and by such other means as shall secure immediate publicity, and the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy shall each cause it to be published in general orders for the information of the army and navy.

SEC. 17. The forty-second section of the act for the assessment and collection of taxes, approved May 1st, 1863, is hereby repealed.

SEC. 18. The Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized and required, upon the application of the holder of any call certificate—which by the first section of the act 'to provide for the funding and further issue of treasury notes,' approved March 23d, 1863, was required to be 'thereafter deemed to be a bond'—to issue to such holder a bond therefor upon the terms provided by said act." [Approved February 17, 1864.]

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 22. }

I. Clause 3, paragraph II, General Orders, No. 75 (1863), is amended by adding after the words "as clerks" the words "or detailed men."

II. Clause 3, paragraph II, General Orders, No. 7 (current series), is amended as follows: "Persons liable to military service may volunteer in or be assigned to any company of artillery in service on the 16th of April 1862, having less than eighty-four men upon the rolls."

III. Non-commissioned officers, musicians and privates detached from their commands, by furlough or detail, for a longer period than thirty days, will be furnished by company commanders with but one descriptive list, upon which the soldier's account with the government (pay, clothing and commutation for furlough, under the Act of Congress, February 7th, 1863), will be stated. Soldiers in hospitals, not furnished with descriptive lists by company commanders when furloughed, will have such lists provided by the surgeon in charge.

Payments made will be endorsed on the descriptive lists, which will be returned to the soldier, and transportation furnished in kind under the act cited will be endorsed on the descriptive list and also on the furlough.

When the soldier rejoins his command, the descriptive list will be returned to the company commander, who will, after recording the payments made, destroy it.

Quartermasters are prohibited from paying soldiers absent, as set forth in this Order, from their commands, except in the manner herein ordered.

IV. Persons not liable to conscription who may wish to volunteer may be enrolled as volunteers, and receive transportation to the company they select. The enrollment will be communicated by the enrolling officer in each instance to the company commander.

V. Soldiers who furnish an able-bodied recruit, who is mustered into service under the provisions of the preceding paragraph, are entitled, when on furlough, to transportation home and back.

VI. The provisions of paragraph V, General Orders, No. 31 (1863), are held to apply to non-commissioned officers and privates entitled to furlough under Act of Congress approved February 7th, 1833. Re-elected officers are not allowed transportation, or commutation in lieu thereof, under any of the acts providing furloughs, bounty and transportation to persons re-enlisted or mustered into the service.

In each case, the commutation allowed in lieu of furlough will be paid by the quartermaster of the command to which the soldier belongs, and by no other quartermaster.

VII. Chaplains may receive the rations in kind allowed them by law, or commute them at the government price.

VIII. The following is published for the information of the army:

AN ACT TO PROVIDE FOR RETIRING OFFICERS OF THE ARMY.

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the President be and he is hereby authorized, upon the recommendation of any General commanding a department or any army, to discharge from service any officer of the Confederate States Army, or of the Provisional Army of the Confederate States, who has no command, and cannot be assigned to any appropriate duty, or who is incompetent or inefficient, or who may be absent from his command or duty without leave: provided, that any officer who may be discharged for incompetency, inefficiency or absence from his command or duty without leave, shall be entitled to a trial before an examining board, under existing laws, if he demands it of the Commanding General within thirty days: provided further, that it shall not extend to any officer who is absent on account of his captivity." [Approved February 17, 1864.]

IX. All officers, whether of Regular or Provisional Army, absent from their commands and not on duty, as well as those who are without assignment to duty by competent authority, will report their address by letter to this office, stating the circumstances of their absence from duty, and if unassigned, when and where last on duty.

I. At a General Court Martial, convened at Russelville, Tennessee, by General Orders, No. 21, Adjutant and Inspector General's office, of January 26, 1864, was arraigned and tried:

Brigadier General J. B. ROBERTSON, of the Provisional Army, on the charge of conduct highly prejudicial to good order and military discipline.

Substance of Specification—The use of language (which is set out) calculated to discourage his regimental commanders, and weaken their confidence in certain movements then in progress, and to create distrust in the minds of the troops as to the result of the campaign in which they were engaged.

II. Finding and Sentence of the Court.

The Court find the accused guilty of the Specification, with certain qualifications, but express the opinion that his language was not designed to weaken the confidence of the officers to whom it was addressed. They also find him guilty of the charge, except the word "highly," and sentence him to be reprimanded.

III. The proceedings, findings and sentence are approved. The absence of a wrong intent does not change the obviously mischievous tendency of the remarks complained of. Officers cannot be too careful in the expression of their opinions on such occasions; and this caution is the more incumbent, in proportion to their rank and influence. Hence, while the department is gratified that the Court has felt warranted in acquitting Brigadier General Robertson of improper motives, it altogether disapproves his conduct.

No. 25. }

I. The following Acts of Congress are published for the information of the army:

1. Joint Resolution to declare the meaning of an act allowing Hospital accommodations to Sick and Wounded Officers.

"Resolved, by the Congress of the Confederate States of America, That the true intent and meaning of an act allowing hospital accommodations to sick and wounded officers, approved the twenty-ninth day of April eighteen hundred and sixty-three, were to cause to be furnished not only medicines, medical and other attendance and lodging, but subsistence also." [Approved February 13, 1864.]

2. An Act to increase the Commutation Value of Hospital Rations.

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the commutation value of rations of the sick and wounded, and of all employees in hospitals, be fixed at such rates, not to exceed two and a half dollars, as the Secretary of War shall designate." [Approved February 15, 1864.]

3. An Act to amend an act regulating the granting of Furloughs and Discharges in Hospitals, approved May 1st, 1863.

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That an act regulating the granting of furloughs and discharges in hospitals, approved May the first, eighteen hundred and sixty-three, be and the same is hereby so amended as to provide that the period of disability therein named, which entitles soldiers, sick and wounded in hospitals, to furloughs, shall be extended to sixty days or upwards, in which case the board of examiners may grant furloughs for sixty days." [Approved February 17, 1864.]

II. Paragraph I, General Orders, No. 69, last series, is so amended that soldiers, sick or wounded in hospitals, will not be granted furloughs, unless they are likely to remain unfit for military duty for sixty days, in which case they may be furloughed for that period.

III. Hospital funds accrue in all hospitals—regimental, field or other hospitals.

IV. Paragraph VIII, General Orders, No. 8, current series, is hereby revoked. Rations in kind (such as are issued to soldiers in the field) will be issued to all attendants in field hospitals, and when required by the surgeon in charge, to the female attendants in general hospitals. The rations of all male attendants in general hospitals in cities and towns will be commuted—the amount to be drawn by the surgeon in charge, and expended by him for their subsistence.

V. The commuted value of rations of the sick and wounded, and of all employees in regimental, field or other hospitals, will be, until further orders, two dollars and fifty cents.

VI. General Orders, No. 71, last series, is amended as follows: For officers, sick or wounded in hospitals, rations will be drawn, or when required by the surgeon in charge, their value commuted at the price fixed in the preceding paragraph.

VII. The last two preceding paragraphs will not have effect in the Trans-Mississippi department.

VIII. The following Order is published in connection with paragraphs VIII and IX, General Orders, No. 22 (1864):

Officers in the Trans-Mississippi department, belonging to commands east of the Mississippi river, will immediately return to their respective commands. In cases where such officers have no command, or are unassigned to any by proper authority, action under the Act of Congress to provide for retiring officers of the army, approved February 17, 1864, will be taken by the General commanding that department, who will also adopt proper measures to carry into effect these orders.

IX. Supplies of provisions in transitu to arsenals, armories and ordnance depots, for the use of operatives, under the order of commanding officers of the same, will not be interfered with by officers of other departments.

By order.

† The 1st Sec. of the mil. Act placed in the military service all residents in the Confed. States between 17 & 18 years for the War. The 3rd Sec. separated those between 17 & 18, & 45 & 50, into a distinct class, who were to constitute the reserves. The 2^d Sec. applies to the Army proper, and provided that residents in the Confed. States between 18 & 45 years of age now in service should be retained in service for the War. No provision applies to the men who were then in the service and who were under 18 and over 45. Their condition therefore is to be ascertained from the terms of their enlistment. But, when discharged, they will be required to serve with the reserve forces.

Persons conscribed under the Act of Sept. 1862, that extended the conscription to persons between 35 & 45 were enlisted for three years or the War, and their term of enlistment will not expire during this year. The President's call for men between 40 & 45 was made last year. Those placed in service under that call must by the terms of the Act continue to serve their full term. The persons enlisted in 1861, for three years, and ^{who} were over 45 the 17th Feby. last, are the only persons entitled to claim a discharge in 1864.

Richmond, March 1, 1864.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 26. }

The following act of congress and regulations are published for the information and guidance of all concerned :

AN ACT TO ORGANIZE FORCES TO SERVE DURING THE WAR.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That from and after the passage of this act, all white men, residents of the Confederate States, between the ages of seventeen and fifty, shall be in the military service of the Confederate States for the war.

SEC. 2. That all the persons aforesaid, between the ages of eighteen and forty-five, now in service, shall be retained, during the present war with the United States, in the same regiments, battalions and companies to which they belong at the passage of this act, with the same organization and officers, unless regularly transferred or discharged, in accordance with the laws and regulations for the government of the army: provided, that companies from one state, organized against their consent, expressed at the time, with regiments or battalions from another state, shall have the privilege of being transferred to organizations of troops in the same arm of the service from the state in which said companies were raised; and the soldiers from one state in companies from another state shall be allowed, if they desire it, a transfer to organizations from their own state in the same arm of the service.

SEC. 3. That, at the expiration of six months from the first day of April next, a bounty of one hundred dollars, in a six per cent. government bond, which the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to issue, shall be paid to every non-commissioned officer, musician and private who shall then be in the service, or, in the event of his death previous to the period of such payment, then to the person or persons who would be entitled by law to receive the arrearages of his pay; but no one shall be entitled to the bounty herein provided, who shall, at any time during the period of six months next after the said first day of April, be absent from his command without leave.

SEC. 4. That no person shall be relieved from the operation of this act by reason of having been heretofore discharged from the army, where no disability now exists, nor shall those who have furnished substitutes be any longer exempted by reason thereof: provided, that no person heretofore exempted on account of religious opinions, and who has paid the tax levied to relieve him from service, shall be required to render military service under this act.

SEC. 5. That all white male residents of the Confederate States, between the ages of seventeen and eighteen and forty five and fifty years, shall enroll themselves, at such times and places, and under such regulations as the President may prescribe, the time allowed not being less than thirty days for those east, and sixty days for those west of the Mississippi river; and any person who shall fail so to enroll himself, without a reasonable excuse therefor, to be judged of by the President, shall be placed in service in the field for the war, in the same manner as though he were between the ages of eighteen and forty-five: provided, that the persons mentioned in this section shall constitute a reserve for state defence and detail duty, and shall not be required to perform service out of the state in which they reside.

SEC. 6. That all persons required by the fifth section of this act to enroll themselves may, within thirty days after the passage hereof, east of the Mississippi river, and within sixty days if west of said river, form themselves into voluntary organizations of companies, battalions or regiments, and elect their own officers—said organizations to conform to the existing law; and having so organized, to tender their services as volunteers during the war to the President; and if such organizations shall furnish proper muster rolls, as now required, and deposit a copy thereof with the enrolling officer of their district (which shall be equivalent to enrollment), they may be accepted as minute men for service in such state; but in no event to be taken out of it. Those who do not so volunteer and organize shall enroll themselves as before provided, and may, by the President, be required to assemble at places of rendezvous, and be formed into companies, battalions and regiments, under regulations to be prescribed by him, and shall have the right to elect their company and regimental officers; and all troops organized under this act for state defence shall be entitled, while in actual service, to the same pay and allowances as troops now in the field.

SEC. 7. That any person who shall fail to attend at the place of rendezvous, as required by the authority of the President, without a sufficient excuse, to be judged of by him, shall be liable to be placed in service in the field for the war as if he were between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years.

SEC. 8. That hereafter the duties of provost and hospital guards and clerks, of clerks, guards, agents, employees, or laborers in the commissary's and quartermaster's departments, in the ordnance department, and clerks and employees of navy agents, as also in the execution of the enrollment acts, and all similar duties, shall be performed by persons who are within the ages of eighteen and forty-five years, and who, by the report of a board of army surgeons, shall be reported as unable to perform active service in the field, but capable of performing some of the above named duties, specifying which; and when those persons shall have been assigned to those duties as far as practicable, the President shall detail or assign to their performance such bodies of troops or individuals, required to be enrolled under the fifth section of this act, as may be needed for the discharge of such duties: provided, that persons between the ages of seventeen and eighteen shall not be assigned to these duties: provided further, that nothing contained in this act shall be so construed as to prevent the President from detailing artisans, mechanics or persons of scientific skill to perform indispensable duties in the departments or bureaux herein mentioned.

SEC. 9. That any quartermaster or assistant quartermaster, commissary or assistant commissary (other than those serving with regiments and brigades in the field), or officer in the ordnance bureau, or navy agent, or provost marshal, or officer in the conscript service, who shall hereafter employ or retain in his employment any person in any of their said departments or bureaux, or in any of the duties mentioned in the eighth section of this act, in violation of the provisions hereof, shall, on conviction thereof, by a court martial or military court, be cashiered: and it shall be the duty of any department or district commander, upon proof by the oath of any credible person, that any such officer has violated this provision, immediately to relieve such officer from duty; and said commander shall take prompt measures to have him tried for such offence; and any commander as aforesaid failing to perform the duties enjoined by this section, shall, upon being duly convicted thereof, be dismissed from the service.

SEC. 10. That all laws granting exemptions from military service be and the same are hereby repealed, and hereafter none shall be exempted except the following:

I. All who shall be held unfit for military service, under rules to be prescribed by the Secretary of War.

II. The Vice President of the Confederate States; the members and officers of congress and of the several state legislatures, and such other confederate and state officers as the President or the governors of the respective states may certify to be necessary for the proper administration of the confederate or state governments, as the case may be.

III. Every minister of religion authorized to preach according to the rules of his church, and who, at the passage of this act, shall be regularly employed in the discharge of his ministerial duties; superintendents and physicians of asylums of the deaf, dumb and blind and of the insane; one editor for each newspaper being published at the time of the passage of this act, and such employees as said editor may certify on oath to be indispensable to the publication of such newspaper; the public printer of the confederate and state governments, and such journeymen printers as the said public printer shall certify on oath to be indispensable to perform the public printing; one skilled apothecary in each apothecary store, who was doing business as such apothecary on the tenth day of October eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and has continued said business, without intermission, since that period; all physicians over the age of thirty years, who now are, and for the last seven years have been, in the actual and regular practice of their profession; but the term physician shall not include dentists; all presidents and teachers of colleges, theological seminaries, academies and schools, who have been regularly engaged as such for two years next before the passage of this act: provided, that the benefit of this exemption shall extend to those teachers only whose schools are composed of twenty students or more; all superintendents of public hospitals established by law before the passage of this act, and such physicians and nurses therein as such superintendent shall certify on oath to be indispensable to the proper and efficient management thereof.

IV. There shall be exempt one person as overseer or agriculturist on each farm or plantation upon which there are now, and were, upon the first day of January last, fifteen able-bodied field hands, between the ages of sixteen and fifty, upon the following conditions: 1. This exemption shall only be granted in cases in which there is no white male adult on the farm or plantation, not liable to military service, nor unless the person claiming the exemption was, on the first day of January eighteen hundred and sixty-four, either the owner and manager, or overseer of said plantation; but in no case shall more than one person be exempted for one farm or plantation. 2. Such person shall first execute a bond, payable to the Confederate States of America, in such form, and with such security, and in such penalty, as the Secretary of War may prescribe, conditioned that he will deliver to the government, at some rail road depot, or such other place or places as may be designated by the Secretary of War, within twelve months then next ensuing, one hundred pounds of bacon, or, at the election of the government, its equivalent in pork, and one hundred pounds of net beef (said beef to be delivered on foot) for each able-bodied slave on the farm or plantation, within the above said ages, whether said slaves be worked in the field or not; which said bacon or pork and beef shall be paid for by the government at the prices fixed by the commissioners of the state under the impressment act: provided, that when the person thus exempted shall produce satisfactory evidence that it has been impossible for him, by the exercise of proper diligence, to furnish the amount of meat thus contracted for, and leave an adequate supply for the subsistence of those living on said farm or plantation, the Secretary of War shall direct a commutation of the same to the extent of two-thirds thereof in grain or other provisions, to be delivered by such person as aforesaid, at equivalent rates. 3. Such person shall further bind himself to sell the marketable surplus of provisions and grain now on hand, and which he may raise from year to year, while his exemption continues, to the government or to the families of soldiers, at prices fixed by the commissioners of the state, under the impressment act: provided, that any person, exempted as aforesaid, shall be entitled to a credit of twenty-five per cent. on any amount of meat which he may deliver within three months from the passage of this act: provided further, that persons coming within the provisions of this exemption shall not be deprived thereof by reason of having been enrolled since the first day of February eighteen hundred and sixty-four.

In addition to the foregoing exemptions, the Secretary of War, under the direction of the President, may exempt or detail such other person as he may be satisfied ought to be exempted on account of public necessity, and to insure the production of grain and provisions for the army and the families of soldiers. He may also grant exemptions or details, on such terms as he may prescribe, to such overseers, farmers or planters as he may be satisfied will be more useful to the country in the pursuits of agriculture than in the military service: provided, that such exemptions shall cease whenever the farmer, planter or overseer shall fail diligently to employ, in good faith, his own skill, capital and labor exclusively in the production of grain and provisions, to be sold to the government and the families of soldiers at prices not exceeding those fixed at the time for like articles by the commissioners of the state under the impressment act.

V. The president, treasurer, auditor and superintendent of any rail road company engaged in transportation for the government, and such officers and employees thereof as the president or superintendent shall certify, on oath, to be indispensable to the efficient operation of such rail road: provided, that the number of persons exempted by this act on any rail road shall not exceed one for each mile of such road in actual use for military transportation, and said exempts shall be reported by name and description, with the names of any who may have left the employment of said company, or who may cease to be indispensable to the efficient operation of its road, at least once a month, to the Secretary of War, or such officer as he may designate for that purpose: and provided further, that such president or superintendent shall, in each such monthly report, certify on oath, that no person liable to military service has been employed by his company since the passage of this act, in any position in which it was practicable to employ one not liable to military service, and capable of performing efficiently the duties of such position. And in cases where rail roads have fallen into the hands of the enemy, and a portion of the rolling stock of such roads is being used on other roads not in the enemy's hands, the president and superintendent of said first named roads shall be exempt.

VI. That nothing herein contained shall be construed as repealing the act approved April fourteenth, eighteen hundred and sixty-three, entitled an act to exempt contractors for carrying the mails of the Confederate States, and the drivers of post coaches and hacks, from military service: provided, that the exemptions granted under this act shall only continue whilst the persons exempted are actually engaged in their respective pursuits or occupations.

SEC. 11. That the President be and he is hereby authorized to grant details, under general rules and regulations to be issued by the war department, either from persons between forty-five and fifty years of age, or from the army in the field, in all cases when, in his judgment, justice, equity and necessity require such details, and he may revoke such orders of details whenever he thinks proper: provided, that the power herein granted to the President to make details and exemptions shall not be construed to authorize the exemption or detail of any contractor for furnishing supplies of any kind to the government, by reason of said contract, unless the head or secretary of the department making such contract shall certify that the personal services of said contractor are indispensable to the execution of the contract: provided further, that when any such contractor shall fail diligently and faithfully to proceed with the execution of such contract, his exemption or detail shall cease.

SEC. 12. That in appointing local boards of surgeons for the examination of persons liable to military service, no member composing the same shall be appointed from the county or enrolling district in which they are required to make such examination.

Approved February 17, 1864.

I. The superintendence of the measures necessary for the enrollment, examination, enlistment, assignment, detail and exemption of all persons not belonging to the army, in the states east of the Mississippi river, who are placed in the military service by the above act of congress, is devolved on the Bureau of Conscription; and all officers and persons assigned or to be employed in the conscription service, or upon other duty imposed upon the bureau, will be subject to its orders, and their various acts and decisions may be revised therein, under the orders and instructions of the War Department.

II. The Bureau of Conscription, under the orders of the department, will proceed to organize, in every state, efficient agencies for the performance of the necessary duties imposed by this order. These agencies will consist of a commandant of conscripts in each state, a suitable number of camps of instruction, under the charge of commanders, and enrolling officers, and drill-masters, to be appointed or assigned under acts of congress or the orders of the War Department. The Bureau of Conscription will, by instructions to these officers, designate the duties that they shall perform, the reports that they shall make, and will determine the effect of their certificates and other official evidence they may be required to give.

In the performance of the duties of making exemptions and details, the Bureau of Conscription may from time to time, organize within the states temporary boards to obtain information and advice relative to the necessity or propriety of exemptions or details to be granted under the provisions of the above act of congress.

III. All applications for exemption or detail under this act, except as hereafter excepted, and except such details as are required for the service of any of the military bureaux, or for service in any of the departments of the government, will be made in writing to the enrolling officer of the appropriate county or district, and be supported by the affidavit of the applicant and other testimony under oath. The enrolling officer will endorse his opinion on each and every application, and transmit it to the commandant of conscripts for his approval, with a certificate or approval. If the enrolling officer approve the application, he may grant a certificate of exemption for a period not exceeding 60 days, which shall remain in force for that period unless countermanded by the commandant of conscripts. Every applicant for exemption or detail, whose claim shall be refused by the enrolling officer and commandant of conscripts, will be allowed an appeal to the Bureau of Conscription and the War Department. But until the application has been made to the enrolling officer and the commandant of conscripts, applications will not be entertained by the War Department.

IV. Applications for exemptions to insure the production of provisions for the army and families of soldiers, and for the exemption of overseers, farmers or planters, or because their services will be more useful to the public as agriculturists than in the military service, or of persons between the ages of 45 and 50, because justice, equity or necessity require the detail, or because their employment is necessary to the public, will be made to the enrolling officer in writing, with an affidavit of the person making it, and accompanied with proof of one or more credible witnesses. The application should show with precision the conditions of the alleged private or public necessity, advantage, convenience, justice or equity. Among the facts to be stated are the ability of the party to produce the provision or supply the want or requirement, the condition of the family, whether any of the members belong to the army, and whether some person not liable to military service cannot be procured to perform the service. If the decision of the local enrolling officer be favorable, he will transmit the same to the commandant of conscripts for approval, who may, if he approve, grant an exemption or detail for 60 days, and endorse his action thereon, which will be transmitted to the Bureau of Conscription. The bureau will prepare special instructions to guide the action of those officers in reference to this class of cases.

V. Applications for certificates of exemption under the 3d article, 10th section of the act aforesaid, and 6th article of the same section, will be made in all cases to the local enrolling officer, and his certificate must be approved by the congressional district enrolling officer. Applications for exemption under the 5th article of the 10th section, relative to the exemption of officers and agents employed on rail roads may be made directly to the commandant of conscripts for the state, who will grant the certificate of exemption authorized by law, upon compliance with the conditions contained in the act of congress, by the officers therein mentioned.

VI. The attention of all officers of the government, and especially of those belonging to the military departments mentioned therein, is directed to the language and purport of the 8th section of the act of congress above recited. Congress has manifested, in various enactments, the policy to withdraw from the civil service all persons capable of performing duty in the field, and this section of the act is an emphatic declaration of that intention, accompanied with a severe penalty to be imposed upon the officer who may frustrate it. The Bureau of Conscription will proceed to enroll for duty all persons who may be so employed

But, to prevent the inconvenience and disorder that would follow from the instantaneous execution of the law, details may be granted until the 10th day of April next, for such of those persons as the head of any department, or the chief of any bureau, or the principal officer of the same in any state, shall certify to be necessary for that time to carry on the business in which they are employed. In the mean time, it is made the duty of the officers controlling this class of persons, to substitute, as far as practicable, persons who are designated in this act as proper to fill such employments for those that are made liable to service by the act.

VII. Conscripts unfit for duty in the field, but capable of performing other duties named in the 8th section of the act recited, will be received and recommended accordingly by the board of examiners for conscripts, who, in their reports, will state distinctly for what service, or for which department of the army, such conscripts are best fitted; and commandants of conscripts will assign them in accordance with such recommendation, or, failing to do this, will report for assignment through the Bureau of Conscription, to the chief or head of the department in which they have been recommended for service, the names of such conscripts. All certificates of exemption for disability will be signed by the examining board, and be approved by the enrolling officer of the congressional district; and when the certificate sets forth that the disability is decided and permanent, it will exempt the party from molestation by enrolling officers, unless otherwise ordered from the bureau of conscription.

VIII. The Examining Boards will forward one copy of the monthly report of conscripts examined, through the enrolling officer of the congressional district, to the commandant of conscripts, who will refer the same, with remarks, to the Bureau of Conscription. The boards will also forward one copy direct to the Surgeon General.

IX. Medical officers and employed physicians on Examining Boards for conscripts will not be assigned to congressional districts of which they are resident. The employed physicians will receive the pay and allowances of assistant surgeons. comes

X. Medical officers detailed for duty on Examining Boards for conscripts will be directed to report for orders to the commandant of conscripts of states.

XI. Besides the officers of the confederate and state governments particularly named in the act of congress, the officers of the government of the Confederate States whose nominations have been made by the President and confirmed by the senate, or who have been appointed by the judges of the district courts, under the authority confided by any act of congress, will be exempted from military service until further orders. Also the judges or justices of any supreme, superior or circuit court of any state; also the judges of probate, clerk of any court of record, ordinary, sheriff, one tax collector in each county, and recorder of deeds and wills, if there be such an officer existing by law, and such other officers of the state provided by law as the governor shall certify to be necessary to the proper administration of the state government.

XII. All persons who have been exempted on account of religious faith, under act of congress approved 11th October 1862, and who have paid the tax of $500 therein provided for, will be exempt from enrollment in the military service.

By order.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 27.

I. The attention of the army is called to the 2d and 3d sections of the Act of Congress entitled an act to organize forces to serve during the war, approved 17th February 1864.

"SEC. 2. That all the persons aforesaid, between the ages of eighteen and forty-five, now in service, shall be retained during the present war with the United States in the same regiments, battalions and companies to which they belong at the passage of this act, with the same organization and officers, unless regularly transferred or discharged in accordance with the laws and regulations for the government of the army: provided, that companies from one State, organized against their consent, expressed at the time, with regiments or battalions from another State, shall have the privilege of being transferred to organizations of troops in the same arm of the service from the States in which said companies were raised; and the soldiers from one State in companies from another State shall be allowed, if they desire it, a transfer to organizations from their own State in the same arm of the service.

SEC. 3. That at the expiration of six months from the 1st day of April next, a bounty of one hundred dollars, in a six per centum government bond, which the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to issue, shall be paid to every non-commissioned officer, musician and private who shall then be in the service, or in the event of his death previous to the period of such payment, then to the person or persons who would be entitled by law to receive the arrearage of his pay; but no one shall be entitled to the bounty herein provided, who shall, at any time during the period of six months next after the said first day of April, be absent from his command without leave."

II. The Generals of departments will ascertain whether there be in their respective departments any company or companies from one State associated with companies belonging to another State, either in battalions or regiments; who were placed in such organizations against their consent, expressed at the time, and will report the same to the Adjutant and Inspector General as soon as practicable, with a recommendation that they be transferred, if they now desire it, to some organization of troops in the same arm of the service from the State in which the said companies were raised.

III. Measures will be taken by the Commanding Generals of departments to place in companies of the same arm of the service in which they are serving, raised in States to which they respectively belong, the privates who are serving in companies raised in other States. This privilege will be freely granted to all privates making the application. A private will be considered as belonging to that State in which he was residing for twelve months prior to his enlistment. Measures will also be taken to have proper rolls prepared on the first of April proximo, or as soon after as practicable, and returned to the office of the Adjutant and Inspector General, so as to secure to all the persons designated in the 3d section of the above recited act the benefits conferred by it.

I. Paragraph V, General Orders, No. 13 (1864), is thus amended:

Officers of the Quartermaster's department will, upon the requisition of company commanders, issue clothing directly to soldiers, and take their individual receipts therefor.

II. Paragraph II, General Orders, No. 67 (1863), is amended as follows:

If any cavalryman "shall not keep himself provided with a serviceable horse, he shall serve on foot," and be transferred to any regiment of infantry from the State from which he volunteered or was conscribed, that the department commander may order.

III. The following Act of Congress is published for the information of the army:

An Act to allow Commissioned Officers of the Army Rations and the privilege of purchasing Clothing from the Quartermaster's department.

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That from and after the passage of this act, all commissioned officers of the armies, whilst on duty in the field, or in the naval service, whilst afloat, of the Confederate States, shall be entitled to one ration in kind each, in quantity and quality the same as are now allowed by law to privates, and shall draw and receive the same under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of War.

SEC. 2. All commissioned officers of the armies of the Confederate States shall be allowed to purchase clothing and cloth for clothing from any quartermaster at the price which it cost the government, all expenses included: provided, that no quartermaster shall be allowed to sell to any officer any clothing which would be proper to issue to privates, until all privates entitled to receive the same shall have been first supplied: provided, that the officer offering to purchase shall give his certificate on honor that the articles are necessary for his own personal comfort and use, and in no case shall more than one suit per annum be allowed to be so purchased by an officer: provided, that no law or army regulation shall hereafter be construed to allow an officer to purchase or draw from subsistence stores more than one ration a day, or for less price than the cost thereof, including transportation.

SEC. 3. No officer under the rank of Brigadier General shall hereafter be entitled to forage or commutation for forage for more than one horse, except when on service in the field."

IV. Rations in kind, the same in quality and quantity as are now allowed by law to privates, will be issued to regimental commissioned officers, whilst on duty in the field, upon Provision Returns, approved by the commanding officer of the regiment, and to general and staff officers upon their own certificates.

V. One ration a day in kind may be purchased by any officer—not in the field—who is upon duty under orders from this office or from any department commander, at cost, including transportation.

VI. Officers retired in accordance with the act to provide an invalid corps, approved February 17th, 1864, are not entitled to draw or purchase rations, unless assigned to duty by orders under the provisions of that law.

VII. The Quartermaster General will issue instructions to quartermasters and assistant quartermasters to carry into effect section 3 of the above act, and so much of section 2 of the same act as relates to his department.

An Act to prevent the procuring, aiding and assisting of persons to desert from the Army of the Confederate States, and for other purposes.

“The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That every person not subject to the rules and articles of war, who shall procure or entice a soldier, or person enrolled for service in the army of the Confederate States, to desert, or who shall aid or assist any deserter from the army, or any person enrolled for service, to evade their proper commanders, or to prevent their arrest, to be returned to the service, or who shall knowingly conceal or harbor any such deserter, or shall purchase from any soldier, or person enrolled for service, any portion of his arms, equipments, rations or clothing, or any property belonging to the Confederate States, or any officer or soldier of the Confederate States, shall, upon conviction before the district court of the Confederate States having jurisdiction of the offence, be fined not exceeding one thousand dollars, and be imprisoned not exceeding two years.” [Approved January 22, 1864.]

An Act to aid any State in communicating with, and perfecting Records concerning its Troops.

“The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That upon the application of the governor of any of the Confederate States, the Secretary of War be and he is hereby authorized to grant passports and transportation to an officer of such state, duly commissioned according to the law of said state, to communicate with its troops for such purposes, and at such times and places as shall be approved by the Secretary of War; and such officer shall be allowed to purchase for himself supplies from the commissary stores, on the same terms with officers of similar rank in the service of the Confederate States, and according to the regulations which govern them: provided such supplies shall not exceed those which a colonel of the Confederate States is allowed to purchase : provided, that these agents shall be charged with the duty of obtaining from the officers in command of companies, final statements of deceased soldiers, to be filed in the Second Auditor's office to facilitate the settlement of such claims." [Approved February 16, 1864.]

An Act to repeal certain portions of the Act of May the twenty-first, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, relative to Prisoners of War.

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That so much of the act of congress, passed May the twenty-first, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, as makes it the duty of the Quartermaster General, under instructions issued by the War Department, to provide for the sustenance of prisoners of war, is hereby repealed, and hereafter that that duty shall devolve on the Commissary General of Subsistence, and be discharged by him, subject to the provisions of the act referred to." [Approved February 17, 1864.]

An Act creating the office of Ensign in the Army of the Confederate States.

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That there shall be appointed by the President, to each regiment of infantry in the army of the Confederate States, an officer to be known as "Ensign," with the rank, pay and allowances of a first lieutenant, whose duty it shall be to bear the colors of the regiment, but without right to command in the field." [Approved February 17, 1864.]

[5.]

An Act to authorize the promotion of Officers, Non-commissioned Officers and Privates, for distinguished skill or valor.

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the President is hereby authorized, upon the recommendation of the General commanding a department or a separate army in the field, to fill any vacancy in the commissioned officers of a regiment or battalion, by the promotion to the same, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, of any officer, non-commissioned officer or private, who may have distinguished himself by exhibiting peculiar valor or skill on the battle field : provided, that the officer, non-commissioned officer or private so recommended and nominated for promotion, shall belong to the regiment or battalion in which the vacancy may have occurred.

SEC. 2. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with the above provisions, are hereby repealed." [Approved February 17, 1864.]

An Act to amend the Act entitled an Act to provide and organize Engineer Troops to serve during the war (approved twentieth March eighteen hundred and sixty-three).

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the above recited act be so amended that there shall be allowed to each regiment of engineer troops two quartermaster sergeants." [Approved February 17, 1864.]

An Act to amend the Acts of April first, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and September twenty-third, eighteen hundred and sixty-two.

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the acts approved twenty-first April eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and twenty-third September eighteen hundred and sixty-two, regulating the increase and rank of the corps of engineers of the Provisional Army, be amended to read as follows: That the President be and he is hereby authorized to appoint, with the advice and consent of the Senate, an additional number of officers in the engineer corps of the Provisional Army: provided, that the whole corps shall not exceed one hundred and twenty, and that the number of officers in each grade be limited to three colonels, four lieutenant colonels, eight majors, forty-five captains, thirty-five first lieutenants, and twenty-five second lieutenants.

SEC. 2. There may be appointed six military storekeepers, with the pay and allowances of captains of infantry, who shall give such bond for the faithful performance of their duty as may be prescribed by the Secretary of War: provided, that the said storekeepers shall be appointed from persons who are disqualified for active service by reason of wounds received in the military service, or disease contracted whilst in the army, or from persons over forty-five years of age." [Approved February 17, 1864.]

An Act to amend an Act entitled an Act to provide and organize Engineer Troops to serve during the war (approved March twentieth, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three).

“The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That an act to provide and organize engineer troops to serve during the war (approved twentieth March one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three), be amended to read as follows: That there shall be selected, in such manner as the Secretary of War may direct, from each division of infantry in service, or from every twelve regiments when not formed into divisions, one company of engineer troops, to consist of one hundred men, chosen with a view to their mechanical skill and physical fitness, and that the men assigned to such company shall be required to serve in the same only during the balance of their term of service respectively. These companies may be formed or recruited from conscripts and volunteers.

SEC. 2. That each company shall consist of eight sergeants, seven corporals, forty artificers and forty-five laborers, and that two musicians may be added.

SEC. 3. That the commissioned officers of each company shall consist of one captain, one first lieutenant and two second lieutenants, and that the original vacancies in these companies shall be filled by transfer of officers of corresponding grade from the engineer corps, if practicable, and where not, then from the other corps, or from the line or staff of the army, reference being always had to their qualification as engineers, or by selection; but no one shall be selected who is not now serving in or with the army, unless he is a military or civil engineer.

SEC. 4. That the companies shall be organized into regiments of ten companies each, and that the field and staff officers shall consist of one colonel, one lieutenant colonel, one major, one adjutant, with the rank of first lieutenant, one quartermaster sergeant, and one sergeant-major, and that the original vacancies in the regiments shall be filled in the manner provided for filling the same in the companies by the third session [section] of this act.

SEC. 5. That in each regiment two of the companies shall be assigned to duty as pontoniers, and each be furnished with a bridge train complete.

SEC. 6. That the officer in charge of the engineer bureau, subject to the approval of the Secretary of War, shall prescribe the number, form and dimensions of the wagons, pontoons, trestles, tools, implements, arms and other necessaries for all the troops organized by this act.

SEC. 7. That vacancies in the established regiments to and including the rank of captain, shall be filled by promotion, regimentally, according to seniority, except in case of disability or other incompetency. The field officers shall be appointed by selection from the captains of the regiments or battalions, except in the case of original appointment or vacancy caused by promotion to original vacancy of higher rank.

SEC. 8. That the monthly pay of the engineer troops shall be as follows: Of a colonel, two hundred and ten dollars; of a lieutenant colonel, one hundred and eighty-five dollars; of a major, one hundred and sixty-two dollars; of a captain, one hundred and forty dollars; of a first lieutenant, one hundred dollars; of a second lieutenant, ninety dollars; and the adjutant shall receive ten dollars per month, in addition to his pay as lieutenant.

SEC. 9. That the pay of the enlisted men per month shall be as follows: The sergeant-major and quartermaster sergeant, each thirty-four dollars; sergeants, thirty-four dollars; corporals, twenty dollars; artificers, seventeen dollars; laborers and musicians, thirteen dollars.

SEC. 10. The mounted engineer troops may be selected from the cavalry, and be organized according to the provisions of this act, for engineer troops, as herein before specified.

SEC. 11. Officers of the engineer corps and of the engineer troops of the Provisional Army, of equal rank, may, with mutual consent, be transferred: provided the relative rank of no officer of either corps be prejudiced thereby." [Approved February 17, 1864.]

An Act to amend the sixty-fifth Article of War.

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the sixty-fifth Article of War be so amended as to read as follows:

ARTICLE 65. Any general officer commanding an army, or commanding a force of cavalry not with and under the immediate command of the commander of an army, or other officer commanding a separate department, may appoint general courts martial whenever necessary. But no sentence of a court martial shall be carried into execution until after the whole proceedings shall have been laid before the officer ordering the same, or the officer commanding the troops for the time being: neither shall any sentence of a general court martial in time of peace, extending to the loss of life, or the dismissal of a commissioned officer, or which shall, either in time of peace or war, respect a general officer, be carried into execution until after the whole proceedings shall have been transmitted to the Secretary of War, to be laid before the President of the Confederate States, for his confirmation or disapproval, and orders in the case. All other sentences may be confirmed and executed by the officer ordering the court to assemble, or the commanding officer for the time being, as the case may be." [Approved February 17, 1864.]

An Act to amend an Act entitled an Act to organize Military Courts to attend the Army of the Confederate States in the field, and to define the Powers of said Courts.

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the act entitled an act to organize military courts to attend the army of the Confederate States in the field, and to define the powers of said courts, be so amended as to authorize the President to establish one in North Alabama, which shall sit at such times and places as said court may direct, and shall have all the powers and jurisdiction given to said military courts by said act; but the judges thereof shall give ten days' notice of the times and places of holding said courts, before the same are held: provided, however, that said court shall cease to exist after one year from the passage of this act, unless longer continued by Congress." [Approved February 13, 1864.]

An Act to authorize the President to establish additional Military Courts.

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That in addition to the military courts now authorized by law, the President be and he is hereby authorized to appoint a military court, to attend any division of cavalry in the field, and also one for each state within a military department, whenever in his judgment such courts would promote the public interest; which courts shall be organized, and have the same powers and duties, and the members thereof appointed as provided by law." [Approved February 16, 1864.]

An Act to amend an Act entitled an Act to organize Military Courts to attend the Army of the Confederate States in the field, and to define the Powers of said Courts (approved October ninth, eighteen hundred and sixty-two).

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That when two or more army corps are united in the same army, charges shall be referred to said courts, and their proceedings be subject to review by the army commander, as in the case of general courts martial; and that the jurisdiction of each of said courts shall extend to any person connected with the army of which the corps to which the court is attached may be a part, without being limited to members of the particular corps to which said court may be attached.

SEC. 2. That when the corps to which any military court may be attached shall from any cause cease to exist as such, the Secretary of War shall assign the members and officers of such court to any other unsupplied corps, or other subdivision of any of the armies of the Confederate States, where a military court may be needed; and exchanges and transfers of individual members and officers from any one court to another, may be made by the Secretary of War, on application of the parties concerned—the consent of the commander or commanders of the army or armies to which the particular courts may belong having been first obtained to such exchange or transfer.

SEC. 3. That the fourth section of the act of which this is amendatory, be and the same is hereby so amended as to extend the jurisdiction of the military courts to all offenders below the grade of Lieutenant General." [Approved February 17, 1864.]

An Act to confer additional Powers upon Courts Martial and Military Courts.

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That any military court or court martial convened within the army of the Confederate States, shall have power to summon as a witness before it any citizen of the state in which said court may at the time hold its session: and any citizen disobeying such summons—upon information given thereof by the judge advocate of said military court or court martial to the judge of the district court of the Confederate States for the district in which said citizen may reside—shall be subject to the same penalties as for disobedience of an order of said district court; or, on application of the judge advocate, such citizen witness may by military force be arrested and brought before said military court or court martial, by order of the commander of the army, and may be held in close confinement until he or she shall consent to testify.

SEC. 2. That any citizen witness appearing upon being summoned, as provided in this act, shall be paid such reasonable amount for his or her attendance as the commander of the army shall deem reasonable, which payment shall be made by any paymaster, upon the certificate of said commander, specifying the amount." [Approved February 17, 1864.]

An Act to authorize Commanders of Corps and Departments to detail Field Officers as members of Military Courts, under certain circumstances.

“The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That commanders of corps and departments be and they are hereby authorized to detail field officers as members of military courts, whenever any of the judges of said courts shall be disqualified, by consanguinity or affinity, or unable, from sickness or other unavoidable cause, to attend said courts.”
[Approved February 6, 1864.]

An Act to amend an Act entitled an Act to punish drunkenness in the Army (approved April twenty-first, eighteen hundred and sixty-two).

“The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the jurisdiction conferred upon courts of enquiry, in the act above recited, is hereby repealed, and the said jurisdiction is hereby conferred, for the punishment of the offence therein named, upon the military courts and general courts martial convened in the army of the Confederate States; and the proceedings therein shall be subject to review, as in other cases.

SEC. 2. That any citizen of the Confederate States is hereby authorized to make report of any violation of the provision of the act to which this is an amendment, in the same manner as officers of the army are now required to do.

SEC. 3. Upon any trial for drunkenness, it shall be lawful to prove, without special charge, that the accused is of intemperate habits; and if the court shall find that he is of such habits, he shall be cashiered or otherwise punished at the discretion of the court.” [Approved February 17, 1864.]

An Act to authorize the organization of Auxiliary Bureaux of the War Department west of the Mississippi River.

“The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That under the direction of the President, such bureaux or agencies of the War Department may be organized west of the Mississippi river as the public service may require, which shall be auxiliary to the similar bureaux of said department established by law, and shall perform such duties as may be directed by instructions from the Secretary of War, or the General commanding in the Trans-Mississippi department, acting under the authority of the War Department.

SEC. 2. Such staff officers and clerks may be assigned to duty, or appointed by the President in these bureaux, as may be necessary for the service; and under authority from the President, the General commanding in the Trans-Mississippi department may assign such officers to duty or make appointments therein, subject to the approval of the President: provided, that no clerk employed under this act shall be allowed a salary exceeding two thousand dollars per annum, or be liable to military duty." [Approved February 17, 1864.]

An Act authorizing Chaplains in certain cases to draw Forage for one Horse.

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That chaplains in the army in actual service in the field shall be entitled to draw forage for one horse: provided the chaplain has a horse in his use." [Approved January 22, 1864.]

[18.]

An Act relating to the appointment of a General and Lieutenant Generals.

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the President may appoint one general in the Provisional Army of the Confederate States, when, in his discretion, it shall be deemed necessary and proper, for the command of the Trans-Mississippi military department, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate.

SEC. 2. That the President may, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, appoint lieutenant generals in the Provisional Army of the Confederate States, when, in his discretion, it shall be deemed necessary for the command of any one of the military departments.

SEC. 3. That the officers appointed under the provisions of this act shall continue to hold the rank herein provided so long as they shall efficiently discharge the duties in command of said several departments, and no longer, but will resume thereafter their former rank in the service." [Approved February 17, 1864.]

A Bill to repeal an Act to organize Bands of Partizan Rangers (approved April twenty-one, eighteen hundred and sixty-two), and for other purposes.

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the act of congress aforesaid be and the same is hereby repealed: provided, that organizations of partizan rangers, acting as regular cavalry at the passage of this act, shall be continued in their present organization: provided they shall hereafter be considered as regular cavalry, and not as partizan rangers.

SEC. 2. That all the bands of partizan rangers organized under the said act may, as the interests of the service allow, be united with other organizations, or be organized into battalions and regiments, with the view to bringing them under the general conditions of the Provisional Army, as to discipline, control and movements, under such regulations as the Secretary of War may prescribe.

SEC. 3. The Secretary of War shall be authorized, if he deems proper, for a time or permanently, to except from the operation of this act such companies as are serving within the lines of the enemy, and under such conditions as he may prescribe." [Approved February 17, 1864.]

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 30.

1. The following Act of Congress concerning impressments, and the instructions of the War Department respecting it, are published for the information and direction of all concerned :

An Act to amend an Act to regulate Impressments (approved March twenty-sixth, eighteen hundred and sixty-three), and to repeal an Act amendatory thereof (approved April twenty-seventh, eighteen hundred and sixty-three).

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That in all cases where property is impressed for the use of the army and navy, or for other public use, under said act, the same shall be paid for at the time of said impressment, unless an appeal shall be taken from said valuation, as herein after provided, according to the valuation agreed upon between the parties, or ascertained by loyal and disinterested citizens of the city, county or parish in which the impressment may be made, in the manner and according to the regulations provided in the first, second and third sections of the above recited act, or in the eighth section thereof, where it is applicable.

SEC. 2. Whenever the officer making the impressment of property, under the act hereby amended, shall believe that the appraisement is fair and just, he shall endorse his approval upon the appraisement, and make payment accordingly; but if he shall believe that it is not fair and just, then he shall refuse to approve, and endorse the reasons of his refusal on the certificate, and shall have the right to appeal from the decision of the appraisers, by reporting the case to the commissioners appointed under said act to which this is an amendment, for their decision, whose judgment shall be final; and in the mean time the property shall be held and appropriated by the officer impressing the same, who shall give a receipt therefor to the owner, who shall also have the right of appeal as herein provided.

SEC. 3. The said commissioners shall have power to summon and examine witnesses to enable them to fix the value of property impressed, which shall be a just compensation for the property so impressed, at the time and place of impressment; and when the commissioners shall have fixed the value of property in cases of appeal, they shall furnish the owner and impressing officer with a statement of such value, which valuation by the commissioners shall be within three months from the time of impressment.

SEC. 4. That said commissioners shall be sworn faithfully to discharge all their duties under this act, and the act to which this is an amendment.

SEC. 5. That the tenth section of the act of which this is an amendment be stricken out, and the following inserted instead thereof:

'No slave laboring on a farm or plantation exclusively devoted to the production of grain or provisions, shall be taken for public use, without the consent of the owner, except in case of urgent necessity, and upon the order of the General commanding the department in which said farm or plantation is situated.'

SEC. 6. That the act amendatory of the above recited act (approved April twenty-seventh, eighteen hundred and sixty-three), and so much of the first section of said act as requires an affidavit to be made by the owner, or his agent, that such property was grown, raised or produced by said owner, or held, or has been purchased by him, not for sale or speculation, but for his own use or consumption, be and the same is hereby repealed.

SEC. 7. That no impressment shall be made under this act, or the act to which this is amendatory, for the use or benefit of contractors with the government.

SEC. 8. Nothing in this act shall be construed to authorize the impressing officer to enter an appeal from any decision of the local appraisers, under the seventh section of the act to which this is amendatory." [Approved February 16, 1864.]

II. Impressments according to this act, and the act to which this is an amendment, may be made for necessary supplies for the confederate armies in the field, and for their accumulation in magazines and at posts and depots, and to carry on the various operations of the Military Bureaux connected with the War Department, whenever the same cannot be obtained by contract.

III. They may be made under orders from the Generals commanding armies, departments, corps, divisions, and by commanders of detached parties, when a necessity arises therefor. These orders may be executed by appropriate officers of the staff belonging to the army. The chiefs of the various bureaux will designate the officers and persons who shall be competent to make impressments under the authority conferred upon them.

IV. Before any impressment shall be made, the impressing officer or his agent will make an offer to the owner, his bailee or agent, in writing, for the purchase of the property, describing the property he wishes to purchase, the price he is willing to pay, and the mode of payment, and stating that, upon a refusal to accept the same, compensation will be made according to the acts of congress for the regulation of impressments. This notice will be considered as binding the property until the completion of the negotiation for the sale and transfer of the same to the impressing officer. The property will remain in the custody of the owner and at his risk during the pending of these proceedings, unless a delivery of the same be thereupon made to the impressing officer, with his consent. In case of a change of possession under these circumstances, the Confederate States will be regarded as the owner, and the property held for its use and at its risk.

V. In all cases in which the offer of an impressing officer is refused, he will proceed to adjust the price according to the first section of the act above recited: that is, by the judgment of two loyal and disinterested persons of the city, county or parish in which the impressment may be made—one to be selected by the owner, his bailee or agent, and one by the impressing officer. In the event of their disagreement, these two will elect an umpire of like qualification. The persons thus selected will proceed to assess just compensation for the property so impressed, whether the absolute ownership or the temporary use thereof be required. If the impressing officer believes that the appraisement is fair and just, he will endorse his approval, and pay for the property: and the right in the object impressed will become the property of the Confederate States. But if he does not approve of the appraisement, he will decline to approve it, and endorse the reasons for his refusal on the certificate, and forthwith report the case to the commissioners appointed under the fifth section of the act, to which the act above recited is an amendment; and in the mean time the property will be taken, and a receipt describing the property and the proceedings for the adjustment of the price and the appeal, given to the owner. The impressing officer will immediately report the case to the appraisers, with a statement of the quality and condition of the property, and his opinion upon the subject.

VI. No officer or agent will impress the necessary supplies which any person may have for the consumption of himself, his family, employees or slaves, or to carry on his ordinary mechanical, manufacturing or agricultural employments.

If any question arise as to the fact whether the supplies are necessary, or whether there be a surplus, it will be determined by appraisers mutually selected according to the preceding section; and in this case the decision of the appraisers will be binding on the officer, who will not be allowed an appeal therefrom.

VII. These regulations are published as a substitute for the regulations contained in General Orders, No. 37 and 161, series of 1863.

By order.

S. COOPER,
Adjutant and Inspector General.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 31.

I. The following Act of Congress, "for the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus in certain cases," with the instructions of the War Department, is published for the information of all concerned:

An Act to suspend the privilege of the Writ of Habeas Corpus in certain cases.

Whereas the Constitution of the Confederate States of America provides, in article first, section nine, paragraph three, that "the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless when, in case of rebellion or invasion, the public safety may require it:" and whereas the power of suspending the privilege of said writ, as recognized in said article first, is vested solely in the Congress, which is the exclusive judge of the necessity of such suspension: and whereas in the opinion of the Congress, the public safety requires the suspension of said writ in the existing case of the invasion of these states by the armies of the United States: and whereas the President has asked for the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus, and informed Congress of conditions of public danger which render the suspension of the writ a measure proper for the public defence against invasion and insurrection: Now, therefore,

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That during the present invasion of the Confederate States, the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus be and the same is hereby suspended; but such suspension shall apply only to the cases of persons arrested or detained by order of the President, Secretary of War, or the general officer commanding the Trans-Mississippi Military Department, by the authority and under the control of the President. It is hereby declared that the purpose of Congress in the passage of this act is to provide more effectually for the public safety, by suspending the writ of habeas corpus in the following cases, and no others:

First—Of treason, or treasonable efforts or combinations to subvert the government of the Confederate States.

Second—Of conspiracies to overthrow the government, or conspiracies to resist the lawful authorities of the Confederate States.

Third—Of combining to assist the enemy, or of communicating intelligence to the enemy, or giving him aid and comfort.

Fourth—Of conspiracies, preparations and attempts to incite servile insurrection.

Fifth—Of desertions or encouraging desertions, of harboring deserters and of attempts to avoid military service: provided, that in cases of palpable wrong and oppression by any subordinate officer, upon any party who does not legally owe military service, his superior officer shall grant prompt relief to the oppressed party, and the subordinate shall be dismissed from office.

Sixth—Of spies and other emissaries of the enemy.

Seventh—Of holding correspondence or intercourse with the enemy, without necessity, and without the permission of the Confederate States.

Eighth—Of unlawful trading with the enemy, and other offences against the laws of the Confederate States, enacted to promote their success in the war.

Ninth—Of conspiracies, or attempts to liberate prisoners of war held by the Confederate States.

Tenth—Of conspiracies, or attempts or preparations to aid the enemy.

Eleventh—Of persons advising or inciting others to abandon the confederate cause, or to resist the Confederate States, or to adhere to the enemy.

Twelfth—Of unlawfully burning, destroying or injuring, or attempting to burn, destroy or injure any bridge or rail road or telegraphic line of communication, or other property, with the intent of aiding the enemy.

Thirteenth—Of treasonable designs to impair the military power of the government, by destroying, or attempting to destroy the vessels or arms, or munitions of war, or arsenals, foundries, workshops, or other property of the Confederate States.

SEC. 2. The President shall cause proper officers to investigate the cases of all persons so arrested or detained, in order that they may be discharged, if improperly detained, unless they can be speedily tried in the due course of law.

SEC. 3. That during the suspension aforesaid no military or other officer shall be compelled, in answer to any writ of habeas corpus, to appear in person or to return the body of any person or persons detained by him by the authority of the President, Secretary of War, or the general officer commanding the Trans-Mississippi department; but upon the certificate under oath of the officer having charge of any one so detained, that such person is detained by him as a prisoner for any of the causes herein before specified, under the authority aforesaid, further proceedings under the writ of habeas corpus shall immediately cease, and remain suspended so long as this act shall continue in force.

SEC. 4. This act shall continue in force for ninety days after the next meeting of Congress, and no longer.

A true copy.

JAMES M. MATTHEWS,
Law Clerk

Approved February 15, 1864.

II. There will be appointed by this department, for each military department of the Confederacy east of the Mississippi river, one or more competent persons as commissioners to investigate the cases of persons who may be arrested or detained by any military authority for any cause specified within the above recited act. Information of all such arrests will be given to him by the department commander as soon as practicable after they are made, and he will proceed to investigate the same. If, upon examination, a reasonable and probable cause for detention does not appear, he will certify the fact to the general or other officer in command, who will immediately discharge the prisoner from arrest. But if a reasonable and probable cause does appear, the commissioner will forthwith transmit to this department a copy of the evidence taken in the case, with his opinion thereon, for instructions, and meanwhile the prisoner shall remain in custody.

III. In all cases in which a person who has been enlisted in the army under any of the acts of congress to provide for the public defence, or to raise troops to serve during the war, or to provide for local defence and special service, or who has been enlisted or enrolled for service under the acts of congress further to provide for the public defence, or has been placed in the military service by the act of congress to organize forces to serve during the war, approved 17th February 1864, or shall be held in custody for desertion or encouraging desertions, of harboring deserters, and of attempts to avoid military service, or of holding correspondence or intercourse with the enemy without necessity and without the permission of the Confederate States, or of combining to assist the enemy, or of communicating intelligence to the enemy, or of giving him aid and comfort, or for any other cause specified in the act aforesaid; and in all cases in which any person not belonging to the military service shall be held in custody by any military authority for any of the causes mentioned in the act, shall apply to any court or officer in the Confederate States for a writ of habeas corpus, it will be the duty of the officer having the command or custody of such person forthwith to report the case, with all the relevant facts, to the War Department for instructions as to the proper answer to be made to such writ, and in the mean time to retain the custody and control of such person under this order, a copy of which will be communicated to the officer or court issuing the writ, as affording the reason why time should be given to make a more complete return.

IV. In all cases when the requisite delay cannot be obtained, it will be the duty of the officer having command and custody of persons embraced in the preceding section, or who may have in custody as prisoners any person charged under any of the sections of the above recited act of congress, to make a special return in writing and under oath that the body of such person so detained by him is detained by the authority of the Secretary of War, and that he declines, under and by virtue of his authority and the act of congress aforesaid, to produce the body of such person, or to make further appearance or return to the said writ.

V. The Commanding General of the Trans-Mississippi department will perform the functions devolving upon the War Department, under these Orders, in that portion of the Confederacy.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 32. }

I. The Act of Congress relative to the employment of free negroes and slaves in certain capacities, and the instructions of the War Department relative to its execution, are published for the information of those concerned:

An Act to increase the efficiency of the Army by the employment of Free Negroes and Slaves in certain capacities.

Whereas the efficiency of the army is greatly diminished by the withdrawal from the ranks of able-bodied soldiers to act as teamsters, and in various other capacities in which free negroes and slaves might be advantageously employed: Therefore,

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That all male free negroes and other free persons of color, not including those who are free under the treaty of Paris of 1803, or under the treaty of Spain of 1819, resident in the Confederate States, between the ages of 18 and 50 years, shall be held liable to perform such duties with the army, or in connection with the military defences of the country, in the way of work upon fortifications or in government works for the production or preparation of materials of war, or in military hospitals, as the Secretary of War or the Commanding General of the Trans-Mississippi Department may from time to time prescribe; and while engaged in the performance of such duties, shall receive rations and clothing, and compensation at the rate of eleven dollars a month, under such rules and regulations as the said Secretary may establish: provided, that the Secretary of War or the Commanding General of the Trans-Mississippi Department, with the approval of the President, may exempt from the operations of this act such free negroes as the interests of the country may require should be exempted, or such as he may think proper to exempt, on grounds of justice, equity or necessity.

That the Secretary of War is hereby authorized to employ for duties similar to those indicated in the preceding section of this act, as many male negro slaves, not to exceed twenty thousand, as in his judgment the wants of the service may require, furnishing them, while so employed, with proper rations and clothing, under rules and regulations to be established by him, and paying to the owners of said slaves such wages as may be agreed upon with said owners for their use and service; and in the event of the loss of any slaves while so employed, by the act of the enemy, or by escape to the enemy, or by death inflicted by the enemy, or by disease contracted while in any service required of said slaves, then the owners of the same shall be entitled to receive the full value of such slaves, to be ascertained by agreement or by appraisement, under the law regulating impressments, to be paid under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of War may establish.

That when the Secretary of War shall be unable to procure the services of slaves in any military department in sufficient numbers for the necessities of the department, upon the terms and conditions set forth in the preceding section, then he is hereby authorized to impress the services of as many male slaves, not to exceed twenty thousand, as may be required, from time to time, to discharge the duties indicated in the first section of this act, according to the laws regulating the impressment of slaves in other cases: provided, that slaves so impressed shall, while employed, receive the same rations and clothing, in kind and quantity, as slaves regularly hired from their owners, and in the event of their loss, shall be paid for in the same manner, and under the same rules established by the said impressment laws: provided, that if the owner have but one male slave between the ages of 18 and 50, he shall not be impressed against the will of said owner: provided further, that free negroes shall be first impressed, and if there should be a deficiency, it shall be supplied by the impressment of slaves according to the foregoing provisions: provided further, that in making the impressment, not more than one of every five male slaves between the ages of 18 and 45 shall be taken from any owner, care being taken to allow in each case a credit for all slaves who may have been already impressed under this act, and who are still in service, or have died, or been lost while in service. And all impressments under this act shall be taken in equal ratio from all owners in the same locality, city, county or district.

THOMAS S. BOCOCK,
Speaker House of Representatives.

R. M. T. HUNTER,
President pro tem. of the Senate.

Approved February 17, 1864.

JEFFERSON DAVIS.

II. The Bureau of Conscription will direct the enrollment of all the persons described in the first section of the act aforesaid, east of the Mis-

Mississippi river, who are not unfit for the service required from them, by reason of physical or mental incapacity or imbecility, and will assign them to the performance of the duties mentioned in the act, or similar duties in any of the military bureaux, or with troops in the field, as there may be any call for such service.

III. Applications for an exemption on the grounds that the interests of the country require it, or because it is demanded by justice, equity or necessity, will be made to the enrolling officer in writing, and will be disposed of by him according to the general directions contained in the regulations published in Orders No. 26 (1864), under the "act to organize forces to serve during the war."

IV. For the execution of the sections in the foregoing act, relative to the employment and impressment of slaves, the provisions of Orders No. 138, of the 24th October 1863, will afford the requisite rules for the guidance of the military bureaux and commanding generals, with modifications hereafter mentioned. 1st. That slaves shall not be impressed when the services of free negroes can be obtained. 2d. Slaves under the age of 18 and above the age of 50 are exempt. 3d. The hire for slaves impressed shall be according to the rates fixed by the appraisers under the act to regulate impressments. 4th. The limitation as to the term for which slaves shall be impressed for service shall be for twelve months, instead of the term fixed by said orders, if the exigency shall require it.

V. All impressments for service in the various military bureaux under this act, will be by special order upon application to the War Department, disclosing the efforts that have been made to provide other labor specified in the act, the necessity for the impressment, and the plan proposed to secure it.

VI. The General commanding the Trans-Mississippi Department will superintend the execution of the law for that department.

By order.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 33. }

I. The Bureau of Conscription will proceed to enroll all persons between the ages of seventeen and eighteen years, and between the ages of forty-five and fifty years, under the 5th section of the Act of Congress to organize forces to serve during the war.

II. Persons liable to enrollment will present themselves to the enrolling officer, in the States east of the Mississippi river, within thirty days from the day when notice shall be given in the district or county by the enrolling officer for persons of this class to appear for enrollment. The failure to comply with this notice will subject the defaulter to a liability to be called into the general service with the class of persons between eighteen and forty-five, unless he shall have a valid excuse therefor, to be judged of by the Bureau of Conscription.

III. Any person liable to enrollment under this act may join any company for local defence which has been formed under General Orders, No. 86, issued 22d of June 1863, for the war, or any other company for local defence which has been accepted into the service, and which, by the terms of its enlistment, is liable to serve any where within the State: or persons of this class may form new companies for local defence and special service, under General Orders, No. 86 (1863), for the war, and select their own officers.

By order.

S. COOPER,
Adjutant and Inspector General.

GENERAL ORDERS; }
No. 34. }

I. The following Act of Congress and orders are published for the information of the army :

An Act to provide an Invalid Corps.

"The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That all officers, non-commissioned officers, musicians, privates and seamen, who have or shall become disabled by wounds or other injuries received, or disease contracted in the service of the Confederate States, and in the line of duty, shall be retired or discharged from their respective positions, as herein after provided. But the rank, pay and emoluments of such officers, and the pay and emoluments of such non-commissioned officers, musicians, privates and seamen shall continue to the end of the war, or as long as they shall continue so retired or discharged.

SEC. 2. That all persons claiming the benefits of this act shall present themselves for examination to one of the medical examining boards now established by law. Upon the certificate of such board that such permanent disability exists, such persons shall be retired or discharged as aforesaid.

SEC. 3. That all persons retired or discharged as aforesaid, shall periodically, and at least once in six months, present themselves to one of said boards for further examination, under regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary of War: the result of which examination shall be reported by such board to the said secretary. And if any such person shall fail so to report himself to such board, whenever he shall be required so to do, he shall be dropped from said retired or discharged list, and become liable to conscription, under the terms of the law, unless such failure shall be caused by physical disability.

SEC. 4. That the Secretary of War may assign such officers, and order the detail of such non-commissioned officers, musicians, privates and seamen for such duty as they shall be qualified to perform. If any such non-commissioned officers, musicians, privates and seamen shall be relieved from disability, they shall be restored to duty in their respective commands.

SEC. 5. That the Secretary of War shall make all needful rules and regulations for the action of the medical boards as aforesaid.

SEC. 6. That vacancies caused by the retirement of officers under this act, shall be filled as in case of the death or resignation of such officers.

SEC. 7. This act shall be in force from its passage.

Approved February 17, 1864."

II. Applications will be made by officers and soldiers who wish to be retired or discharged under this act, through their commanding officers, for authority to appear before one of the medical examining boards now established by law.

Commanding officers will endorse fully the facts connected with the alleged disability, and forward the application to the General commanding, who will return it to the applicant, with his approval, or the reason why it is withheld. The endorsement will be the authority to the board, which will be composed of three medical officers, for the examination of the applicant.

III. If the application be approved by the Commanding General, and the board find the soldier permanently disabled by wounds or other injuries received, or disease contracted in the service, it will retire the soldier, and forward to the Adjutant and Inspector General the original application and certificates: or, if the board find a soldier totally unfit for duty in any department of service, he may, if he prefer it, be discharged upon certificates of disability, under the regulations and usage of the service, as before the enactment of the law providing an invalid corps.

If the application be disapproved, the board may nevertheless proceed with the examination. If they find the applicant permanently disabled, from either of the causes stated in the act, they will not retire him, but forward the original application and their certificate to the Surgeon General, for final action at this office.

IV. A corresponding course will be pursued when the applicants are officers, except that the board will not retire, but forward the certificates, through the Surgeon General, to the Adjutant and Inspector General.

V. If the board examining the officer or soldier find him disabled for service in the field, but fit for duty in some department of service, the duty he can best perform will be indicated in the certificate, which will be forwarded to the Adjutant and Inspector General.

VI. Officers recommended under the act to relieve the army of disqualified, disabled or incompetent officers, approved October 13th, 1862, to be retired, because of wounds or other injuries received, or disease contracted in the service, will receive, upon their written application to the Adjutant and Inspector General, authority to appear before one of the medical examining boards for retiring officers and privates, under the act above recited, approved February 17th, 1864.

VII. Officers or soldiers retired under the provisions of this act, will present themselves once in six months to one of the boards of surgeons indicated in paragraph II of these Orders, for further examination; the result of which will be certified as directed in paragraph III of these Orders. If prevented by physical disability from so presenting himself, the cause of such failure will be established by the certificate of a surgeon of the army, or of a citizen physician and the enrolling officer of the district in which the person may at the time be residing. As soon as the physical disability is removed, the officer or soldier will appear before the board for re-examination.

VIII. Failure to appear periodically, as provided by the preceding paragraph, will be reported by the medical examining board and proper enrolling officer to the Adjutant and Inspector General.

IX. Officers retired under the Act of Congress above recited, are entitled to commutation of quarters and fuel only when assigned to duty (as provided in section 4th of said act), at a station without troops, where public quarters cannot be furnished in kind. They will receive pay from any post quartermaster, upon exhibiting evidence of their retirement from active service, and the certificate of last payment required by paragraph IV, General Orders, No. 28, and paragraph I, General Orders, No. 126 (1863).

X. Soldiers retired from the service, as herein provided, will be furnished with descriptive lists, which, in addition to the usual history given, will exhibit the fact that they have been placed on the retired list, and designate the post at which they will be entitled to receive pay and allowances. They will report to the commandant of such post—which will be nearest their places of residence—and deliver to him their descriptive lists.

XI. Post commanders are required to take possession of descriptive lists of all soldiers reporting to them, and, from the data therein given, at the end of every two months, to prepare muster rolls, upon which these soldiers will receive pay from the post quartermaster or assistant quartermaster. They will append to each roll a certificate that it has been made out in accordance with statements presented in descriptive lists of the soldiers on file in his office.

XII. Officers of the Quartermaster's department will issue necessary clothing to retired soldiers upon requisitions made by the commandants of the posts at which they are stationed, taking their receipts upon receipt rolls, Form No. 53, Regulations for the Quartermaster's department.

XIII. Retired soldiers will have their rations commuted at $1 25 per day, to be paid by the commissary at the post designated, under the orders of the commanding officer.

XIV. When the soldier shall be returned to his command, his disability for field service having been removed, the post commander will note upon his descriptive list the dates to which payment may have been made him, on account of pay and rations commuted, and the articles of clothing issued, and return it to him to be delivered to his company commander; or, if he belongs to the non-commissioned staff, to the adjutant of his regiment or battalion.

XV. The following Forms will be observed:

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 35. }

I. Officers on inspection duty, while traveling under the immediate orders of the War Department, will be allowed their personal expenses (less the commutation value of one ration per day), in lieu of all allowances for fuel, quarters and forage. Each account must be certified by the officer receiving the payment, and will be paid by any quartermaster.

II. Paragraph 166, General Regulations, is not construed to allow certain commanding officers to grant themselves leave. They will not absent themselves from their commands without authority from this office.

III. Paragraph 170, General Regulations, is hereby revoked. Nor will the commander of a post grant leave to an officer without permission first obtained from the General commanding the army or department in which the post may be established.

IV. Commanding Generals, and other commanding officers, are prohibited from detaching officers and ordering them to duty or for assignment in other commands, or beyond the limits of their departments or commands, without previous authority from this office. The transportation allowance of an officer so detached and ordered without previous authority will be charged to the officer giving the order.

V. Until exchanged and reassembled, the officers and men of captured organizations will be temporarily assigned, by the General commanding the department in which the troops have been serving, to depleted organizations in the service, or to such other duty as the Commanding General may direct. To this end, it will be the duty of the officers of the Conscription Bureau, in the several States, to return to the General commanding the department in which the troops have last served, such officers and soldiers as are now or may be hereafter absent from duty on account of the capture of their commands.

VI. Paragraph VI, General Orders, No. 13 (current series), is thus amended:

In making payments to soldiers upon descriptive lists, officers of the quartermaster's department will be careful to endorse thereon the amounts paid, and the time for which they have been paid, returning the same to them for delivery to their company commanders. Disbursing officers will file with receipts given by soldiers thus paid, a certificate in each case that the descriptive list was according to prescribed form, dated and subscribed by the officer commanding the company; that the station of the company was given, and that no money was paid the soldier except that certified by the officer as due from the records of the company.

VII. Under General Orders, No. 142 (1863), the Inspector General of field transportation is charged with impressing and purchasing field transportation for the army. His officers and agents will not be interfered with by either officers or soldiers when engaged in discharging that duty.

VIII. Persons liable to conscription who have joined companies in the local or special service, will be turned over to enrolling officers for assignment to companies in the general service.

IX. The following is published as supplementary to the schedule of average cost of arms, parts of arms, and accoutrements, as set forth in General Orders, No. 158, Adjutant and Inspector General's office, December 3, 1863:

Carbine (breech loading),	-	-	-	$75 00

I. Special attention is directed to the 90th Article of War, and paragraph 877, Army Regulations, requiring the proceedings of General Courts Martial, and Orders respecting the sentences of such courts, to be transmitted, with as much expedition as practicable, to the War Department. The observance of these rules, especially in capital cases and trials affecting the commissions of officers, also of paragraph 871 of the Regulations prescribing the manner of making up and securing the court record, is enjoined upon all concerned.

II. Every Court Martial record, which should be kept distinct and separate in each case, must be endorsed with the name, rank, or description of the party, and the court by which he was tried; to which should be added the action of the reviewing officer, confirming or disapproving the sentence, duly attested by his signature.

I. The attention of Medical Examining Boards is called to paragraph IV, General Orders, No. 34 (current series). Such boards have no power to retire an officer, but will forward the certificate of disability (giving the officer examined a duplicate thereof) and the application, through the Surgeon General, to the Adjutant and Inspector General, that the "certificate of retirement" may be issued from this office. No other certificate of retirement will be respected.

II. Each officer retired under the provisions of the act will, immediately on the receipt of the certificate of retirement, as set forth in the preceding paragraph, or as soon thereafter as practicable, communicate to this office the military station or post office (giving county and state) at which he may be found. Whenever any permanent change is made in his location, he will immediately report such change to this office.

III. The certificate of retirement, as provided in paragraph I, will be numbered and forwarded to the officer so retired, when he is on duty in the field, through the General commanding the army or department, to the regiment or battalion to which the officer may belong. When he is absent from his command, it will be forwarded directly to his address, at the place where he appeared before the Board of Examiners (unless a different direction is requested by the officer) and a notice of the fact will be sent from this office to the Commanding General.

IV. When an officer presents himself for re-examination, in compliance with paragraph VII, General Orders, No. 34, it will be the duty of the board examining to specify on the new medical certificate the number of the certificate of retirement, as issued from this office.

V. Each officer retired under the act, and not assigned to duty, will report by letter to the Adjutant and Inspector General's office monthly, giving his address, as required by paragraph 167, Army Regulations.

I. The second and third paragraphs of General Orders, No. 8, Adjutant and Inspector General's office, series of 1862, are hereby revoked.

II. With a view to facilitate the organization of citizens of Maryland into companies, squadrons, battalions and regiments, in accordance with the act to authorize and provide for the organization of the Maryland Line, published in paragraph I, General Orders, No. 8, above referred to, a camp will be established at Staunton, Virginia, to be called Camp Maryland, and a camp near Hanover Junction, to be called Camp Howard.

III. The troops now under the command of Col. Bradley T. Johnson will, for the present, occupy Camp Howard; and all other Maryland companies, squadrons and battalions will, upon their written application, be detached by commanding generals from their present commands, and ordered to proceed, for the purpose of being organized into regiments, either to Camp Maryland or to Camp Howard, as they may elect.

IV. All persons now in service in other than Maryland companies, who are, or were at the commencement of the war, native or adopted citizens of Maryland, and who desire to join companies from their own state, will, upon their application in writing, with reliable evidence of their citizenship, addressed and sent directly to the commandant of Camp Maryland or to the commandant of Camp Howard, be transferred to the Maryland Line, and, at their option, will either be assigned to Maryland companies now existing; or, provided the number be sufficient, organized into new companies, with the privilege of electing company officers. And persons now in service in Maryland companies, who are citizens of other states, will, upon their request in writing, accompanied by proper evidence of their citizenship, be transferred by commanding generals to any company from their own states, in the army to which they belong.

V. Upon receipt of orders from this office, making transfers in accordance with the preceding paragraph, commanding generals are directed to forward the men so transferred to the camp designated, in charge of commissioned officers; and they will furnish every possible facility for the prompt movement of companies, squadrons and battalions, as directed in the third paragraph of this order.

VI. All native or adopted citizens of Maryland, who are not now in the confederate service, will, upon application to either of the commanders herein mentioned, within the next sixty days, be enlisted into the Maryland Line, and, at their option, assigned to existing Maryland companies, or organized into the new companies herein before provided for.

VII. Major General ELZEY is relieved from the command of the Department of Richmond, and assigned to the command of the Maryland Line. He will, for the present, take immediate command of Camp Maryland. Col. BRADLEY T. JOHNSON will assume command of Camp Howard. They will at once proceed to carry out the purpose of these orders.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 39. }

The following Act of Congress is published for the information of those interested:

An Act to authorize the impressment of Meat for the use of the Army, under certain circumstances.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That whenever the President shall declare that the public exigencies render it necessary, impressments of meat, for the use of the army, may be made from any supplies that may exist in the country, under the express condition that just compensation shall be afforded to the owner of the meat taken or impressed, and subjected to the following restrictions and limitations:

SEC. 2. The power to direct such impressment shall be conferred upon the Secretary of War; but he shall not reduce the supplies of any person below one-half of the quantity usually allowed for the support of himself, his family and dependents for the year. He shall exercise the said power by orders directed to the officers or agents he may employ, who shall have explicit instructions as to the mode of its execution, and injunctions that the same shall not be abused.

SEC. 3. That these orders shall direct that a notice shall be given to the owner of the meat needed, his bailee or other agent, declaring the quantity required, the price offered, the existence of a necessity, and whether possession is to be taken of the same immediately, and with whom the risk of the safe-keeping is to be pending the negotiation, and in what manner the compensation shall be settled in case the offer is not accepted—service of which notice shall be a condition precedent to any impressment or seizure by the impressing officer.

SEC. 4. That upon the service of this notice upon the owner of any meat liable to impressment, the owner shall hold the same, subject to the claim of the Confederate States, and shall be entitled to just compensation, according to the provisions of this act; and if the necessity is declared by the impressing officer to be urgent, he shall deliver the possession to the impressing officer upon his demand, who shall give a receipt therefor, as provided in the sixth section of this act.

SEC. 5. That for the ascertainment of the quantity of meat liable to impressment under this act, and also of just compensation for the same, where the owner and the impressing officer cannot agree, the impressing officer shall appoint one loyal and disinterested citizen of the county, district or parish, in which the meat impressed shall be at the time of impressment; and the owner of the meat so impressed, his agent or other bailee, shall appoint another, who shall, upon oath, ascertain the quantity liable to impressment, and the value of the same at the date of the notice served upon the party, which oath may be administered by the impressing officer, and which ascertainment of the quantity and value shall be conclusive evidence thereof; and if the assessors cannot agree, they may associate with them a third person, of like qualifications, to make said assessments.

SEC. 6. That whenever an impressment shall be made under this act, it shall be the duty of the impressing officer to give an official certificate, showing the quantity taken, the company, battalion, regiment or other command, for whose use it is required, the compensation to be paid, the circumstances of necessity that existed, which certificate shall be evidence of a claim against the Confederate States, and shall be promptly paid by the disbursing officer of the command for which the meat was taken, or by the chief of the bureau having charge of disbursements for similar objects. [Approved February 17, 1864.]

I. The necessity for the impressment of meat under the above act having arisen, in the opinion of the President, these regulations for the exercise of the power of impressment are made, under the authority of the preceding Act of Congress, by the Secretary of War.

II. The power to make impressment under this act is conferred upon the commanding generals of departments, and of armies in the field, to be exercised by officers specially designated by them for that purpose, and also upon the Chief of the Subsistence Department, and such officers of his bureau as he may select.

III. When any impressment of meat is required, the impressing officer will require a statement of the supplies on hand, the number of persons to be provided for, the length of time for which the provision is made, and will, thereupon, if he shall conclude that there is a cause for impressment, proceed to give the notice required by the 3d section of this act.

IV. The officer making the impressments will in all cases commence by giving a written or printed notice, which shall express all the particulars contained in the section aforesaid, and he will take care not to impress more of the supplies of any owner than the Act of Congress permits.

V. If any question should arise as to the quantity of the meat in possession of the owner, or whether a reasonable allowance has been made under the conditions of this act, or in reference to the rate of compensation to be paid, the difference will be settled, according to the 5th section of the act. The decisions of the arbitrators appointed under this section, will be conclusive upon both the impressing officer and the owner, and the settlement will be made according to the award.

VI. A report of all impressments under this act, whether by officers in the field or by officers of the Subsistence Department, will be made to the Chief of the Bureau of Subsistence, by the officer making it.

VII. The attention of officers in the field who may be required to make impressments under this act, is particularly directed to the conditions of the 6th section, and they are specially directed to conform in all cases to the same. Any deviation from this order will subject the officers concerned to punishment.

VIII. No impressment under this or any other order shall be made of milch cows, or of the breeding stock of any farm or plantation.

By order.

I. The enlistment of deserters is a serious evil in the service. The attention of the army is therefore directed to the 22d Article of War, which provides, that "no non-commissioned officer or soldier shall enlist himself in any other regiment, troop or company, without a regular discharge from the regiment, troop or company in which he last served, on the penalty of being reported a deserter, and suffering accordingly: and in case any officer shall knowingly receive and entertain such non-commissioned officer or soldier, or shall not, after his being discovered to be a deserter, immediately confine him, and give notice thereof to the corps in which he last served, the said officer shall by a court martial be cashiered."

II. A strict observance of this law, and the arrest and trial of all who violate its injunctions, are required.

By order.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Richmond, April 14, 1864.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 42. }

I. At the end of each month, Monthly Inspection Reports, in accordance with forms last furnished, will be forwarded to this office from the head quarters of the different Confederate States armies. These reports to embrace all troops, of all arms, serving with each army. The cover of all documents relating to inspection duties, will be marked on the upper left hand corner, "Inspecting Department."

II. To secure more full and complete information to this department, army inspectors will forward, with their own reports, those of corps, division and brigade inspectors, endorsing the latter with such remarks as will indicate changes which have occurred since previous reports, or give a more clear and full idea of the condition of the army, and the relative efficiency of its different organizations and their commanders.

III. Thorough inspections, under arms, of all troops of the armies, will be made by the inspectors of the different commands with which they are respectively serving, as follows: tri-monthly, of brigades, semi-monthly, of divisions, and monthly, of corps. Inspectors at army head quarters will inspect monthly, so much of the army as their other duties will permit, stating in their reports the extent of such personal inspections. To avoid harassing the troops by too frequent inspections, the ranking inspectors will inspect, when practicable, at the same time with the subordinate inspectors, and at the stated periods of their inspections. At all inspections the ranking inspector will be accompanied and assisted by his subordinates of the commands inspected. For example, the corps inspector, by the inspectors of the division and of the brigade to be inspected.

IV. The requisite inspection blanks will be furnished from this office upon timely requisitions, the receipt of which will be acknowledged by army inspectors, who will look to their proper distribution.

V. The commander of each army will have a report of all inspectors serving with it forwarded to this office, giving their names in full, their rank, and the command with which they are serving.

VI. The following is substituted for paragraph V, General Orders, No. 35, current series, which is hereby revoked: officers of the Conscription Bureau will send to the General commanding the army or department in which the commands captured last served, such officers and men belonging to them as have themselves escaped capture. The General commanding will assign them temporarily to depleted organizations, or such other duty as he may direct.

VII. Paragraph II, General Orders, No. 86 (1863), is modified to this extent: the minimum number prescribed by law for a company of infantry is 64 privates; for a company of cavalry, 60 privates.

VIII. Soldiers over the age of 45 years will be discharged from service in the army, at the expiration of their present term of enlistment. Those under 18 years will also be discharged in like manner when the enlistment expires, unless they are at that time liable to conscription.

IX. Paragraph IV, General Orders, No. 34, and paragraph I, General Orders, No. 37 (1864), are thus modified: Medical Examining Boards will forward the original applications of officers (who desire to be retired under the Act to provide an Invalid Corps), and their certificates to the General commanding the army or department to which the officers belong. The General commanding will forward them, with an endorsement of his opinion in each case, through the Surgeon General, to the A. and I. General. Certificates of retirement of officers will be issued only from this office.

X. All authorities heretofore given to raise troops or to recruit for any particular command, are hereby revoked.

XI. The Ordnance Depot at Savannah (heretofore regarded as a field depot, and under the command of the district commander); having assumed the proportions of an arsenal, will hereafter be designated as the "Savannah Arsenal," and like other arsenals, will be subject to the supervision of the Chief of Ordnance, Richmond, to whom its commanding officer will report directly.

XII. Officers to whom soldiers on detached or detailed duty report, will take possession of their descriptive lists, and, in accordance with instructions thereon given, will prepare and certify to the muster rolls, upon which they receive the pay due them. Payments will be made such soldiers, when in the field, at the end of every two months; when at posts, at the end of each month. Upon these rolls annual settlements of clothing accounts may be made with soldiers on detailed duty at posts.

XIII. To prevent their detention on their way home, soldiers, leaving the army on furlough of indulgence will, instead of being furnished with descriptive lists, be paid at their commands to the close of the month preceding the dates of their furloughs, upon detached rolls, signed by their company commanders.

XIV. Sick or wounded men sent to hospitals will be paid as heretofore, upon hospital muster and pay rolls. Those who, on account of wounds or ill health, are permitted to go to their homes, may be paid upon descriptive lists, by the nearest quartermaster or assistant quartermaster.

XV. When soldiers are ordered to rejoin their commands, officers with whom they have been on duty, surgeons in charge of hospitals of which they have been inmates, and quartermasters and assistant quartermasters paying those sick and wounded at home, will (after carefully noting upon their descriptive lists payments made to them) return such soldiers their descriptive lists, to be delivered to their company commander, and will also transmit, through the General commanding the army to which they belong, duplicates of the same to the latter.

XVI. The following Acts of Congress are published for the information of the army:

An Act to provide Compensation for Officers who may heretofore have performed Staff Duty under Orders of their Superior Officers.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That when any officer or private of any legally constituted military organization may have heretofore, by order of his proper superior officer, performed any staff duty appropriate to such command, he shall be entitled to receive pay for the time he was so engaged in the discharge of such duties: provided, that there was not then present fit for duty, any officer duly appointed for the discharge of the same. [Approved February 11th, 1864.]

An Act to provide Tobacco for the Army.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That there shall be furnished to every enlisted man in the service of the Confederate States one ration of tobacco, under such regulations as the Secretary of War may establish. [Approved February 17th, 1864.]

XVII. The Commissary Department will carry out the provisions of the above act, in providing and issuing tobacco to enlisted men. The ration is fixed at three-quarters of a pound per month.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 43. }

I. By the provisions of an Act of Congress entitled "an act to impose regulations upon the foreign commerce of the Confederate States to provide for the common defence," approved 17th February 1864, the exportation of cotton, tobacco, military and naval stores, sugar, molasses and rice from the Confederate States, except under such uniform regulations as might be made by the President, was prohibited; and the President was authorized to employ any portion of the military and naval forces of the Confederacy in order to prevent the departure of any vessels or vehicles that might be employed in carrying on a commerce in these articles contrary to law.

II. The Commanding Generals of departments and districts will issue orders and instructions to their officers that whenever it shall reasonably appear that any vessel or vehicle has been laden, in whole or in part, with any of the said articles for exportation or conveyance beyond the limits of the Confederacy, or to any place within the Confederacy not under the control of their civil or military authorities; and whenever there is reason to believe that any of the articles aforesaid have been so laden, or have been collected at any place of deposit with a view to exportation or conveyance beyond the limits or lines aforesaid, to seize and detain the same, with the vehicles, teams and slaves employed, that investigation may be had according to the conditions of the act aforesaid and these orders, unless the owner or his agent or bailee has a permit from a collector of the revenue, or from an officer of this department, who may be authorized to grant such licenses.

III. The conditions upon which the trade by sea or over land to Mexico can be carried on have been determined by the regulations of the President, and any exportation or attempt to export any of the articles aforesaid contrary to those regulations will authorize the detention of the vessel or other instruments of transport.

IV. When a deposit of the prohibited articles is made at a point from which easy access to the lines of the enemy can be obtained, or are on a vehicle apparently on the way to their lines, or in the vicinity thereof, or when the owner is not a permanent resident of the place where the articles are found and from which they can easily be transported beyond the lines, or is a suspicious person, detention of the articles and vehicles, for enquiry, will be made.

V. All vehicles, animals, slaves, or other means of transportation, and all cotton or other articles that may be seized, whether by the officers of the revenue or by military authorities, for any violation of law or of these regulations, shall be, without any waste, spoliation, impressment, or injury of any kind, forthwith conveyed and delivered to the nearest marshal or deputy marshal of the Confederate States, and a detailed receipt taken from him setting forth a full description of the property seized and delivered to him for safe custody. And it shall be the duty of said marshal or deputy marshal to keep the property so surrendered in safe custody until the further order of the judge or a commissioner of a district court of the Confederate States having jurisdiction of the subject matter; and the said marshal or deputy marshal shall forthwith, upon the receipt by him of the property seized, give information to the collector of the district or to the district attorney, or to both, if practicable, of all the facts in relation to the seizure of the property and its delivery to him for safe keeping.

VI. No military authority shall presume, under any circumstances, to seize property while being carried under the provisions of the law, and of these regulations, for any other cause than a violation of said provisions; nor, in case of seizure, to dispose of the property seized in any other manner than that prescribed in the foregoing regulation. But in case where there is great risk of the property falling into the hands of the enemy, it shall be competent for the proper military authorities to require the licensed carrier to suspend his trip till the danger be passed, or to pursue a different route from that originally designated, or even, in cases of imminent danger, to abandon the trip.

VII. Information will be given from time to time from this department to the Commanding Generals, of the conditions on which transportation by land be made.

By order.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 44. }

I. The number of general staff officers, and the grade of each, allowed to the several commands in the field, are established as follows:

1. To an army composed of two or more corps—A senior assistant adjutant and inspector general, and an assistant adjutant and inspector general, not to exceed the grade of colonel, each of whom may have two assistant adjutant and inspector generals—one not to exceed the grade of lieutenant colonel, and the other of major. One of the assistants to the senior assistant adjutant and inspector general, selected with a view to his special qualifications for the duty, will be charged with the examination of court martial records. A surgeon as medical director, who may be assisted by one other surgeon. A surgeon as medical inspector.

2. To an army corps—A senior assistant adjutant and inspector general, and an assistant adjutant and inspector general, not to exceed the grade of lieutenant colonel, each of whom may have one assistant adjutant and inspector general, not to exceed the grade of major. A surgeon as medical director and inspector.

3. To a division—A senior assistant adjutant and inspector general, and an assistant adjutant and inspector general, not to exceed the grade of major. A surgeon as chief surgeon and inspector, who will also have charge of the field infirmary.

4. To a brigade—An assistant adjutant and inspector general, of the grade of captain. A brigade quartermaster, and a brigade commissary, each of the grade of major, as now authorized by law. The senior surgeon will act as brigade surgeon and inspector. He will also have charge of the field infirmary, and perform at the same time his duties as regimental surgeon.

5. Each general officer will have the aids de camp allowed by law—one for a brigadier general and two for all other general officers.

6. Cavalry divisions and brigades may each have an assistant adjutant and inspector general, not to exceed the grade of major, in addition to the number allowed infantry divisions and brigades.

II. Senior assistant adjutant and inspector generals and assistant adjutant and inspector generals may be required to alternate their duties.

III. The number and grade of the preceding general staff officers attached to the head quarters of a military department, will be assimilated, according to the above scale, to the number of troops constituting the military force in the department. Special assignments, in addition, may be made by the War Department, when the extent of country and nature and scope of duties may require it.

IV. The assistant adjutant and inspector generals will not be of higher grade than is herein designated. Should the General prefer an officer having a lower grade, he may be assigned to duty with the command.

V. General officers will report to the Adjutant and Inspector General all officers of the several staff departments, now serving in their respective commands, and will at the same time recommend for reassignment such as may be required under the provisions of this order.

VI. All assignments of general staff officers will be made by order from this office, and they will not be changed except by like authority.

VII. Commands will not be allowed a greater number of staff officers than is herein established; nor will officers of the line be assigned to staff duty without special authority. Should it be deemed insufficient for the transmission of orders on the battle field, couriers and guides (authorized in General Orders, No. 17, last series) will be employed by general officers, who will announce them in orders as persons accredited to convey their instructions and other communications.

VIII. Vacancies will be filled by selection from the officers of the department in which they occur.

IX. These Orders being confined to the general staff proper, the organization of the other departments will not be affected by them.

X. Promotions in the general staff of the army will be by selection and not by seniority, except in cases of known competency for higher grade.

By order.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 45. }

I. To prevent straggling in the army, commanding officers, upon the receipt of orders to move from one command to another, will forward to the General commanding, to whom he is ordered to report, a Field Return, which will exhibit the present strength of their commands. When their destination is reached, a like return will be made to the same commander, upon which the number and names of the absentees and the cause of their absence will be stated. Similar returns will be forwarded to the Adjutant and Inspector General. Officers will be held strictly accountable by Commanding Generals for any straggling that may occur with their troops.

II. Special attention is called to the appropriation, by impressment, of horses for cavalry service. It is without warrant of law, and will not be allowed under any circumstances whatever. Commanding Generals and Inspecting Officers will promptly report to this office any violation of this order.

III. Prisoners captured south of Richmond will be sent direct to Andersonville, Sumter county, Georgia.

IV. Special agents, to make purchases or secure shipment of supplies, will not be sent to any foreign port, except in cases of most urgent necessity, of which necessity report will be made immediately to the Secretary of War. All purchases will be made by agents, under orders from the Secretary of War; or by officers charged with the export and importation of cotton and purchase of foreign supplies; or by officers or agents acting under express authority from the General commanding the Trans-Mississippi Department.

V. All horses impressed by the government, sold or in any manner assigned to officers, will be immediately restored to the Quartermaster's Department, to be appropriated to the public service, as contemplated by law. Such sales and assignments by order of a Commanding General are prohibited, and will not be sanctioned.

VI. Every officer hereafter appearing in behalf of a prisoner on trial before a military court or court martial, will do so only upon the condition and understanding that he is under a pledge of honor that he has not and will not receive compensation therefor.

VII. The Bureau of Conscription will proceed at once to organize into companies, and cause to be mustered into service, the reserve forces in the several States, enrolled in pursuance of General Orders, No. 33, Adjutant and Inspector General's office, current series. For this purpose, district enrolling officers are authorized to act as mustering and inspecting officers. They will superintend the election of company officers, and forward the muster rolls, certified by them, with the certificates of election, to the Commandant of Conscripts for the State in which such companies may be organized, to be by him turned over to the General commanding the reserve forces.

VIII. Upon receiving the muster rolls, the General commanding the reserve forces will issue orders placing in commission and upon duty the officers named in the certificates, if competent; and reserving copies, will forward the original rolls, with certified copies of their orders enclosed, to this bureau for file. If there be reason to doubt the competency of an officer elect, his qualifications and fitness for commission will be enquired into and reported upon by a board to be convened by the General commanding, in accordance with General Orders, No. 39, Adjutant and Inspector General's office, series of 1862.

IX. Each company of infantry must consist of at least sixty-four privates; of cavalry, sixty privates; of artillery, eighty-four privates. The muster into service of new companies in the reserve forces, having a less number of privates, is positively prohibited.

X. Paragraph XVII, General Orders, No. 42 (current series), is thus amended:

The tobacco ration issued to enlisted men will be one pound per month.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 46. }

I. At a General Court Martial, convened by Special Orders, No. 21, current series, Adjutant and Inspector General's office, was arraigned and tried:

Major General L. McLaws, P. A. C. S., on the following Charge and Specifications:

CHARGE—Neglect of duty, to the prejudice of good order and military discipline.

Specification 1st—In this, that Major General L. McLaws, being in command of a division of the confederate forces near Knoxville, Tennessee, and being ordered by his commanding officer, Lieutenant General J. Longstreet, to advance his line of sharpshooters, at dark on the night of the 28th of November, to within good rifle range of the enemy's works, so as to give his sharpshooters play upon the enemy behind his works, it being part of a plan of attack, that the sharpshooters should engage the enemy behind his works along our entire line, whilst an assault was made upon one of the enemy's forts, did fail to arrange his line of sharpshooters so as to meet this view, and did allow a portion of the rifle pits to be sunk under a hill, entirely out of view of the fort aforesaid, thus failing to give his assaulting columns the protection of the fire of his sharpshooters at this point during their advance and attack.

Specification 2d—In this, that the aforesaid Major General L. McLaws, being ordered by his commanding officer, Lieutenant General Longstreet, to arrange assaulting columns of three of his brigades, and to attack the enemy's fort at the northwest angle of his works, at dawn of day on the 20th of November, did fail to organize a select body of men to lead in the assault, as is customary in such attacks, and did allow his three brigades to advance to the attack, without definite and specific instructions for the leading columns, and for the troops to enter the fort, which are essential to success in such attacks.

Specification 3d—In this, that the aforesaid Major General L. McLaws, being ordered to assault the enemy's position at the northwest angle of his works, at daylight on the 29th of November, did make his attack upon a point where the ditch was impassable, and did fail to provide any of his assaulting columns with ladders or other means of entering the enemy's works, and did fail to inform his officers that the ditch on the west side of the fort was but a slight obstacle to his infantry, and that the fort could be entered from that side with but little delay—thus failing, in the details of his attack, to make the arrangements essential to success. All this near Knoxville, Tennessee, on or about the 28th and 29th days of November 1863.

II. FINDINGS AND SENTENCE OF THE COURT.

After mature deliberation, the Court find the accused, Major General L. McLaws, P. A. C. S., as follows:

Of the 1st Specification, Not Guilty, as, though one part of the line of rifle pits was out of view of the fort, yet the order requiring the line of sharpshooters to be advanced so as to give the assaulting columns the protection of their fire, was substantially complied with.

Of the 2d Specification, Not Guilty, though no select bodies of men were organized to lead in the assault, yet organizations already existing were selected for that purpose.

Of the 3d Specification, Guilty of so much of the third specification as relates to his not providing means of crossing the ditch, and in this, of failing, in the details of his attack, to make the arrangements essential to his success.

Of the Charge, Guilty.

And the Court do therefore sentence the accused, the said Major General L. McLaws, to be suspended from rank and command for sixty days.

It is the opinion of the Court that there are many circumstances shown by the evidence, which exonerates Major General L. McLaws from any high degree of criminality in his failure to provide the ordinary means of crossing the ditch. He had many reasons for considering it a slight one, and was encouraged in this belief by the opinion of those officers in the army whose opinions should have had the most weight with him. The Court acquit Major General McLaws of any deliberate purpose to fail in any duty devolved upon him; but it is their opinion that his only fault was in failing to appreciate the full weight, and they may say the almost fearful extent of the responsibility resting upon him as the director of an assaulting column.

II. The Court was convened by order of the War Department. From the record it appears that the Court adjourned on the 13th February 1864, at Morristown, to meet at New Market on the 15th of the same month; and on the same day, in accordance with the suggestion of Lieutenant General Longstreet, reassembled, and in the absence of two members of the Court who had voted at the previous session, and of the accused, adjourned indefinitely. The record further shows that, after the Court had been organized, a leave of absence was granted for 30 days, by Lieutenant General Longstreet, to Brigadier General Humphries, a member of the Court, under the direct orders of the War Department, and an important witness. Without reference to the merits of the case, these irregularities are fatal to the record.

III. The finding of the Court, upon the third specification, is not sustained by the evidence. The witnesses attest the fact that the ditch at the northwest angle of the fort, where the attack was made, was not more than $4\frac{1}{2}$ feet deep by 8 to 10 feet wide, and that there was no necessity for artificial means to cross it. There could not, therefore, be guilt in having failed to provide such means. Moreover, the finding is defective in not responding to the material allegation in the specification, that the accused "failed to inform his officers that the ditch on the west side of the fort was but little obstacle to his infantry, and that the fort could be easily entered from that side, with but little delay." The Court should have taken cognizance of this allegation, and found upon it either for or against the accused. The finding was easy to be determined, since it appears from the evidence that the ditch on the west side was "12 to 15 feet deep." There cannot be guilt in having omitted to make statements which would not have been true. The allegation in the third specification that the accused "failed, in the details of attack, to make arrangements essential to success," was evidently introduced as a conclusion to previous allegations, and was not issuable in itself. The Court erred in finding upon it, and moreover, the finding is not sustained by the evidence.

IV. The proceedings, finding and sentence of the Court are disapproved. Major General McLaws will at once return to duty with his command.

V. The Court Martial, of which Major General S. B. Buckner is President, is hereby dissolved.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR GENERAL'S OFFICE.
Richmond, May 6, 1864.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 47. }

I. The following schedules of prices for articles named therein, adopted by commissioners appointed pursuant to law, for the State of Virginia, are announced for the information of all concerned; and the special attention of officers and agents of the government is directed thereto:

RICHMOND, VA., May 4, 1864.

Hon. James A. Seddon:

SIR:

In reviewing the schedules of prices for May and June, we invited the co-operation and aid of Mr. Wm. B. Harrison, and it is just to add that the schedules received the unanimous approval of the commissioners.

We respectfully offer the accompanying schedules A and B, with the understanding that the prices are to remain for the months of May and June, unless in the interval it should be deemed necessary to modify them.

The following prices are to be the maximum rates to be paid for the articles impressed, in all cities and usual places of sale, and when impressed on the farms or elsewhere, the same prices are to be paid.

Under existing circumstances, we have deemed it not only just, but most likely to favor increased production, that producers in future should not be required to transport their surplus productions when impressed, but that the agents of the government should employ or impress the neighborhood or county wagons and teams to haul all such articles, and so divide the work between the owners of wagons and teams, as to be least prejudicial to those successfully engaged in agriculture.

In assessing the average value of first class artillery and wagon horses and mules at $500, we designed that the term should be accepted and acted upon according to its obvious common sense import. In other words, that they should be selected, and then impressed accordingly as their working qualities and adaptation to army service, together with their intrinsic value, would warrant a judicious purchaser in considering them as coming within the contemplation of the commissioners when they assessed the average value of such horses as the government needed, at $500. But cases might arise, however, when the public exigencies would be so urgent as to demand that all horses at hand should be impressed. Yet under ordinary circumstances, when family or extra blooded horses, or brood mares of admitted high value are impressed, we respectfully suggest to the Secretary of War to have instructions forwarded to the impressing officers to propose and allow the owners to substitute in their stead such strong, sound and serviceable horses or mules as shall be considered and valued by competent and disinterested parties as first class artillery horses, or first class wagon mules.

The term average value per head is in contradistinction to a fixed and uniform price for each horse or mule. We supposed that in impressing a number of horses or mules, whether owned by several persons, or one individual, that some might be estimated at $300, and others at different advanced rates, according to their worth, up as high as $700—thus making an average value or price for a number of good, sound and efficient horses or mules, $500 each.

In illustration of our views, we will add, that a horse with only one eye sound, might, in all other respects, be classed as a first class artillery horse, yet the loss of one eye would justly and considerably curtail his value. So a horse from 10 to 18 years of age might be deemed in all other particulars as a first class artillery horse, but of course, however efficient or able to render good service for a year or so, yet his advanced age would justly and materially impair his value. Any horse, however he may approximate the standard of a first class artillery horse, must, according to deficiencies, fall below the maximum price; and as few comparatively come up to the standard, and therefore are entitled to the maximum price, so of course in all other instances the price should be proportionately reduced, as imperfections place them below the standard of first class, &c.

Upon farther consideration, we have concluded to value sheaf oats, hay and blade fodder, east of the Blue Ridge mountains, when baled, at $5 40 per 100 pounds, and unbaled at $4 50 per 100 pounds, and shucks baled at $3 90 per 100 pounds, and $3 unbaled.

REVISION OF THE SCHEDULE OF FEBRUARY AND MARCH LAST.

Since the adoption of our last schedules for the months of February and March, the financial bills passed by Congress, taxing the currency, have seriously impaired the value of the old issues of Confederate Treasury notes. At this juncture large numbers of horses and mules were impressed and paid for in a currency which was in a few days thereafter to be taxed thirty-three and one-third per cent.

The board of State commissioners having adjourned, and one of its members being out of the State, it could not be convened in time to review our schedules of prices. Under this state of facts, we have re-examined and rearranged our tariff of prices, so far as we have been advised of recent impressments, proposing, in this mode, to remedy any diminution of valuation which may have resulted from the action of Congress upon the currency. Therefore, we assess the average value of artillery or wagon horses or mules, impressed since the passage of the currency bill of the 17th February last, at $600. This award will entitle each person to receive higher compensation, accordingly as each horse or mule recently impressed may be considered as being a first, second or third class artillery or wagon horse or mule, whether the parties appeal to our board or not; and the impressing agents and officers should forthwith call on all of those persons of whom they impressed horses or mules, and propose a settlement upon the foregoing basis, but allowing to each person only such prices as first, second and third class artillery or wagon horses or mules may be estimated at, assuming our average appraisement of $600 as a fair medium valuation. This, then, would allow a maximum price of $800, and a minimum price of $400, making $600 the average price—thus allowing more for first class horses or mules, and proportionately less for the inferior, as they may fall below the grade of first class. Payment of whatever amount may be awarded to be made in the old issue of treasury notes as circulated before the 1st of April, or else in the new issue, but with a deduction in such cases of thirty-three and one-third per cent. from the additional sum allowed in each case.

WM. B. HARRISON,
Commissioners for Va.

Adjutant and Inspector General.

All appeals and communications for the Board of Commissioners, should be addressed to D. Saunders Chilton, Secretary of the Board of Commissioners of the State of Virginia, Richmond, Va.

Richmond, May 27, 1864.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 48. }

I. The receipts of bonded quartermasters and commissaries and of agents of tax service are the only receipts valid to a producer for his tithe tax. All others are worthless, and unjust impositions on the tax payer. It is strictly forbidden that any other persons than those above named shall give receipts for the tithe.

II. In all cases of collections of tithes by officers of the quartermaster and commissary departments in the field, receipts will be given monthly to the district quartermaster on tax duty. Such receipts must state the name and county of the producer.

III. Quartermasters and commissaries who have means of transportation, and all such officers collecting supplies, will give special attention to the removal of the tax in kind from interior depots to rail road stations and to the supply storehouses of the army,

IV. Officers with troops are prohibited from forcibly taking possession of the tax depots or appropriating the tithe. If they need supplies, requisition therefor will be made upon the tax officer or agent.

V. Paragraph II, General Orders, No. 107 (1863), is amended to provide, that if conscripts accepted for field duty, and sent to camps of instruction, are, upon medical examination, found disqualified for field service, but capable of performing duties named in section 8 of the "act to organize forces to serve during the war," approved February 17, 1864, certificates setting forth the ground of disability, and stating the appropriate duties in any of the departments of service for which they are best fitted, will be forwarded, through the Bureau of Conscription, to the Surgeon General for approval, and returned to the Superintendent of Conscription, for final action.

VI. Paragraph II, General Orders, No. 6, current series, is amended as follows:

The decision of this Board, if approved by the brigade or district commander, will be final. If not approved, it will be forwarded, "disapproved," to the division or department head quarters for final action, when it will be the duty of the brigade or district ordnance officer to notify the company commander, as required in the paragraph to which this is amendatory.

VII. Officers of the Quartermaster's Department will return to the quartermaster from whom grain is received, the sacks in which it is contained. Failing to do so, they will be charged one dollar and ninety cents for each sack not returned.

VIII. Post commanders will inspect the offices of such officers as are prohibited from employing able-bodied men in their departments or bureaux; and in cases of violation of the law, take the action required by the department and district commander, in section 9, act of February 17, 1864 (General Orders, No. 26, current series).

IX. The attention of post commanders is called to the 19th Article of War. The monthly returns therein required will be made directly to this office. The name and rank of every officer at the post, and how and by what authority each is employed, will be reported in addition to the other information called for by the printed notes on the forms. Blanks will be furnished from this office, upon requisition of commanders.

By order.

S. COOPER,
Adjutant and Inspector General.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 50. }

The following Order is published for the information of all concerned:

CONFEDERATE STATES OF AMERICA,
War Department, Richmond, June 6, 1864.

EXCHANGE NOTICE, No. 10.

The following notice is based upon a recent declaration of exchange made by the federal authorities, bearing date May 7th, 1864, and is supported by valid federal paroles on file in my office:

SEC. 1. All confederate officers and men who have been delivered at City Point, Virginia, previous to the 1st of June 1864, are hereby declared to be exchanged.

SEC. 2. All confederate officers and men, and all civilians who have been captured at any place, and released on parole prior to May 7th, 1864, are hereby declared to be exchanged. This section, however, is not intended to include any officers or men captured at Vicksburg July 4th, 1863, except such as were declared exchanged by Exchange Notices, numbered six, seven and eight.

RO. OULD,
Agent of Exchange.

By order.

S. COOPER,
Adjutant and Inspector General.

An Act to amend the Act approved February 17, 1864, entitled an Act to allow Commissioned Officers of the Army Rations, and the privilege of purchasing Clothing from the Quartermaster's Department.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That all commissioned officers in the army and navy shall be entitled to one ration, and all commissioned officers in the field and afloat, in addition thereto, shall be allowed to purchase from any commissary, or other officer required to issue subsistence to soldiers, marines or seamen, at the prime cost thereof, including transportation, as follows : One ration each for officers of and below the rank of colonel ; two rations each for officers of the rank of brigadier general, major general and lieutenant general ; and three rations each for a general ; one ration each for commissioned officers of the navy, of and below the rank of commander ; and two rations each for officers above that rank.

SEC. 2. That an officer shall not draw or purchase, at any time, more of the component part of a ration than is issued to the private soldier at the same time.

SEC. 3. That nothing contained in this act, or the act to which this is an amendment, shall be construed as allowing commutation for rations, or as authorizing an officer to receive or purchase rations, except when he requires them for his own use.

SEC. 4. That this act shall continue in force only during the war. [Approved June 7th, 1864.]

II. An Act to provide Transportation in kind, in certain cases, to Members and Delegates in Congress.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That whenever the usually traveled routes between the houses of members of Congress and the capital are interfered with by the enemy, it shall be the duty of military commanders to facilitate the passage of members and delegates going to or returning from Congress, by furnishing transportation in kind for any distance over which they may state in writing they cannot provide themselves with transportation; and such written application, endorsed "furnished" by the party receiving the transportation, shall be accepted as a sufficient voucher for the expenditure of the officer in furnishing the same. [Approved June 8th, 1864.]

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 53. }

I. The following Acts of Congress are published for the information of the army:

An Act to authorize the appointment of Commissaries for Regiments of Cavalry.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That from and after the passage of this act, there shall be allowed to each regiment of cavalry in the army of the Confederate States one commissary, with the same rank, pay and allowances as are now allowed by law to the quartermaster of such regiment. [Approved May 23, 1864.]

An Act to amend an Act entitled an Act creating the Office of Ensign in the Army of the Confederate States.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the above cited act be and the same is hereby amended so as to allow the appointment of an ensign to each battalion of infantry.

SEC. 2. That the said act and this amendment thereto shall be understood and construed to apply only to the provisional army of the Confederate States. [Approved May 31, 1864.]

[3.]

An Act to furnish Transportation to Officers of the Army and Navy while traveling under orders.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the officers of the army and navy, while traveling under orders of the War or Navy Department, shall be allowed transportation in kind for themselves and their personal baggage, and ten dollars per day for expenses while necessarily traveling in the execution of their orders. [Approved June 4, 1864.]

[4.]

An Act to provide for the appointment of additional Military Storekeepers in the Provisional Army of the Confederate States.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the President be authorized to appoint ten military storekeepers of ordnance in the provisional army of the Confederate States, in addition to those authorized by act of May first, eighteen hundred and sixty-three, entitled an act to provide for the appointment of military storekeepers in the provisional army of the Confederate States: five with the pay and allowances of a captain of infantry, and five with the pay and allowances of a first lieutenant of infantry.

SEC. 2. That military storekeepers of the first class, so appointed, shall be required to give the usual bonds in the sum of twenty thousand dollars, and those of the second class, in the sum of ten thousand dollars. This act shall be in force from and after its passage: provided, that no one shall be appointed under its provisions, except persons who were performing the duties of acting military storekeepers prior to January first, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, or have become incapacitated by wounds or sickness for active service. [Approved June 4, 1864.]

An Act to increase the Compensation of the Non-Commissioned Officers and Privates of the Army of the Confederate States.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That from and after the passage of this act, the pay of the non-commissioned officers, privates and musicians of the army of the Confederate States be and the same is hereby increased seven dollars per month for the period of one year from the passage of this act. [Approved June 9, 1864.]

An Act to amend an Act entitled an Act to establish a Nitre and Mining Bureau, approved April twenty-second, eighteen hundred and sixty-three.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the act approved April twenty-second, eighteen hundred and sixty-three, constituting the Nitre and Mining Bureau an independent Bureau of the War Department, be amended as follows: That the Nitre and Mining Bureau shall consist of one colonel as chief of bureau, two lieutenant colonels, six majors, twelve captains, who shall have the same pay and allowances prescribed for officers of cavalry of the same grade.

SEC. 2. Be it further enacted, that chemists and professional assistants, absolutely essential for the operations of the bureau, not to exceed six of each class, shall be appointed by the Secretary of War, with pay in no case to be above that of lieutenant colonel of the commissioned corps.

SEC. 3. That this act shall continue in force only during the present war. [Approved June 9, 1864.]

An Act for the payment of Commissioners appointed under the act entitled an Act to suspend the privilege of the Writ of Habeas Corpus in certain cases, and to confer certain powers upon said Commissioners.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the commissioners appointed under the said act shall be entitled to receive the compensation of two hundred and fifty dollars each per month from the date of their respective appointments until the expiration of their service, and that their assistants shall be allowed one hundred and fifty dollars per month, from the date of their appointments respectively until the expiration of their service.

SEC. 2. That the said commissioners shall have the power conferred upon commissioners appointed by the district courts by the act of the Provisional Congress, approved thirtieth of August eighteen hundred and sixty-one, and numbered two hundred and seventy-three in the Acts of the said Congress. [Approved June 9, 1864.]

An Act to provide for the Compensation of Non-Commissioned Officers, Soldiers, Sailors and Marines on detailed service.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That all persons detailed from the army, or after enrollment for military service, or from the navy or marine corps, for special duty or extra duty, shall be allowed to receive their regular pay, rations and allowances, as if they were performing service in the field.

SEC. 2. That all such detached or detailed men shall be allowed, in addition, not exceeding two dollars per day, and compensation for all extra work, or for any uncommon skill or industry displayed in the performance of duties to which they may be assigned, in proportion to the value of such extra labor or uncommon skill or industry, whether it be in performing an unusual amount of work within the usual hours of labor, or work performed beyond the usual hours, or extraordinary skill and superior workmanship displayed in the execution of such duties; the value of said extra labor, or uncommon skill or industry, to be determined by the officer or superintendent under whose immediate direction said detached or detailed service may be performed, subject to the approval of the Secretary of War or Navy. The additional compensation provided in this section shall be the same for both the War and Navy Departments, under certain rules to be prescribed by the President.

SEC. 3. That all non-commissioned officers, musicians, privates, sailors or marines, detailed to government contractors, shall be so detailed without pay and allowances, but shall be compensated for their services by wages received from said contractors, under rules to be prescribed by the Secretary of War or of the Navy. [Approved June 9, 1864.]

An Act to organize a Corps of Scouts and Guards to facilitate communication with the Trans-Mississippi Department.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the President of the Confederate States be, and he is hereby authorized, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to appoint one major and four captains to do service as scouts in the valley of the Mississippi river, or to assign any proper officers for that purpose.

SEC. 2. That the officers thus commissioned shall have authority to raise four companies, to be officered by the President, to be composed of such members and such persons as he may approve, for scout and guard duty for government transportation across the Mississippi river, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the War Department.

SEC. 3. That the President may detail such officers and men from the army as he may deem peculiarly qualified for such service.

SEC. 4. That such scouts and guards shall be composed either of infantry or cavalry, or in part of both, at the discretion of the President, and equipped in such manner as will make them most effective, and shall be entitled to the same pay and allowances, and be subject to the same regulations as other soldiers. [Approved June 10, 1864.]

An Act to amend an Act entitled an Act to organize Military Courts to attend the Army of the Confederate States in the Field, and to define the Powers of said Courts.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the above entitled act be so amended that in all instances in which the particular division, corps, district or other subordinate organization, to which a military court is or may be hereafter appointed or assigned, the commander of the army or department may by order, when in his discretion it shall be proper and safe to do so, direct and empower the commander of the subordinate division, corps, district, &c. to pass upon and refer for trial all charges and specifications to come before said court; review and confirm or disapprove the records thereof; transmit the same direct to the War Department; remit or suspend sentences (where lawful), and take all action and exercise all jurisdiction in that behalf which pertains under existing laws to the commander of the army or department.

SEC. 2. That from and after the passage of this act, when any person shall have been tried by any military court or court martial, and acquitted of the charge or charges preferred, the finding of the court shall be announced immediately, and the person so tried and acquitted, if a soldier, shall be released from arrest and returned to duty; and if other than a soldier, discharged from custody without awaiting the examination or report of the reviewing officer of such court. [Approved June 14, 1864.]

An Act to authorize the formation of New Commands, to be composed of Supernumerary Officers, who may resign to join such Commands, and to limit and restrict the appointment of Officers in certain cases.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the President is hereby authorized to grant authority for the organization of companies, battalions or regiments, to be composed of supernumerary officers of the provisional army.

SEC. 2. That it shall be lawful for any supernumerary officer to join said organization, or any other company in the confederate service, which does not exceed the maximum prescribed by law, upon tender to the proper authorities of his resignation for that purpose.

SEC. 3. That the offices left vacant by such resignations shall not be filled; and that hereafter the lowest grade of commissioned officers of a company shall not be filled, unless there are upon the rolls of the company for service at least forty-six non-commissioned officers and privates; nor shall the position of senior second lieutenant be filled in case of vacancy therein, unless there are upon the rolls of the company for service at least thirty non-commissioned officers and privates; nor shall the position of first lieutenant be filled, unless in case of a vacancy there are at least twenty non-commissioned officers and privates on the rolls of the company for service; which fact shall in each case be certified to by the captain of the company, and approved by the colonel of the regiment, before such promotion can be made. [Approved June 14, 1864.]

An Act to amend so much of an Act entitled an Act to organize Forces to serve during the War, approved February seventeenth, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, as relates to the Exemption of certain Religious Denominations.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the Secretary of War shall be authorized to grant exemptions to the members of various denominations of christians mentioned in the exemption act of the eleventh of October eighteen hundred and sixty-two, who at that time belonged to the same, and who were in regular association therewith, upon the terms and conditions specified in that act, or upon such other terms and conditions as he is authorized to allow exemptions or grant details under any of the clauses of the act approved February seventeenth, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, to which this is an amendment.

SEC. 2. That the Secretary of War be and he is hereby authorized to revoke any such exemptions under the act aforesaid, when the same have been obtained by any fraud, misrepresentation or error. [Approved June 7, 1864.]

An Act to authorize the appointment of Quartermasters and Assistant Quartermasters and Commissaries and Assistant Commissaries in the Provisional Army in certain cases.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the President is hereby authorized, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to appoint for the provisional army additional quartermasters and commissaries, with the rank of colonel, lieutenant colonel and major: provided, that such additional quartermasters and commissaries, with the rank of colonel, shall not exceed the number of military departments and separate armies existing at the time of their appointment; and that the additional quartermasters and commissaries, with the rank of lieutenant colonel, shall not exceed the number of army corps existing at the time of their appointment; and that the additional quartermasters and commissaries, with the rank of major, shall not exceed the number of divisions of the army existing at the time of their appointment; and for the collection, control and distribution of rail road and field transportation and army supplies, the President may appoint such additional quartermasters and assistant quartermasters and commissaries as may be necessary for the efficient execution of the duties of the quartermaster and commissary departments; and such purchasing agents or transportation agents may be employed as the service may require, who shall not have military rank, and whose compensation shall not exceed the pay of a captain of infantry, and who may be required to give bond for the faithful performance of those duties; but nothing herein contained shall be construed to prohibit the assignment of quartermasters and commissaries, or assistant quartermasters or commissaries to any of the foregoing duties, or to the duty of paying the troops: provided, that all said appointments shall be made from persons who are over forty-five years of age, or who are incapacitated physically for service in the field, or who have been in the service over twelve months, or have been heretofore discharging any of the aforesaid duties: provided, further, that additional assistant quartermasters and commissaries shall not be appointed, if there are officers already in service who can be assigned to such duties without detriment to the service.

SEC. 2. That it shall be no longer incumbent on the President to appoint or to keep in service an assistant quartermaster, with the rank of captain, for each regiment or battalion in the field; but he may assign the quartermaster of any army corps, division, brigade, regiment or battalion, or the commissary of any army, army corps, division or brigade to duty as quartermaster or commissary elsewhere, and to assign quartermasters, assistant quartermasters, and commissaries and assistant commissaries appointed to posts or depots, or for other duties, to serve with armies, army corps, divisions or brigades in the field, whenever in his opinion the public interest will be promoted thereby.

SEC. 3. That in case the services of any regimental quartermaster, or any other quartermaster or assistant quartermaster, or commissary or assistant commissary, appointed under this act, can, in the opinion of the President, be dispensed with, and such officer cannot be otherwise appropriately employed to the public interest, his name shall be dropped from the rolls, and he shall cease to be an officer of the provisional army.

SEC. 4. That the President be and he is hereby authorized to appoint one quartermaster, with the rank of major, for each state, and one assistant quartermaster, with the rank of captain, for each congressional district in the several states, to execute the duties of the act in reference to the tax in kind: provided, that the appointments to be made in pursuance of this section shall be made with the same restrictions and limitations as are set forth in the first proviso to the first section of this act. [Approved June 14, 1864.]

An Act to amend an Act entitled an Act to aid any State in communicating with and perfecting Records concerning its Troops. approved sixteenth February, eighteen hundred and sixty four.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the above named act be and the same is hereby amended so as to allow to the state officer therein named the right to purchase forage for one horse in addition to the right granted thereby to purchase one ration: said purchases to be made upon the same terms and conditions and under the same circumstances under which officers of the provisional army may be allowed to purchase rations or forage. [Approved May 31, 1864.]

An Act to amend the several Acts in regard to Chaplains.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the President be and he is hereby authorized, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, to appoint, when in his judgment it may be proper to do so, chaplains to battalions and general hospitals, who shall receive the same pay and allowances now authorized by law to chaplains appointed to regiments and posts. [Approved May 31, 1864.]

[17.]

An Act to provide for the appointment of Officers with temporary Rank and Command.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the President be and he is hereby authorized, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to appoint temporary officers of the rank of brigadier general, major general, lieutenant general, or general, for the provisional army, and assign them to any appropriate command.

SEC. 2. That the said officers so appointed shall only hold their said rank and their said command for such time as the temporary exigency may require: at the expiration of which time, they shall resume their previous permanent rank and command. [Approved May 31, 1864.]

Joint Resolution to allow Sick and Wounded Officers of the Army Transportation to their Homes, and Hospital Accommodations.

Resolved by the Congress of the Confederate States of America, That sick and wounded officers on leave, upon certificates of a board of surgeons, be allowed transportation to their homes and back to their commands, as in the case of enlisted men on furlough. The indulgence hereby accorded to continue in force for ninety days after the next meeting of Congress.

Resolved further, That all sick and wounded officers in the naval and military service shall be entitled to enter any hospital, and receive such treatment and rations as now provided by law, free of charge. [Approved June 10, 1864.]

An Act to amend an Act to organize Forces to serve during the War, approved February seventeenth, eighteen hundred and sixty four.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the act entitled an act to organize forces to serve during the war, approved seventeenth February eighteen hundred and sixty-four, be and the same is hereby so amended as to allow all white residents between the ages of seventeen and eighteen, and forty-five and fifty years, who were prevented from enrolling themselves within the time prescribed by the said act, by the occupation of their localities or country by the public enemy, and whose homes are, and have been since the passage of said act, beyond the lines of the confederate armies, to organize themselves in pursuance of the sixth section of said act, after their homes or localities are brought within the lines of the confederate armies; and this privilege shall continue for the space of thirty days after the reoccupation is announced by an order issued by the general commanding the department, and published in the military department in which such reoccupation may occur. [Approved June 10, 1864.]

An Act to graduate the Pay of General Officers.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the pay of a general shall be five hundred dollars per month; that of a lieutenant general, four hundred and fifty dollars per month; and that of a major general, three hundred and fifty dollars per month: that a general commanding an army in the field shall receive, in addition to the said sum of five hundred dollars per month, one hundred dollars; and a lieutenant general, a major general and a brigadier general shall, whilst serving in the field, each receive fifty dollars per month, in addition to the sum herein allowed, whilst so serving; and all laws allowing additional compensation for commanding a separate army in the field, be and they are hereby repealed, except as herein provided; and that this act shall be in force for one year and no longer. [Approved June 10, 1864.]

An Act to authorize the appointment of additional Officers of Artillery for Ordnance Duties.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, may appoint fifty officers of artillery in the provisional army, for the performance of ordnance duties, in addition to those authorized by the act entitled an act to authorize the appointment of officers of artillery in the provisional army, approved April twenty-first, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and an act to authorize the appointment of additional officers of artillery for ordnance duties, approved September sixteenth, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and that the rank of said officers shall be as provided in said last named act. [Approved June 10, 1864.]

An Act to amend an Act entitled an Act to organize Military Courts to attend the Army of the Confederate States in the Field, and to define the Powers of said Courts, approved October 9, 1862.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That so much of the said act as empowers the said military courts to appoint their clerks and marshals, and provide for the payment of the salaries of the said officers, is hereby repealed; and hereafter it shall be the duty of the Secretary of War to detail and assign persons to fill said offices, from military officers and non-commissioned officers and privates unable to perform duty in the field; and the compensation of such persons shall only be the pay to which they may be respectively entitled by virtue of their military commissions. [Approved June 14, 1864.]

An Act to provide and organize a General Staff for Armies in the Field, to serve during the war.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That hereafter the general staff of the army shall constitute a corps, and staff officers shall no longer, except by assignment, be attached to any particular military organization, or be held to duty at any post. That promotions in said corps shall be by selection, based upon capacity, merit and service; and no one shall be appointed in said corps, unless he has been two years at least in the military service during the war, or is over forty-five years of age, or is unfit for military service in the field.

SEC. 2. That the President is hereby authorized to assign all officers of the staff to such appropriate duties as he may think proper, except that he shall not assign them to commands in the line, unless in cases of emergency, and then only for a short time; and no officer shall be allowed to hold at the same time a commission or appointment in the staff and in the line.

SEC. 3. That the President is hereby authorized, upon the application of any general commanding an army in the field, to appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, or assign for duty with such general, whilst so commanding, a general officer, who shall be charged, under the direction of the general, with the administration of his army. There shall also be allowed to a general so commanding, two assistant adjutants general, one chief quartermaster, one chief of ordnance, and one chief commissary, each with the rank, pay and allowances of a colonel of cavalry; a surgeon, as medical director, with the pay and allowances of a colonel of cavalry; one aid de camp, with the rank, pay and allowances of a colonel of cavalry; and one aid de camp, with the rank, pay and allowances of a lieutenant colonel of cavalry.

SEC. 4. That to a lieutenant general commanding a corps d'armee shall be allowed, to be appointed by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, two assistant adjutants general, with the rank, pay and allowances each of a colonel of cavalry; a chief of ordnance, a chief quartermaster and a chief commissary, each with the rank, pay and allowances of a lieutenant colonel of cavalry. He shall also be allowed one surgeon, as medical director, to be appointed by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, with the pay and allowances of a lieutenant colonel of cavalry; and, to be appointed as above, one aid de camp, with the rank, pay and allowances of a lieutenant colonel of cavalry; and one aid de camp, with the rank, pay and allowances of a major of cavalry.

SEC. 5. That to a major general commanding a division shall be allowed, to be appointed by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, two assistant adjutants general, with the rank, pay and allowances of a lieutenant colonel of cavalry; one chief of ordnance, one chief quartermaster and one chief commissary, each with the rank, pay and allowances of a major of cavalry; also a surgeon, with the pay and allowances of a major of cavalry; one aid de camp, with the rank, pay and allowances of a major of cavalry; and one aid de camp, with the rank, pay and allowances of a captain of cavalry.

SEC. 6. That to a brigadier general commanding a brigade shall be allowed, to be appointed as herein before directed, two assistant adjutants general and one assistant inspector general, with the rank, pay and allowances each of a major of cavalry; one surgeon, with the pay and allowances of a major of cavalry; one ordnance officer, with the rank, pay and allowances of a captain of cavalry; one aid de camp, with the rank, pay and allowances of a captain of cavalry; and one aid de camp, with the rank, pay and allowances of a first lieutenant of cavalry.

SEC. 7. That the President is hereby authorized to reduce the number of officers allowed by this act to the staff of any general officer, or to increase the same when in his opinion the service will be benefited thereby.

SEC. 8. That all appointments under this act shall be made from those already in service. [Approved June 14, 1864.]

An Act to amend an Act entitled an Act to amend an Act entitled an Act to organize Military Courts to attend the Army of the Confederate States in the Field, and to define the Powers of said Courts, approved February thirteenth, eighteen hundred and sixty-four.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the proviso to said act, and also so much thereof as requires that the judge of the military court in North Alabama shall give ten days' notice of the times and places of holding said courts before the same are held, be and the same are hereby repealed. [Approved June 14, 1864.]

An Act to amend the Laws relating to the Commutation Value of Hospital Rations.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the commutation value of rations of the sick and wounded officers and soldiers in hospitals or other places, used in camp or the field as hospitals, be fixed at the government cost of said rations, and one hundred per centum thereon: provided, that said one hundred per centum on the government cost of each ration commuted shall constitute a hospital fund, and be drawn and appropriated as the Secretary of War shall deem necessary, to purchase supplies for the use of the sick and disabled of the army in hospitals. [Approved June 14, 1864.]

An Act to promote the Efficiency of the Cavalry of the Provisional Army, and to punish Lawlessness and Irregularities of any portions thereof.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the Commanding General of any army in the field shall have the power to direct the dismounting of any non-commissioned officer or officers, soldier or soldiers in the cavalry service in his command, and to place him or them in the infantry who shall misbehave before the enemy, or shall be guilty of illegally wasting, spoliating or appropriating to his own use any private property, or of doing any violence to any citizen.

SEC. 2. That the horses belonging to persons so dismounted, and which they may have had in the service, may be taken for the use of the army, and the appraised value thereof shall be paid to the owner. [Approved June 7, 1864.]

By order.

S. COOPER,
Adjutant and Inspector General.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Richmond, June 18, 1864.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 54. }

I. The Act of Congress providing for the establishment and payment of claims for a certain description of property, taken or informally impressed for the use of the army, approved June 14th, 1864, with accompanying instructions, are published for the information and instruction of all concerned.

An Act providing for the establishment and payment of Claims for a certain description of Property taken or informally impressed for the use of the Army.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That it shall be the duty of the Secretary of War to appoint and assign, in each congressional district, and for each territory, an agent, not liable to military duty in the field, who shall, at stated times, in each county or parish, under the direction of the post quartermaster nearest to him, receive and take proof, under oath, in relation to all claims in said district for forage, provisions, cattle, sheep, hogs, horses, mules, teams and wagons heretofore furnished to the army by the owner, or heretofore taken or informally impressed for the use of the army, and not yet paid for, by any officer in the military service, or by his order or direction, express or implied, from the use of the property, whether said officer be a line or staff officer, and whether he be a bonded officer or otherwise, and report the facts and transmit the evidence in each case to the proper accounting officers of the treasury, together with his opinion as to the justice and validity of the claim: and the said accounting officers are hereby authorized to audit and control, and order payment of such claims as appear to them to be equitable and just: provided, that all such claims originating west of the Mississippi river shall be reported to the accounting officers of the Treasury Department established for the Trans-Mississippi Department, who are hereby authorized to audit, control and direct payment of the same in the same manner as the accounting officers of the Treasury east of the Mississippi river. And the said agent is hereby authorized, in taking testimony in regard to said claims, to administer oaths to witnesses, and, if he think proper, to the claimants themselves. The compensation allowed to said agent shall be ten dollars per day while actually engaged in the performance of the duties imposed on him by this act, and thirty cents per mile for every mile actually traveled by him; to be paid under regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary of War: provided, that the Secretary of War may assign to the duty herein mentioned any quartermaster or disabled officer of the army; and in that event, said officer or quartermaster shall, in addition to the compensation now allowed him by law, be entitled to mileage at the rate of forty cents per mile: provided, further, that the Secretary of War may appoint and assign any non-commissioned officer or private to perform the duties under this act who may be unfit for active service in the field because of wounds received or disease contracted in said service; and the pay and allowances of such non-commissioned officer or private, when so appointed and assigned, shall be the same as are allowed to persons so appointed who may not be liable to military service.

SEC. 2. This act shall cease and determine on the first day of January eighteen hundred and sixty-five, east of the Mississippi river, and on the first day of May eighteen hundred and sixty-five, west of the Mississippi river; and all claims of the description aforesaid, not presented to the agent aforesaid prior to said dates, at the respective places mentioned, shall not be entitled to the benefits of this act. [Approved June 14, 1864.]

II. In every congressional district there will be appointed an agent to perform the duties described in the preceding Act of Congress, whose names will be announced in Orders, and who, immediately after notice thereof, will proceed to the fulfillment of the duties imposed in the same. He will hold one or more sessions in each county in his district, and give notice of the time and place of holding the same, and of the order of proceeding at, and the probable duration of the session. The operation of the act is limited to a specific time, and each agent is required to take measures for the full performance of its requirements, and for securing to every claimant an opportunity of presenting and proving his just claim.

III. Every claim under this act shall be presented in writing to the agent for the district in which the claimant resides, supported by his oath as to the justice of the same, and by the affidavit of one or more witnesses; and the claimant shall also state by whom his property was impressed or taken, and at what time, and for what purpose, and at what price, and shall produce any written evidence in his possession relative to the same: provided, if the claimant be dead, or be prevented by any cause from appearing before the agent, proof shall be submitted as to the fact, and the occasion therefor; and other proof of the claim may be taken. The exact value of the property must be proved, and no speculative or contingent damages or values are to be assessed.

IV. The agent shall, whenever it may be deemed expedient, examine the claimant and the witnesses orally upon the subject of the claim, and record their testimony.

V. The agents appointed under this act will take the testimony of the various officers of the army who may have been concerned in the impressment or appropriation of any of the property in reference to which claims shall be made, and will ascertain by what authority the same was taken, for what purpose, and at what time; and moreover will make special enquiry as to the use which was made of the same, and enquire of all facts pertinent to the subject.

VI. Great care should be taken, in the investigations to be made under this act, to ascertain the justice and accuracy of any claim that may be preferred, and to prevent fraudulent or exaggerated claims from being allowed; and for that purpose, all the circumstances connected with the impressment or appropriation or employment of property should be examined. The name, rank and authority of the officer should be reported, and whatever else that may throw light upon the transaction.

VII. All the powers conferred by this act, and all the duties prescribed by the same, are devolved upon the agents appointed under it; and within the time limited in the act, they will make their report to the Second Auditor of the Treasury

By order

S. COOPER,
Adjutant and Inspector General.

Adjutant and Inspector General's Office

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Richmond, June 20, 1864.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 55. }

I. Under the Act of Congress entitled an act to organize military courts, &c., approved June 14, 1864 (General Orders 53, No. 22), military courts will, as soon as practicable, select and report to this office, for assignment as clerks and marshals of those courts, commissioned and non-commissioned officers and privates unable to perform duty in the field. With the report will be forwarded the evidence of the disability of the persons recommended.

II. Company, regimental, brigade and division commanders will report to the General commanding the army or department any commissioned, non-commissioned officer or private in the cavalry service, who misbehaves before the enemy, or who wastes or appropriates to his own use private property, or who does violence to any citizen.

The General commanding will take action (under General Orders 53, No. 26) upon the report, and forward his order in each case, with a statement of the facts, for the information of the department.

By order.

S. COOPER,
Adjutant and Inspector General.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Richmond, June 30, 1864.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 56. }

The following order is published for the information of all concerned:

EXCHANGE NOTICE, No. 11.

RICHMOND, June 27, 1864.

All officers and men of the Vicksburg capture of July 4th, 1863, who reported for duty either at Enterprise (Miss.), Demopolis (Ala.), Jonesboro' (Tenn.), Vienna, Nachitoches, Shreveport or Alexandria (La.), at any time prior to April 1st, 1864, and whose names have been forwarded to me by the proper officers, are hereby declared exchanged.

RO. OULD,
Agent of Exchange.

By order

S. COOPER,
Adjutant and Inspector General.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Richmond, June 30, 1864.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 57. }

- I. Persons between 18 and 45 years of age will not be permitted to hold office in the reserve forces, unless they are physically unfit for active duty, or permanently exempt from field duty.
- II. Staff officers for the reserve forces will be appointed from that class, or assigned from the lists of retired or supernumerary officers.
- III. Men detailed from the army will constitute a portion of the reserve forces at the posts where they are serving, and will do duty with them when the reserves are called into active service.
- IV. The appropriation made by the act of Congress, approved February 17, 1864, for the pay of officers, non-commissioned officers, privates and clerks, including current and extraordinary expenses, in the conscription service, will be drawn from the Treasury, upon requisitions, in the usual form, made by the Superintendent of the Bureau of Conscription, in favor of such bonded officers as may be designated by him.
- V. Funds will be placed in the hands of such quartermasters attached to the conscript service in each state as may be deemed expedient by the Superintendent of the Bureau of Conscription, and will be disbursed upon similar vouchers, and, as near as may be, according to the forms and regulations prescribed for the Quartermaster's Department. All returns, vouchers, reports, accounts current, abstracts and summary statements, connected with the disbursement of these funds, will be forwarded to the Bureau of Conscription, at the stated periods, and in the manner and form prescribed by the General Regulations of the Quartermaster's Department.
- VI. All accounts for pay of officers, clerks and employees, and for current and extraordinary expenses of the conscription service, will be paid only upon the order or approval of the commandant of conscripts for the state wherein such accounts and expenses may be incurred; or upon the order or approval of the Superintendent of the Bureau of Conscription.

VII. The compensation and commutation, or other allowances of officers, non-commissioned officers and privates of the army, who may be detailed for service under the orders of the Bureau of Conscription, will be paid, as heretofore, by quartermasters, out of the appropriation for pay of the army and the service of the Quartermaster's Department.

VIII. The Superintendent of the Bureau of Conscription will establish such additional special regulations as he may deem necessary for the instruction and control of disbursing and other officers of the conscript service, in the disbursement of the appropriation for that service.

IX. When a command is ordered away or separated from the commissary of subsistence under whom a hospital fund has accrued, he will turn over the fund to the commissary or acting commissary of such command.

X. Paragraph VII, General Orders, No. 125 (1863), is hereby revoked. Commanding officers of regiments, battalions, &c., will cause to be made out on the 1st and 15th of each month, a roll of all deserters and absentees from their commands, and forward the same, through the proper channels, to Brig. General JOHN S. PRESTON, Superintendent of the Bureau of Conscription.

The roll will embrace the company and regiment to which the deserter or absentee belongs, the county in which he resides, where it is supposed he may be found, and such other information as may lead to his prompt arrest. This order will not apply to commands in the Trans-Mississippi Department.

XI. The reserve forces of the several states are under the permanent direction and control of the general officers respectively assigned to their command by the President.

Department, district and other commanders of the active forces may have, for the time being, the direction of the military movements of such reserve forces as may be turned over to their command for service, but are forbidden to disband those forces, or otherwise interfere with any matters pertaining to their permanent organization, except with the concurrence of the general commanding the reserves of a state.

XII. When no longer required for service with the active forces, the reserve troops will be immediately turned over to the commander of reserves for the state.

XIII. General officers commanding reserves for the several states will be held responsible in all matters relating to the efficiency and permanent organization of their commands.

XIV. Leaves of absence and furloughs will not be granted to reserve troops, except by the general commanding the reserves for the states to which they belong, or in accordance with regulations prescribed in his orders; but leaves of absence and furloughs will not be granted to reserve forces serving in the field, if, in the judgment of department commanders, it be incompatible with the public safety to grant them.

By order.

S. COOPER,
Adjutant and Inspector General.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Richmond, July 8, 1864.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 59. }

I. In accordance with the Act of Congress, approved June 14th, 1864, and published in General Orders, No. 53, current series, the commutation value of rations of sick and wounded officers and soldiers in hospitals or other places, in camp or the field, used as hospitals, will be the cost of the ration at the post or place, and one hundred per centum thereon; which amount will constitute the hospital fund.

II. The ration named in the preceding paragraph, when actually issued, will correspond with that allowed to soldiers in the field; but, in reckoning the hospital fund, the whole number of rations due, whether drawn or commuted, will be estimated in quantity and components (excluding sugar and coffee), according to the ration as prescribed in paragraph 1107, Army Regulations. } See i. 6 G. Y.

III. Rations in kind (such as are issued to soldiers in the field) may be issued to all attendants in regimental, field or other hospitals.

IV. Medical directors will report, through the Surgeon General, to this office, soldiers in hospital who are mechanics, and who are permanently disabled, or it is believed will be unfit for many months for field service. When reported, their trade will be stated, that they may be detailed in appropriate bureaux to relieve able-bodied men therein employed.

V. Officers traveling under orders will be allowed transportation in kind and ten dollars per diem. All General or Special Orders, which give other or different allowances, are hereby revoked. Generals or other officers commanding a district, department or army in the field, and chiefs of the several military bureaux, are alone authorized to give orders that will carry transportation. } amended by G. Y. 18

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 60. }

I. Officers, contractors of the government and their agents, are prohibited from purchasing or using wheat for feeding horses.

II. Agents, assessors and employees on tax in kind service, who are over 45 years of age, will not be molested by enrolling officers.

III. Paragraph 19, Medical Regulations (1163 Army Regulations), is substituted by the following:

An officer transferring medical supplies, will furnish duplicate certified invoices to the officer who is to receive them, who shall furnish to the issuing officer duplicate receipts (specifying articles and quantities), accompanied by a report of the quality and condition of the supplies, and discrepancies, if any, between the articles received and invoiced; a duplicate of which report will also be sent to the Surgeon General. With their returns of hospital property, officers will forward to the Surgeon General one of the invoices of supplies received by them, and one of the receipts for supplies issued. A medical officer who turns over medical supplies to a quartermaster for storage or transportation, will forward to the Surgeon General the quartermaster's receipt for the packages. When a medical officer, to whom stores are forwarded, has reason to suppose them miscarried, he shall promptly inform the issuing and forwarding officers and the Surgeon General.

IV. Paragraph 53, Medical Regulations (1197 Army Regulations), is modified as follows:

Every medical officer will report to the Surgeon General and to the Medical Director, the date when he arrives at a station, or when he leaves it, and his orders in the case, stating the date of their reception, their nature, number, date and source, and at the end of each month, whenever not at his station, whether on service or on leave of absence, and when on leave of absence, his post office address for the next month.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Richmond, August 6, 1864.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 63. }

I. All detailed men (including those between 18 and 45 years of age) will report to, and be commanded by the generals of reserves in the states to which they respectively belong, who will organize them into companies and regiments. It is not anticipated that they will be called out except in emergencies occurring in or near the counties of their residence, nor will service be exacted of them beyond those counties and those contiguous thereto. All exempts are allowed and are invited to enroll themselves with such companies, so as to be prepared to aid in defending their homes when menaced by the enemy.

II. Officers and soldiers into whose hands captured colors fall are prohibited from presenting them to individuals.

III. Paragraph V, General Orders, No. 59 (current series), is not intended to apply to officers and bonded agents who are continuously engaged in special service by order of the chief of the bureau to which they belong, and whose duties require them to travel from place to place. In such cases, personal expenses are allowable in lieu of commutation of fuel, quarters and rations. Accounts of expenses will be vouched and paid by the chief of the bureau from which the orders issue, and transportation will be furnished in kind.

IV. So much of paragraph II, General Orders, No. 55 (current series), as includes commissioned officers in the operation of the "act to promote the efficiency of the cavalry of the provisional army, and to punish lawlessness and irregularities of any portion thereof," is revoked.

V. General Orders, No. 93 (1863), is hereby revoked.

VI. Paragraph I, General Orders, No. 49 (1863), is amended as follows:

Surgeons in charge of hospitals will have the military clothing of deceased soldiers washed before turning it over to the quartermaster for reissue. The appraisement of such clothing will not exceed the prices established in General Orders.

VII. Great irregularities in the observance of the orders regarding the collection of the tax in kind having existed, attention is called to paragraphs I, II, III and IV, General Orders, No. 48 (current series); which are repeated and enjoined upon the army. Those orders are not intended to authorize any quartermaster or commissary to establish tax depots in organized tax districts, but to allow them, in cases where exigency requires it, to collect from producers in government wagons. The supplies already collected at the tax depots are always transferable to them upon requisition. Attention of quartermasters and commissaries is specially called to this order. A violation of it is an outrage to the tax payer, and the efficiency of the tax in kind service demands that offenders against it shall be held to strict accountability.

By order.

S. COOPER,
Adjutant and Inspector General.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Richmond, August 10, 1864.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 64.

I. The following ROLL OF HONOR is published, in accordance with paragraph I, General Orders. No. 131 (1863). It will be read to every regiment in the service at the first dress parade after its receipt.

II. Attention is called to the manner in which the selections, under the law, should be made. The non-commissioned officers and privates are authorized, at the first dress parade after each victory the company shall have assisted to achieve, to distinguish by a majority of their votes, one private or non-commissioned officer most conspicuous for gallantry and good conduct in the battle. Should more than one soldier be hereafter selected by a company, as equal in merit, the name to be announced upon the roll will be determined by lot. Commissioned officers, distinguished for gallantry on the field, are not to be selected by the vote of the company, battalion or regiment to which they belong, but a statement of their special good conduct should be made by their immediate commander, and forwarded, through the regular channel, to this office.

GENERAL ORDERS. }
No. 65. }

1. It having been represented to the War Department, that there are numbers of foreigners, entrapped by artifice and fraud, into the military and naval service of the United States, who would gladly withdraw from further participation in the inhuman warfare waged against a people who have never given them a pretext for hostility, and that there are many inhabitants of the United States, now retained in that service, against their will, who are averse to aiding in the unjust war now being prosecuted against the Confederate States: And it being also known that these men are prevented from abandoning such compulsory service, by the difficulty they experience in escaping therefrom, it is ordered, that all such persons, coming within the lines of the Confederate armies, shall be received, protected and supplied with means of subsistence, until such of them as desire it, can be forwarded to the most convenient points on the border when all facilities will be afforded them to return to their homes.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 66. }

I. The extra pay allowed to men detailed from the army under the "Act of Congress to provide for the compensation of non-commissioned officers, soldiers, sailors and marines in detailed service," approved June 9th. 1864, (G. O. 53, No. 8, current series,) is established as follows :

1st. The extra pay for extraordinary skill or industry, or for extra work contemplated in section second of the law may be in the city of Richmond, not exceeding the amounts named in the following schedule :

Superintendent,	Not exceeding,	$10 00 per diem.
1st class foreman,	" "	7 50 " "
1st " mechanics,		6 00 " "
2d " "		5 50 " "
3d " "		5 00 " "
Other employees showing uncommon skill or industry,		4 00 " "
Skilled clerks,		6 00 " "

2d. The extra pay allowed in this schedule shall be regarded as pay for ten hours work, and for all work requiring "uncommon skill" done in other than the regular ten hours, the pay shall be 50 per cent. greater than the schedule price.

3d. This extra pay may be increased or diminished at other posts or depots where work-shops are established in proportion as the market price of provisions is greater or less than in the city of Richmond: the Secretary of War and of the Navy acting conjointly as to such increase or diminution at points where there are establishments belonging to each branch of the service.

4th. No restrictions will be placed on the amount of pay to be given by contractors to detailed men, save that the wages shall conform as nearly as possible to the wages received by similar classes in the employ of the Government.

5th. The extra compensation for piece-work, where such work is to the advantage of the Government, shall be regulated in conformity to the classification of workmen in section one; the commanding officer, with the approval of the Chief of the Bureau concerned, fixing what shall be regarded as a full days' work with "uncommon industry." Compensation for work turned out over and above the quantities so fixed shall be paid at the rate fixed by the "extra compensation" for full days work.

6th. This act is to be construed as applying to men detailed "from the field," and does not apply to those attached in any way to an army in the field.

The allowance of two dollars a day is optional with the Chief of each Bureau, and any less sum may be paid according to the nature of occupation and services of the detailed man. It will be paid out of the funds of the Bureau employing him, and for the days in which work is actually performed, unless otherwise specially ordered by the Chief of Bureau.

Payments to men detailed in the Medical Department, except those on duty with Purveyors, will be made by the Quartermaster's Department.

7th. The clothing and rations issued to all classes of detailed and enrolled men shall be the same in kind and quantity as is issued to soldiers in the field, and shall be issued by the proper officer of the War Department in such manner and at such intervals as may be directed by the Secretary of War. Whenever, from any cause, the ration cannot be issued in kind within ten days after it is due, it shall be promptly commuted at its current value by the Commissary Department.

8th. In like manner, whenever the clothing allowed cannot, for any cause, be furnished by the Quartermaster's Department, it shall be commuted by said Department at the current local value of such clothing to be fixed by the Quartermaster General.

9th. The other allowances, viz: Fuel and quarters, will be commuted to each detailed man according to rates fixed by the Quartermaster General.

10th. These orders will take effect from the first of August instant.

I. The ration specified in paragraph II. General Orders, No. 59 (current series), on which the hospital fund is to be reckoned, is as follows:

A half pound of bacon or pork, one and a half pounds of flour or corn meal (equal quantities of both to be used in the reckoning); and to every one hundred rations, ten pounds of rice, one gallon of vinegar, one and a half pounds of candles, four pounds of soap, and three pounds of salt; and at that rate for any less number of rations.

II. All horses, mules, wagons, harness and saddles in the hands of officers, soldiers or citizens not authorized to retain them, branded "C. S." or "U. S.," or captured from or abandoned by the enemy, will be turned in at once to the nearest post quartermasters. But the rights of citizens, as established by General Orders, No. 61 (1863), are not intended to be divested by the operation of this paragraph; and persons having property under the conditions of that order, or who have property abandoned by the enemy of equivalent value to that taken from them, will not be molested without a special order.

Captain R. V. Gaines, A. Q. M., in addition to his present duty, is specially charged with looking up and securing the above described property. He will report through the Inspector General of Field Transportation to the Quartermaster General.

III. Section 6th, paragraph I, General Orders, No. 66 (current series), is thus amended:

This act is construed to apply only to soldiers detailed from the army, and to conscripts detailed by the Bureau of Conscription for service in the several departments out of the field. The extra pay is not intended for soldiers detailed for duty in the field.

IV. All men enlisted in the forces for local defence will be held responsible in the money value of arms, equipments, &c. belonging to the government, and lost by them. All such men, who are employees of the government, or of contractors under the government, will have the value of lost arms, &c. deducted from their salaries or wages—the amount to be turned over by the paymaster to the ordnance officer, or other officer of the command, who may be accountable for the property to the treasury. These officers are charged with the execution of this order, will account to the treasury for the money turned over to them under it, and will make quarterly reports of arms, equipments, &c. lost (giving names of parties losing them), to the Chief of the Ordnance Bureau at Richmond.

V. Paragraph I, General Orders, No. 63 (current series), is thus amended:

All detailed men (including those between eighteen and forty-five years of age) will report to, and be commanded by the General of Reserves in the states in which they have been assigned or detailed, who will organize them into companies and battalions. It is not anticipated that they will be called out except in emergencies occurring in or near the counties of their residence; nor will service be exacted of them beyond those counties and counties contiguous thereto; except that companies hereafter formed may be required to perform service in repelling raids along a line of rail road running through their respective counties. All exempts are allowed, and invited to enroll themselves with such companies, so as to be prepared to aid in defending their homes when menaced by the enemy.

VI. Section 6, paragraph 1, General Orders, No. 44 (current series), is amended to read as follows:

Cavalry divisions and brigades may each have an assistant adjutant and inspector general (not to exceed, for divisions, the grade of major, and for brigades the grade of captain), in addition to the number allowed infantry divisions and brigades.

VII. The commutation allowed enlisted men under paragraphs III, IV and VI, General Orders, No. 8 (current series), is fixed at two dollars and fifty cents per diem, to take effect from August 20th, 1864.

VIII. Paragraph IV, General Orders, No. 96 (1863), is amended to allow sick and wounded men on furlough to draw rations, or commutation therefor (at their option), from the date of their furloughs.

IX. Issues of clothing to soldiers in general hospitals, located at posts where an officer of the Quartermaster's Department is stationed, will be made by the post quartermaster, or a subordinate officer designated by him.

I. The act of Congress "to provide for the establishment and payment of claims for a certain description of property taken or informally impressed," approved June 14, 1864, and published in General Orders, No. 54, (current series,) does not prescribe any rule of decision to the accounting officers of the Government, but was designed to secure for the claimant an early method of obtaining proof for his claim. The Department, therefore, recommends to the Commissioners, appointed under the aforesaid Act, to receive the proof of the claims that may be made for the property designated in the Act and embraced in its objects with which any claimant may be prepared, although the same may not be, in their opinion, sufficient to support a claim against the Confederate States, nor conform to the directions in General Orders, No. 54. But all claims that are not supported by testimony, as prescribed in the General Orders just cited, should be reported separately from the others and as being taken under this Order.

II. Requisitions may be made by any Commissioner, appointed under said Act, upon a quartermaster of a post in his district for a reasonable supply of stationery to enable him to perform his duties, and also for the payment of six advertisements in two newspapers, to be published in the district, of the time and places at which he may hold his sessions. No allowances will be made for clerk hire or counsel fees.

III. The allowances to the Commissioners will be paid at the Treasury, after being audited by the Second Auditor, from the fund for "contingent expenses of the army," and claims for services, under the Act, by a Commissioner will be sent to the Second Auditor properly authenticated for allowances.

I. The Bureau of Conscription will cause to be delivered from the proper officers of the Bureau to the Chief Commissary in every State, a report containing the names of all the persons in the State, with the places of their residence, who have obtained exemptions or details as agriculturalists, owners, overseers, managers, farmers, planters or otherwise, as producers of grain or provisions under the fourth paragraph of the tenth section of the military Act of the 17th February, 1864, published in General Orders, No. 26, (current series,) together with a statement of the terms of the contract, the sureties to the same, and with all other pertinent facts relating to the said exemption or detail. The officers of the Subsistence Department, under the direction of the Commissary General and Chief Commissary of each State, are charged with the collection of the meat which any exempt or detailed men may have contracted to pay, and to give an acquittance therefor; also to make whatever commutations or reductions that may be authorized by the act whenever the conditions are established that justify the same; and to make all the purchases of the marketable surplus at the prices specified in the act, which the same authorizes to be made on behalf of the Government. The said Subsistence Department being hereby clothed with authority to represent the Government in the enforcement of its claims under the contracts and obligations that the act imposes upon the exempts and detailed men described therein.

II. In order that the regulation on the subject of the sale of the marketable surplus of provisions and grain to the Government, and the families of soldiers in the said act, may have execution, the Commissaries in the different States may be instructed to limit their purchases of grain and provisions of the marketable surplus in any District to some definite proportion, not to exceed one-half, and to leave the remainder for the persons who purchase on behalf of the families of soldiers.

III. All agents appointed by the public authorities of any State, county or town, to supply food for the families of soldiers, are authorized to purchase the portion unappropriated by the Government, for the object of their trust. The Commanders of Conscripts or the Chief Commissary of each State or District may authenticate the authority of such agents, and persons selling to agents thus authenticated shall be fully warranted to do so.

IV. The families of soldiers as described in the said act, are the families composed of the wife or wife and children of any person who belongs to the army; the widow or widow and children of any person who died while in the service; the mother and sisters of any soldier or soldiers in the army and who resided with them as members in the same family or were dependent upon their labor or support; the parents or sisters of any person belonging to the army, who resided in the same family with them and who derived from them support.

V. Officers are authorized to purchase necessary subsistence for their families under this act.

VI. Every exempt and detailed man under this act shall render to the Enrolling officer in his District, a detailed statement of the marketable surplus produced and sold by him, with testimony that the sales were to the Government or to soldiers families, which statement shall be sent to the Commander of Conscripts for the State, and thereupon satisfaction upon his bond shall be entered.

VII. The act of Congress aforesaid provides: That exemptions in favor of the classes aforesaid shall cease whenever the farmer, planter or overseer shall fail diligently to employ in good faith his own skill, capital and labor exclusively in the production of grain and provisions, to be sold to the Government and the families of soldiers at prices not exceeding those fixed at the time for like articles by the Commissioners of the State, under the impressment act. It has been represented to the Department that there are instances of persons exempt or detailed under this act, who pay but little respect to the obligations they have contracted. That they have become speculators in food and provisions; that they are negligent and careless as to the extent of their productions, and openly affirm that they do not mean to have any surplus. The Department is required, in all such or similar cases, to revoke the detail, and the performance of this duty is devolved upon the Bureau of Conscription, upon proper testimony being afforded to them or to their officers, to be designated by them, to perform this duty.

I. In consequence of the addition of fifty artillery officers for ordnance duty by act of Congress, approved June 10, 1864, the distribution of grades announced in General Orders No 110 (1863,) is changed to the following: Five lieutenant colonels, ten majors, eighty-five captains, sixty first lieutenants and forty second lieutenants.

II. These officers, together with such officers of the regular Confederate army and field officers of the provisional artillery as are placed on ordnance duty by the Secretary of War, will alone, hereafter, constitute the corps of officers for ordnance duty. All other officers on ordnance duty are only incidentally ordnance officers, and are liable to be replaced by the class of officers above enumerated.

III. All officers on ordnance duty will, without delay, report by letter to the Chief of Ordnance at Richmond, stating—first, their rank; second, date of commission; third, arm of service; fourth the State to which they belong; fifth, date of assignment to ordnance duty; sixth, the authority by which assigned, furnishing date and, if possible, copy of order of assignment. Officers of the regular army will report both their regular and provisional commissions or commissions conferring temporary rank.

IV. Appointments in the corps of artillery officers for ordnance duty established by acts of Congress, approved April 21, 1862, September 16, 1862, and June 10, 1864, will be made to the grade of second lieutenants, after the usual examinations. Candidates examined prior to the passage of act approved June 10, 1864, may, however, on recommendation, be appointed to grades for which they were recommended, and in which they have been serving under General Orders No. 12, (1863.)

If longer leave is desired, the application must be referred to the Surgeon General. If approved by him, leave may be granted by Commandants.

II. Paragraph I, General Orders, No. 69, current series, is thus amended:

Purchases of corn, oats and forage from detailed persons will be made by officers of the Quartermaster's Department: and their powers in respect to such purchases will be the same as those given to the Commissary Department.

III. General Orders, No. 75, 1863, is hereby repealed. The extra pay of men detailed for duty in the several departments in the field, will hereafter be regulated according to Paragraph 882, Army Regulations.

IV. Physicians employed by contract, whose whole time is given to the public service, will receive the pay and allowances of Assistant Surgeons.

V. Paragraph V, General Orders, No. 59, current series, is so amended as to authorize generals commanding reserve forces in the respective States to give orders that will carry transportation.

VI. Officers holding appointments in the General Staff as Assistant Adjutants and Inspectors General, Quartermasters and Assistant Quartermasters, Commissaries and Assistant Commissaries, Surgeons and Assistant Surgeons, will report by letter to this office, with the least delay practicable, setting forth their rank, corps, position and present assignment to duty, and by what authority assigned. And changes which may hereafter take place in their assignments, will in like manner be immediately reported by them to this office. A non-compliance with this order will subject the officer concerned to a discharge from the service.

VII. Paragraphs III and V, General Orders, No. 34, current series, are thus amended:

If the Board find the soldier fit for duty in any department of the service, it will not retire him immediately, but will forward their certificate of disability and the form of retirement, signed by the Board, through the Headquarters of the Army, to this office, for its approval. If the soldier be absent from his command, the certificate and form may be forwarded directly to the Adjutant and Inspector General.

VIII. Commanders of Departments and armies are prohibited from granting leaves of absence to officers who report directly to the bureaux to which they respectively belong.

No. 73. I

I. The Generals of Reserves will hereafter control the Enrolling Officers and conduct the business of conscription and enrollment in their respective States, under the direction of the Secretary of War, through the Conscrip't Bureau.

II. Commandants of Conscrip'ts and of Camps of Instruction, will be under the direction of the Generals of Reserves.

III. As soon as practicable, all officers and men now employed in the enrolling service, whether as Enrolling Officers, Conscrip't Guards, Clerks or otherwise, except such as are retired or assigned to light duty by the Medical Boards, will be relieved by details from the reserve forces and sent to the field.

IV. All applications for exemption and detail will be transmitted, through the Generals of Reserves, to the Superintendent of the Bureau of Conscription for decision. The office of Congressional District Enrolling Officer is abolished, and communications from Local Enrolling Officers will be transmitted through the Commandants of Conscrip'ts to the Generals of Reserves. An officer may be assigned to duty in each Congressional District by the Generals of Reserves as Inspector of Conscription.

V. The reports required to be furnished the Bureau of Conscription, by paragraph X, General Orders, No. 57, Adjutant and Inspector General's Office, current series, are often defective and incomplete,—failing to give the county in which the man resides, where it is supposed he may be found, or such other information as may lead to his prompt arrest. The attention of regimental and company officers is especially directed to the terms of that order and their compliance therewith required. Only those men, who have deserted or are absent from their commands without proper authority should be reported, and when all men so absent have been reported, it will be only necessary to report those who subsequently absent themselves, until a return of the action taken by the Enrolling Officer is received, by the officer reporting such desertion or absence.

VI. Paragraph II, General Orders, No. 67, current series, is amended by striking out the words, "will not be molested without a special order," and inserting the following language: "will be allowed to retain it on showing such right."

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 75.

I. The troops raised under the Act of Congress, approved February 17, 1864, styled "Reserves," constitute a peculiar force, auxiliary to, but in a measure distinct from the more permanent army, and are exclusively under the orders of the general officers assigned to their command in the several States, subject to the following modifications:

When a commander of active forces requires the reserves as reinforcements, application will be made to the Secretary of War, or directly to the General commanding the reserves; and, when reserves are assigned, in pursuance of such application, to a district, department, or army commander, they become, during the period of such assignment, subject to his control, to the extent that he alone will direct their military movements, determine all applications for furlough and be responsible for their being furnished with the necessary supplies, equipments, etc.; but questions appertaining to their permanent organization into companies, battalions and regiments, the grant of discharges, details, etc., will at all times be determined by the General commanding reserves.

When reserves are assigned to the active forces by the War Department, its order will be necessary for their recall; but when transferred by the General commanding reserves, he may recall them at his discretion, the orders therefor being transmitted through the commander of the district, department or army in which such reserves may be serving; but, if their detention be deemed by him indispensable, he shall immediately submit the question to this office for the decision of the War Department—in the meantime retaining the reserves affected by such orders.

During the assignment of reserves with the active forces, the commanding officer will have punctually transmitted to the General commanding reserves, a monthly return of such reserve troops, similar to that required by paragraph 445, Army Regulations, to be made to the Adjutant and Inspector General.

Whenever reserves are serving with active forces, no discrimination in the issue of rations and supplies of camp equipage between the two classes of troops will be permitted.

II. The following prices, being the average of late schedules established by Commissioners for the States east of the Mississippi river, with cost of transportation included, will be charged for subsistence stores sold to officers under the Act of February 17, 1864, and amendments, in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and East Louisiana, until further orders:

Bacon, $2.50 per lb.

Fresh Beef, 70 cents per lb.

Flour, $40 per barrel.

Corn Meal, $4.50 per bushel of 50 lbs.

Rice, 30 cents per lb.

Peas, $6.50 per bushel of 60 lbs.

Sugar, $3 per lb.

Coffee, $6 per lb.

Candles, $3.25 per lb.

Soap, $1 per lb.

Vinegar, $2.50 per gallon.

Molasses, $10 per gallon.

Salt, 30 cents per lb.

III. Non-commissioned officers and privates are allowed rations for their own use; but this privilege does not authorize the sale or other disposition of them. If it is impracticable to use the ration commutation may be drawn in lieu thereof.

II. The Heads of Departments and Chiefs of Bureaux will, within the next twenty days, forward to the Generals of Reserves lists of all detailed men in their employment, in the several states, specially distinguishing and certifying those who are experts, and those absolutely indispensable for the performance of the above mentioned government work and business; and all detailed employees not so certified within the prescribed period, will, upon the expiration thereof, be forthwith assigned to the army.

III. All persons called out by this Order, who claim exemption on account of physical disability, will be examined by select medical boards, after their arrival at the camps of instruction.

I. All details, heretofore granted, under authority of the War Department, to persons between the ages of 18 and 45 years, are hereby revoked; and all such detailed men, together with those within the said ages, who hold furloughs or temporary exemptions by reason of pending applications for detail, will be promptly assembled at the camps of instruction, and appropriately assigned among the armies for service; except that men detailed and now actually employed as artisans, mechanics or persons of scientific skill (and those detailed and now engaged in the manufacture, collection and forwarding of indispensable supplies for the army and navy), will be continued in their present employments until their respective details be revised.

II. The Heads of Departments and Chiefs of Bureaux will immediately forward to the Generals of Reserves in the several states, lists of all detailed men in their employment in the said states, certifying in each case of a person between 18 and 45 years, those who are experts and absolutely indispensable for the public service, specifying the employment of each individual, and all detailed employees, who are between the ages of 18 and 45 years, not so certified within the prescribed period, will be forthwith assigned to the army. A duplicate of the above lists will at the same time be furnished to the Adjutant and Inspector General, for the action of the Secretary of War.

III. All persons called out by these Orders, who claim exemption on account of physical disability, will be examined by select medical boards at the camps of instruction.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 78. }

I. The attention of officers and soldiers is specially directed to the 34th Article of Army Regulations, and General Orders, No. 3 (1863). The rapidly increasing correspondence of the War Department demands that their requirements shall hereafter be strictly observed. A violation of them will subject the offender to prompt trial by court martial. The regulations respecting military correspondence were made after long experience, and are indispensable to an intelligent and efficient discharge of business.

The remarks and opinions of intermediate commanders upon the subject matter of each communication, are important to the Department, and in all cases required. Opportunity must, therefore, be afforded for their expression; and all communications which are not forwarded through the prescribed channel, will be invariably returned, without other action than instructions to bring the party to trial for violation of orders.

Letter paper will be folded in three, and foolscap in four equal folds, parallel with the writing, and endorsed on the fold corresponding with the top of the sheet, thus:

Post or Station and Date of Letter.

Name and Rank of Writer.

Analysis of Contents.

The endorsements should be carefully made, so as to afford information of its contents at a glance, and to present only those points which are material and pertinent. This will leave ample space for subsequent endorsement. Commanders will return for completion all papers not so endorsed. The practice of wrapping communications with mere strips of paper for the purpose of endorsement, owing to their liability to be detached and lost, is prohibited.

II. Issuing commissaries will hereafter require from commissioned officers drawing rations, a certificate that the same are for their own use.

III. Upon information received that any commissioned officer or soldier has sold the rations drawn by him, he will thereafter not be allowed to draw rations, at any one time, for a greater period than three days.

IV. Furloughed officers and men, other than those furloughed from hospitals, will be allowed to draw, at the place where furloughed, rations for the number of days only that are required for their journey. Officers and men furloughed from hospitals will receive from the hospital commissary such number of rations, for the purpose of reaching their destination, as the surgeon in charge may direct. Furloughed men may be allowed commutation of rations for the time specified, in lieu of rations in kind, if they prefer it. After reaching their destination, sick and wounded furloughed men, not in hospitals, may draw, from the nearest post commissary, rations in kind, or commutation therefor, for the period of five days at a time. Each issue made to furloughed men, or each payment, if commutation is allowed, will be endorsed on the furlough by the issuing officer.

V. Boards of Examiners in general hospitals are directed not to furlough, or discharge, or recommend for leave of absence, any soldier or officer who, on his admittance into hospital, could not show proper authority for his absence from his command. Officers or soldiers applying for admission into general hospitals, who are not provided with proper authority for their absence from their commands, will, if able to travel, not be admitted, but sent back to their commands. If unable to travel, such cases will be received into hospitals, and their admittance reported to their respective commanding officers, and when sufficiently recovered, they will be returned under guard to their commands.

VI. All communications to the Secretary of War, or to this office, from the Generals commanding Reserves, pertaining to the matter of conscriptions, or other duties hitherto devolved on the authorities of conscription, must be addressed through the Superintendent of the Bureau of Conscription.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Richmond, October 14, 1864.

GENERAL ORDERS. }
No. 81. }

I. Generals commanding reserves in the several states will, without delay, select and send officers, one to each congressional district, empowered to summons, and after inspection, forward to the camps of instruction all persons holding certificates of permanent disability, and such persons assigned to light duty as in his judgment appear likely to be adjudged qualified for active service. All such as may, upon examination, be pronounced by select medical boards so qualified, will be assigned to duty in the field.

The inspectors of conscription may be charged with this additional duty in the absence of other suitable officers.

II. Paragraph I, General Orders, No. 77 (current series), is amended by the insertion of "in the service of the government" between the words "employed" and "as artisans," &c.

III. The details of such men, called out by General Orders, No. 77 (current series), as are found by the proper medical boards to be unfit for field service, may be revived, and similar details may be granted to light duty men not heretofore detailed, at the discretion of the Generals of Reserves.

By order.

S. COOPER,
Adjutant and Inspector General.

ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Richmond, October 20, 1864.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 82. }

I. The Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance will, without delay, take measures to place in the field one-fifth of all the men employed in his department (including contractors and their employees), of the classes specified in General Orders, No. 77, A. and I. G. office (current series). To this end, he will direct the several officers in charge of arsenals, work shops, depots, &c., to turn over to the nearest enrolling officer, by list, showing their ages, occupation and residence, such proportion of their employees (including contractors and employees under them), of the class above referred to, as will constitute in the aggregate one-fifth of the whole number in the said classes, according to returns in his office of September 30, 1864. Duplicates of such list will be sent to the General of Reserves of the states, and triplicates to the Chief of Ordnance. Three days are allowed for the execution of this order, after its reception at any post or station of the Ordnance Department.

II. The Chief of the Nitre and Mining Bureau will turn over in like manner, on similar lists, one-fifth of all men of the classes specified in General Orders, No. 77, employed in iron, lead, copper and coal mining, and in all service appertaining thereto, whether under officers of his bureau, or by contractors. Duplicate and triplicate list to be furnished, as above directed, in the Ordnance Bureau; and will in like manner turn over one fifth of all such men as are employed in the nitre service. The period of three days, under the same conditions as above mentioned, are allowed for the execution of this order.

III. The list of persons directed in the foregoing sections to be turned over to the enrolling officer, will be prepared at once, on the reception of this order, and will be furnished to the said officers within three days, as above prescribed, by the various officers of each of the above bureaux having men under their charge; and every assistance will be rendered by the latter to the enrolling officers, to carry out the intention of this order.

IV. So much of General Orders, No. 77, as relates to men employed in the two bureaux named above, is hereby suspended, and the foregoing order will stand in lieu of all requirements under the former.

By order.

S. COOPER,
Adjutant and Inspector General.

No. 83.

I. All soldiers hereafter furloughed at department or army headquarters, or at hospitals, by reason of disability resulting from wounds or sickness, will rejoin their commands at the expiration of the time originally allowed, unless in the opinion of a medical examining board, their condition is not such as to permit them to make the journey without serious detriment to their health. All now absent are required to return at the expiration of their present furloughs, except those unable to travel. The certificate required above will be promptly forwarded to the company commanders.

II. Generals commanding Reserve Forces in the several States, are charged with the execution of this order. They will cause to be collected and forwarded without delay, to their respective commands, all men who come within the provisions of the preceding paragraph, that they may be discharged, retired or assigned to active or light duty, as circumstances may justify.

III. Paragraph VII., General Orders No. 48, (current series) is thus amended:

Officers of the Quartermaster's Department failing to return the sacks in which grain is received from the quartermaster, will be charged three dollars for every one not returned

IV. Paragraph I., General Orders No. 74, (1862,) is so modified as to require the enforcement of the Conscript Act in the department of southwestern Kentucky.

V. Candidates for appointment to the position of military store keeper in the ordnance department will, hereafter, be subject to such examination, prior to appointment, as may be prescribed by the chief of ordnance.

VI. Commanders of cavalry regiments or battalions will require company commanders to keep a descriptive roll of all horses in their companies, noting all changes which are made amongst them by casualties or other causes, as they occur.

VII. Every horse, borne upon the descriptive roll, will be treated as public property, so long as forage and the forty cents a day are drawn from the Government. No soldier will be permitted to ride his horse, except in the discharge of public duty, or to sell or exchange him, except to secure one more serviceable, such superiority to be determined and certified by the company officers present for duty, and the fact noted upon the descriptive roll. Such sales or exchanges, however, are strictly forbidden between cavalymen of the same or different commands.

VIII. Brigade inspectors, in making inspections, will examine these descriptive rolls, observing that they accurately describe the number and distinguishing marks of the horses. Where they discover horses to have been used for private purposes, or disposed of in violation of orders, they will note the facts upon the inspection report, with the names of the company commanders permitting it, and of the soldiers so offending, sending up charges against all, with the view to their trial by court martial.

IX. Horses forfeited under the action of General Orders Nos. 53 [act 26] and 55, Adjutant and Inspector General's Office, of 1864, may be purchased, after appraisement, for the benefit of owners by deserving cavalymen who have lost their horses by the casualties of battle.

X. Inspectors will report on their "inspection reports," for transfer to the infantry, all men found dismounted through their own carelessness, or whose horses may have been rendered unserviceable by neglect or hard usage upon other than public service.

XI. The following is substituted for paragraph IV., General Orders No. 73, (current series,) which is hereby revoked:

All applications for exemption and detail will be transmitted to the Superintendent of the Bureau of Conscription for decision. The office of Congressional District Enrolling officer is abolished, and reports and returns of the commandants of conscripts will be made to the Bureau of Conscription, and a copy of each will also be furnished to the generals of reserves. An officer may be assigned to duty in each Congressional District by the generals of reserves as inspector of conscription.

By order.

GENERAL ORDERS }
No. 84. }

I. Brigadier General John H. Winder is constituted Commissary General of Prisoners. All officers and men on duty at the several Military prisons are placed under his command. He is charged with the custody of all prisoners of war, and with the discipline and general administration of such prisoners east of the Mississippi river. His instructions will issue only from this office.

II. Commandants of posts in the vicinity of these Military prisons, are made subordinate to Brigadier General Winder in all matters necessary for the security of the prisoners. Department, army and other commanders are required not to interfere with the prisoners, the prison guard, or the administration of the prisons.

III. Local and other troops doing duty at the posts herein indicated, will be considered prison guards. If their immediate commander be superior in rank to the commandant of the post at which they are stationed, he will notwithstanding, detail the prison guard from his command, at the request of the post or prison commander; and the detail, when turned over to the last named officer, will be under his sole charge and direction.

IV. Detailed soldiers will not be transferred by officers with whom they are upon duty to other officers, without authority from this office, or from the General commanding the army to which the soldiers belong. Detailed conscripts will be transferred only by the authority of the Chief of the Bureau of Conscription.

V. The telegraph will be used as economically as possible, and messages will not be sent by it without the approval of the commanding officer present. Where the telegram exceeds ten words, the voucher for its payment must embrace his certificate that it was not for the personal benefit of the person by whom it was sent, and that it was necessary, and contained official business, which could not be transacted by mail without detriment to the public service.

VI. Supplies collected or held by county or district agents, for the benefit of soldiers' families, are not liable to impressment.

VII. Paragraph XIII, General Orders No. 34 (current series), is amended to allow all retired soldiers, who may enter any university, college or school, to draw their rations in kind at the nearest post.

By order.

GENERAL ORDERS, }
No. 86. }

I. The Chief of the Bureau of Conscription will continue, with all practicable dispatch, to bring into service the twenty thousand slaves authorized by the act of Congress, approved February 17, 1864. Enrolling officers will prepare correct lists in duplicate of the names, personal description and ascertained value of the slaves, the county, district or parish in which, and the time when each was impressed, the name of the owner of each, and of the impressing officer. One of these lists will be forwarded monthly to the Commandant of Conscription in the state to which the slave belongs, and the other to the Superintendent of the Bureau, each of whom will cause them to be copied in some uniform manner convenient for reference.

II. When fifty or more slaves shall have been collected at any one station, they will be forwarded, under the charge of discreet men detailed from the Reserve forces, to such point as the Superintendent of Conscription may direct, and turned over to the engineer officer instructed to receive them, for labor in the engineer and other departments of the service. A copy of the descriptive roll of each slave will accompany his delivery to the engineer officer.

III. The Chief Engineer of each army or military department will, under the direction of the Engineer Bureau, have the general supervision and control of the slaves, and will organize them into Gangs of one hundred men each (selecting four of the number as foremen), over whom will be placed a Manager and two Overseers. Every eight Gangs will constitute a Section, for which a Superintendent will be selected. Three Sections will compose a Force, over which will be placed a Director. Two clerks will be employed or detailed for each Director, and one for each Superintendent.

IV. The Directors, Superintendents, Managers and Overseers will be detailed or selected by the Secretary of War from men qualified by experience in the management of slaves, and who are fitted for the positions by their character for probity, energy and intelligence.

V. There will be assigned, by orders from this office, a Purveyor to each force, and an Assistant Purveyor to each section, who will provide subsistence, clothing and other necessary stores, making requisition therefor upon the Quartermaster and Commissary Departments. These will be bonded agents. In like manner, a medical officer will be assigned for each section, who will obtain supplies for the slaves from the Medical Department, upon requisition as prescribed for surgeons and assistant surgeons of the army. Provision returns and requisitions for quartermasters' stores will be signed by the Manager, and, when approved by the Superintendent, the Purveyor of the Section will make the issue.

VI. The Engineer Bureau will detail an officer of the engineer service for each army or department, to organize, inspect and muster the Gangs, Sections and Forces, and to make details of working parties in such number and for such objects as may be ordered by the Commanding General. In this manner, details of slaves will be made to perform labor in other departments of the service—it being intended that all such slaves shall be under the management and supervision of the Engineer Department. When slaves are detailed in other departments than the Engineer Department, the Manager will send with them descriptive lists, retaining their names, however, upon his muster rolls.

VII. Managers will prepare a muster roll and duplicate muster and pay rolls of the slaves on the last day of every even month. The first will be transmitted to the Chief of the Engineer Bureau; the muster and pay rolls to the Quartermaster General. Each will be forwarded through the Superintendents, who will be held responsible for their correctness. The ascertained value of each slave will appear upon both the muster roll and the muster and pay rolls. The rate of pay will be determined by agreement with the owners, or by appraisement, as provided by law.

VIII. The value of the slave will be ascertained at the time of impressment, after careful medical examination (under rules prescribed by the Surgeon General), by agreement between the enrolling officer and the owner, or by appraisement under the law regulating impressments, that, in the event of his loss while employed by the government, "by the act of the enemy or by escape to, or by death inflicted by the enemy, or by disease contracted while in any service required of him," his owner may receive his full value from the government. Slaves already impressed and in service, without previous appraisement or ascertainment of hire, or who may hereafter be impressed or received without appraisement or special contract, will be appraised, and their hires will be fixed by boards of disinterested slaveholders, selected and organized by the Engineer Bureau. Enrolling officers will impress upon owners the propriety and advantage of having their slaves provided with one good new suit of clothing before they are turned over to the government, the value of which will be estimated in the appraisement.

The loss of a slave from either of the causes enumerated, and the time and manner of it, will be reported in triplicate by the Manager of the Gang to which he belongs, to the Chief of the Engineer Bureau. He will, at the same time, note the casualty upon the next muster roll.

IX. At the expiration of every six months the Quartermaster General will send an officer to convenient places in each state, to pay owners or their attorneys the hire of their slaves, or if lost, their appraised or agreed value.

X. Every effort will be made to induce contentment in the slaves. Their discipline will be considerate and mild for minor offences. Cases of a grave character will be forwarded for the determination and instructions of the Chief Engineer of the army or department, who will, in the mean time, prepare and submit, for the approval of his Commanding General, a code for the government of Managers and others in charge of the slaves.

XI. The Commanding General of each army or department will promptly remove and order to the ranks any Manager or other employee having the supervision of slaves, who is guilty of cruelty towards them, or malfeasance or of malpractice, and will impose such other penalties as the offence would justify, under the 99th Rule and Article of War.

By order.
